Fairfax Councilmen Vote Down Viet Resolutions, 4-1

By ALAN M. ADELSON

Two proposed resolutions endorsing United States military actions in Viet Nam were voted down by the Fairfax City Council last night, following over an hour of heated debate by councilmen and members of the audience.

Speakers repeatedly asserted that discussion should be limited to the propriety of a city council acting on national or international issues but many could not resist the temptation to voice their feelings on the war itself.

Introducing the first of two similar resolutions endorsing the United States position in Viet Nam, Councilman George Pagni said:

"Though Viet Nam is nine hours away, and 8,000 miles away, there are still Americans fighting and dying there and it should be a matter of our concern. We should show the GI's over there that the people at home support them."

Such a resolution, said Pagni, would be an effective means to show that anti-Viet Nam demonstrations do not have (the council's) support or sympathy, and that (the council) wants to allay the opinion that it condones such behavior and actions which undermine the foreign policy commitments of the nation."

Responding to a charge by Councilman Waldemar E. Radtke that the council has no right to represent the feelings of the city on such matters, Pagni said a recent state-wide poll showed that the "majority of the people in the state support our program in Viet Nam."

"By passing such a resolution you would not be representing me or a number of others here," declared George M. Cowell from the audience.

"Fairfax boys are dying over there. I don't want our Drake High boys shipped back home, wrapped in a flag," said Cowell. Cheers followed this declaration.

"Do your city duties," he told the council. "They aren't in Viet Nam; they're here in Fairfax. If any of you had made foreign affairs an issue in your election campaign you'd have had a hell of a rough time getting elected." (More cheers.)

Protests to the resolution were voiced also by 10 other members of the audience of 30.

"Councilman Pagni is owed a debt of gratitude by all of us because he has opened up debate on this issue," said Frank Cerda of San Geronimo Valley. "Congress has never voted on this war . . . but it is being fought in our name." (Another burst of applause.)

Several members of the audience spoke out in support of government policy in Viet Nam, but Pagni was the only speaker to recommend that the council act in support of the war.

"I'm a professional soldier," Mayor Frank L. Lawrence said. "I've served in and worked for the Army for the past 40 years. I have the greatest respect for Councilman Pagni for bringing up this controversial matter. Though I cannot vote for his proposal, my thoughts are with him."

"We should stand up and be counted. I'm not supporting the war, I'm supporting our men. The time is now. Simple duty has no place for fear," argued Pagni.

But a roll call showed him to be the only councilman in favor of passing the resolution.

With the city clerk already reading the next item from the agenda, Pagni proposed that a different resolution be adopted, suggesting a recent pro-government policy resolution passed by the San Mateo City Council.

This second resolution, not much different in content from his original one, also was voted down 4-1.

"Well, I guess we all ought to write our own personal letters about the war," Pagni said resignedly. This brought a final chorus of cheers from the audience.

Judge Orders Commitment Of Westmore

Psychiatrists Say Accused Slayer Can't Stand Trial

Hardy Westmore, accused slayer of College of Marin student Mike Lazar, today was ordered committed to a state hospital for the insane.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner issued the committal order, based on findings of two psychiatrists that Westmore is incapable of standing trial on the charge of murder which was placed against him following the Nov. 5 shooting in his Kentfield apartment.

SANITY HEARING

The judge left for determination later today whether the 46-year-old college janitor shall be placed in Napa State Hospital or Atascadero State Hospital. In the meantime, Westmore was remanded to custody of the county sheriff.

The two psychiatrists, appointed by the court, presented their findings at a sanity hearing before Judge Gardiner today. They are Dr. David G. Schmidt of Larkspur, longtime chief psychiatrist at San Quentin Prison, and Dr. Robert Burke of San Rafael.

They agreed Westmore is incapable of cooperating with his attorney or standing trial. Their report did not rule on his sanity at the time he shot Lazar to death and wounded Lazar's companion, 18-year-old Janine Lieberman of Sleepy Hollow.

CHARGE REMAINS

Effect of the order is to postpone a trial indefinitely. The murder charge remains, and at such time as psychiatrists at the state hospital find him capable, Westmore could be returned to Marin to stand trial.

Westmore, rifle in hand, crossed Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from his apartment at No. 1155 to Ross General Hospital near midnight of Nov. 5, and asked the night supervisor at the hospital to call the sheriff as "I just killed two people." While waiting for an officer to arrive, he threatened to kill himself.

He could give no explanation for the shooting, then or later. As he was questioned after spending the rest of the night

U.S. Includes Red China In Disarm Conclave Bid

Peking Willingness To Attend Doubtful

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today agreed to enter into exploratory talks with key powers, including Red China, on plans for a World Disarmament Conference. The U.S. position was disclosed just before the U.N.'s main political committee overwhelmingly approved plans for calling such a conference by 1967.

This would be the first time that the United States and the Peking government took part in arms talks—if the Chinese Communists agreed to participate. Their position still was not certain.

RESERVES DECISION

The United States voted for the proposal and agreed to take part in the consultations, but Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg reserved decision as to whether the United States would attend the world conference itself.

The vote on the Asian-African resolution was 91-0 with France abstaining and Nationalist China not taking part.

Goldberg indicated that the presence of the Peking government in a disarmament conference would not bar U.S. participation if there was any prospect that the meeting would be meaningful.

PLANNING FIRST

The decision on the ultimate U.S. role, he said, would depend on the outcome of the preliminary planning.

Red Chinese participation in the proposed parley was placed in doubt yesterday by Albania, considered Peking's spokesman in the United Nations.

Albanian Ambassador Halim Budo told the committee that Communist China would shun any world arms conference held under U.N. auspices until it is given the seat held by Nationalist China in the world forum.

CONCLAVE DATE

Anxious to head off such a rejection from Peking, the sponsors of the resolution omitted any specific role for the United Nations in proposing arrangements for the parley.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko urged at the outset of debate last week that the conference be convened not later than mid-1966 with Red China taking part.

Supervisors Back Storer Ferry Plan

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today adopted a resolution urging the State Department of Public Works, State Divisioin of Toll Crossings and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to "consider immediate and definite recommendations" for ferry boat service between Marin and San Francisco.

The resolution was adopted at the instance of Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who said the San Francisco Planning Commission will recommend a similar resolution to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

The unanimous vote came after Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker expressed some reservations. He hoped it was not the intention to exclude other solutions to the commute problem. He mentioned study of a transit tube, widening of Highway 101, and a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge.

Storer assured Leydecker this was not the intention.

Leydecker said he believed in ferry boats and also believed in cable cars, but ferry boats would provide only a small part of the solution.

He said he feared Storer might be looking for financial aid from the bridge district on ferries from the same fund that some board members hope will aid on a modern bus system.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he would never vote for county purchase of a new fleet of buses as proposed in the Paul J. Fanning report.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A district town on the central coast of South Viet Nam held out today against a force of about 2,000 Viet Cong attacking it for the second day. Five other government posts in the area were feared overrun by the Communists.

A government relief force was driven back and had to withdraw after hard fighting, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

Reports tonight said the district town of Tuy An was quiet once more. During the day the Communists reportedly had it cut off from the land side. U.S. Navy ships off the coast were reported trying to drive them off with artillery barrages, and U.S. planes also pounded the attackers.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force jets braved heavy antiaircraft fire to destroy one Soviet-supplied missile site 34 miles northwest of Hanoi yesterday and to smash the vital radar equipment at another surface-to-air missile installation 41 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital, a U.S. spokesman reported. (See photos, page 2)

They were the 16th and 17th missile sites attacked by U.S. planes since July. The spokesman said a missile was hit on its launching pad at the site 34 miles northwest of Hanoi and a sheet of fire flashed across the site. All the attacking planes returned safely, the spokesman added.

The Viet Cong struck early yesterday against Tuy An, two outposts and three militia positions. Communications were lost with all the posts except Tuy An, which is 15 miles north of Tuy Hoa, the capital of Phu Yen Province, and 250 miles north of Saigon.

Several battalions of government troops with armor were rushed north from Tuy Hoa. About five miles from Tuy An they ran into a wall of Communist fire.

Despite air strikes and U.S. naval fire, the Viet Cong intensified their attack, and the relief force withdrew with light to moderate casualties, a spokesman said. There was no word on the fate of U.S. advisers with the force.

Hanoi Says No Change On Demands

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh has blasted speculation that the Communists might be willing to go to the negotiation table without a prior withdrawal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam.

The Communist leader in a letter to Dr. Linus Pauling Nov. 17, laid at rest the idea that this condition had been quietly dropped.

Though Ho did not is so many words say that U.S. withdrawal as a prior condition for talks, he said that the March 22 declaration of the Viet Cong's political agency, the National Front for Liberation, and North Viet Nam's own support for it were "the most correct way to a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam problem."

Both these statements insisted the Americans must pull out before it would be possible to consider an international Geneva-style conference.

The New China news agency gave a full account in a Hanoi dispatch today of Ho's letter to Pauling, a Pasadena, Calif., chemist who has won Nobel prizes for chemistry and peace.

"The South Vietnamese people will not bow down to the invaders," Ho said. "They have been fighting heroically against the U.S. aggressors and their henchmen and are scoring ever greater victories."

Pilgrims Would Savor Today's Tom

CHICAGO (AP) — Your Thanksgiving turkey will be a far gobble from the wild, tough old bird that graced the Pilgrim fathers' — or even your father's — table.

He probably never scratched around in a chicken yard, never saw sunlight, never strutted through the grass and never awaited, with outstretched neck, a swinging ax.

Conceived through artificial insemination, hatched in an incubator, raised in a high-rise henhouse and humanely slaughtered with an electric knife, he has been pampered from test tube to table.

"There are no down-on-the-farm turkeys," Dr. L. A. Wilhelm, chairman of the Poultry and Egg National Board, said in an interview yesterday. "They're more like city dwellers."

Of the 104 million turkeys raised this year — the number has doubled in the past 16 years — about one-third will be eaten during the Thanksgiving period, he said.

Most will come from huge turkey farms which raise an average of 60,000 birds at a time. Seventy per cent will have hatched from artificially inseminated eggs. Ninety-eight per cent will have been raised in incubators.

"Nothing is left to nature or chance," said Dr. Wilhelm.

Because of modern methods, an average 15-pound turkey takes only 18 to 21 weeks to raise, he said. Several years ago it took 24 weeks.

Higher-energy feed, with less fiber and more protein and calories, produced plumper, healthier birds on less feed, he said.

Finally, today's turkey meets his doom, not under the ax but by being cut with an electric knife which first stuns him with an electric shock.

"It's more humane that way," said Dr. Wilhelm.

Supreme Court Due To Clarify Crime Suspect's Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to spell out its 1964 ruling that a suspect's right to a lawyer's advice applies in a police staton as well as in a courtroom.

That landmark decision, issued in the case of Danny Escobedo, left some confusion in its wake. Escobedo had asked to see his lawyer before confessing to murdering his brother-in-law; his lawyer was in the police station trying to see him.

Because police kept the two apart the Supreme Court threw out the Illinois conviction.

Left unanswered by the court's 1964 ruling were several questions, among them: Does the right to counsel apply even if the suspect does not ask to see a lawyer? Are the police required to advise a suspect of this right? What if he can't afford a lawyer?

Late yesterday after an afternoon conference, the justices agreed to hear four cases that raised these and other questions.

One of the cases gives the court the opportunity to say if the Escobedo ruling is retroactive. If it is, scores of confessions obtained when the suspects were without counsel could be voided and convictions based on them thrown out.

As matters stand now, the two largest states, New York and California, are in direct conflict.

The New York Court of Appeals has ruled that police do not have to advise a suspect of his right to remain silent and of his right to have a lawyer before taking his confession.

The California Supreme Court has reversed a conviction because the defendant had not been told of these rights. The Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution says, "In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right. . . .to have the assistance of counsel for his defense."

This right was slow in seeping down to the state level.

In 1963, in its historic Gideon ruling, the Supreme Court ordered that defendants on trial in state courts for serious crimes must be provided with a lawyer.

At what point in a police-investigation does the right to counsel take hold?

Said the attorney in one of the four cases now granted review:

"The accusatory period is often the most crucial point of the entire criminal proceeding. To deny counsel at this stage is to deny it at the only stage where legal aid and advice would help the accused."

In a reply filed before he retired as U.S. solicitor general, Archibald Cox said of the attorney's argument:

"In short, he asks this court to hold that a person arrested cannot waive his right to counsel and that no interrogation by police without counsel can validly be conducted."

Now the Supreme Court will have to decide.

Latin Americans Favorable To Rusk's Solidarity Ideas

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. proposals for beefing up the inter-American system received an initially favorable response today from a number of Latin-American diplomats.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk presented the six-point U.S. program yesterday to the 18 Latin-American foreign ministers at the special Inter-American Conference. His speech included:

A call on the American republics to consider earmarking forces which could be volunteered to the United Nations or the Organization of American States for duty in an emergency;

A pledge from President Johnson of U.S. willingness to continue aid in hemisphere development beyond the 10-year span of the Alliance for Progress, due to end in 1971.

"Very constructive," said a Brazilian diplomat of Rusk's speech. Mexican's Foreign Minister Antonio Carrillo Flores stressed Rusk's support for economic and social progress in praising his address as "frank and clear."

Chile's Foreign Minister Gabriel Valdez found Rusk's talk "highly constructive." He said it shows "there is basic agreement between us in matters pertaining to the need for economic development of Latin America."

Rusk's six proposals were:

1. Annual ministerial meetings to keep more abreast of changes in the hemisphere and elsewhere. The OAS charter provides for such gatherings only at five-year intervals.

2. Strengthen the relationship among the key inter-American organs such as the foreign ministers, the OAS Council, the Economic and Social Council, the Alliance for Progress Coordinating Committee and the OAS secretary-general and his staff.

3. Consideration of preventive steps before a conflagration breaks out — such as allowing the OAS Council to consider a dispute at the request of one American republic instead of having to wait until both parties to a dispute apply.

4. Strengthen the role of the OAS secretary-general, giving him power to bring to the council any matter which he thinks threatens the peace and security of the hemisphere.

5. Consider gearing for possible joint action in future emergencies, such as designating some national forces for international duty when called upon.

6. Avoid arms races within the hemisphere.

Brazilian Acid Plot Revealed Against Senator

RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian police say they have foiled a plot to throw acid in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's face.

Police arrested three students last night and sought two others.

Officials said the attack was planned for noon today during a visit by the New York Democrat to the federal University of Pernambuco here.

The acid-throwing was to be a signal for anti-U.S. demonstrations throughout Latin America, police said.

Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, are on a South American tour. They arrived in this Brazilian port last night but rested after a heavy schedule and were not available for comment.

Kennedy brushed off Sunday an incident last week in Concepcion, Chile, where Communist students shouted him down; hurled eggs and spat on him.

"I have met with students in Peru and Chile — we had a nice time there," he told a student group at Sao Paulo.

Local sources said many Peruvian and Bolivian students are studying in Recife under cultural exchange programs.

Composite Portrait Of Watts Youngsters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A computer has come up with a composite portrait of the 402 youngsters arrested during the devastating South Los Angeles riots last August.

The typical youth: a 17-year-old Negro boy from a broken home, doing poorly in school or a dropout.

The Los Angeles County Probation Department yesterday released findings derived from a detailed analysis of juveniles arrested during the riot and processed through juvenile courts.

Data from interviews and probation records were fed through computers at UCLA and came up with these details:

The boy didn't belong to a gang. If he had been in trouble, it was something minor, like throwing rocks.

He came from a fatherless home. The total family income was about $300 a month, most of it from welfare or unemployment payments paid to the head of the household, usually the mother.

The typical youth was arrested by police the night of Aug. 14, within a mile of his home. The charge: looting. He didn't admit it, nor did his companions, usually a few kids from the neighborhood.

He was in the ninth or 10th grade and not doing well. He had had little to do with community-sponsored youth organizations and less to do with any church.

Of the 402 youths arrested, 11.7 per cent of them girls, 99 had their cases dismissed in the courts. Thirty-four were committed to the California Youth Authority and the remainder were under supervision of the probation department.

Police records showed that 140 had had no previous contact with police, 76 only one previous contact. More than 10 per cent had been arrested six or more times.

Of 338 on which school information was available, only one had graduated from high school. Another 279 were in school and about 14.8 per cent had dropped out.

Only 12 per cent were doing "good" or better work at school. Forty-seven per cent were "poor" or "very poor" students.

Only 27 per cent came from a home with both parents. About 16 per cent had been born illegitimately, another 13 per cent were orphans.

Engineer Guilty On Reno Project

RENO (AP)—Jurors found a San Francisco engineer guilty last night of practicing architecture without a license.

Convicted of the misdemeanor was John Sardis, who designed a 22-story apartment complex now under construction in Reno.

He could be fined a minimum of $50 or a maximum of $200 today.

The complaint was signed by the Washoe County district attorney's office for the Nevada Board of Architects.

Princess Margaret Parties With Broadway Celebrities

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Margaret splashed through rain and cold yesterday plugging British trade, then, her royal duties done, she donned black lace and satin shoes for a whirlwind of private parties and midnight pancakes.

Thirty-five bluebloods of the theatrical world, including Ethel Merman, Jerome Robbins, Tony Perkins, Barbra Streisand and Sybil Burton Christopher, came to the pancake party hosted by Broadway producer Harold Prince and his wife, Judy, in their six-story townhouse.

Prince and his wife joined the princess and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, and actor Perkins for an intimate champagne dinner beforehand at the apartment of Sharman Douglas, daughter of a former U.S. ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Earlier, the royal couple sipped cocktails with 300 guests at a reception in the private Colony Club. Former U.S. ambassador to Britain, Winthrop Aldrich, was the host.

The royal couple and their party leave tomorrow for Bermuda en route to London.

As many as 30 million spectators see English football yearly.

FOOTRACE WITH DEATH—A road maintenance crewman runs for his life at Pacific Palisades, Santa Monica, yesterday, warned by a rumble from the rain-soaked, dirt and soft rock cliffs that flank the inland side of Highway 101. Road crew workers and curious onlookers gather (right) at the site of the massive slide, which destroyed a beach refreshment stand in its path and poured tons of mud across the highway, narrowly missing a passing truck. Downpour Continues In Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Record - breaking rains swamped Southern California today in a sea of mudslides and flooded streets, isolated the desert resort of Palm Springs, knocked out power, closed schools and caused evacuation of scores of families.

More than three inches of rain have fallen since Sunday in the second storm in a week. The Weather Bureau forecast at least four more inches by tomorrow and another storm loomed for Thursday.

All roads to Palm Springs were closed last night when flash floods roared down from the San Jacinto Mountains and flooded highways. Helicopters picked up stranded motorists. Power was out in the area for 45 minutes.

Fight fans heading for the Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson match in Las Vegas — some with $100 tickets — were stranded in Los Angeles when airlines canceled late-afternoon flights. Planes coming in from other points also by-passed Las Vegas because of bad weather.

Continual rains delayed removal of tons of muck and rock which sheared off from Pacific Palisades yesterday, blocking a 200-yard stretch of Pacific Coast Highway. A beach refreshment stand was flattened.

Five hundred children were evacuated from an elementary school in the Ventura County community of Thousand Oaks, northwest of Los Angeles, when officials feared a mudslide might block the only access road.

In the nearby Simi Valley, where 200 homes were damaged when a flood - control channel collapsed in last week's storms, emergency crews bulldozed the debris-filled channel.

More than 100 families were evacuated during the night from canyon homes rimming Los Angeles after mud slides threatened.

The San Bernardino Mountain resort of Big Bear was virtually isolated when all but one back road were closed by slides.

Up to 16 inches of rain has been reported in some mountain areas.

The Army Corps of Engineers maintained a 24-hour operation feared flooding in areas where in the Emergency Flood Control Center in Los Angeles. Officials feared flooding in areas where the ground was already saturated.

Added to last week's 5.25-inch rainfall, the November total in Los Angeles of more than eight inches made the month the wettest in Weather Bureau records. The highest prior November was in 1900, when 6.53 inches fell.

The torrential rains have been caused by a large low-pressure area hovering over California and the Northwest.

The weather system was expected to bring very heavy snowfall to mountain areas in northern and central California.

Anesthetic Thought Cause Of Three Hospital Deaths

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Ether in a lethal mixture with another anesthetic apparently caused the postsurgery deaths of two children and a young mother at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, an assistant Oakland County prosecutor said today.

Walter D. Schmier, the assistant prosecutor, said an anesthetic known as Surital was to have been used during surgery on the three patients. The three died within 24 hours of each other in recovery rooms last Thursday and Friday. The hospital disclosed the deaths Monday.

Surital "normally is mixed with sterile water, but as we understand there was some mixup in the preparation where we understand ether may have been used instead of water," Schmier said.

"We feel at this stage that this is what happened—that injection of ether gave rise" to the deaths.

Harry Whitlow, administrator of the hospital, said in a formal statement:

"All three patients received medications which appeared to have been faulty."

Schmier said the presence of ether was deteteed in autopsies on two of the persons who died, as well as through an investigation by agents of the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

King-Sized Cat Wants To Show

COALINGA (AP)—The Valley Empire Cat Fanciers, Inc., championship cat show is coming up in Fresno next month and the whole thing is a problem to Pierre.

Pierre is a housecat roughly three cats long and two cats wide. He's 40 inches from nose to tail tip and weighs 32 pounds, and the problem is how to get all into one ordinary cat cage.

But Pierre's owner, Mrs. Fred Voilette, says she's determined to enter him in the neutered pet catagory if only to prove such a big cat exists.

When most people see Pierre they won't believe he's a cat. "Until he meows. He has a very deep voice."

Span Suicide Thwarts Tries To Block Leap

A 39-year-old Oakland merchant seaman, wearing a bathrobe over his clothes to protect against a chilling fog, balanced on a girder outside the Golden Gate Bridge guard rail for 10 minutes yesterday and tried to explain to a concerned truck driver just why he had to jump.

"It's better for the world this way. I can make it all right," were the last jumbled words from Perry Charlton.

Shortly after 4 p.m., he ended his 10-minute conversation with a worried William F. Borror of Gerber, Tehama County. Charlton leaned back and fell to his death in the fog-bound water below.

Borror told California Highway Patrol officers he was driving his truck south on the bridge when the vehicle two cars in front of him stopped and Carlton jumped out and ran for the railing, struggling into his bath robe as he went.

Borror stood at the railing and talked with Charlton on the other side until the arrival of bridge officers. He said he tried to grab the man by pretending to want to shake hands. Charlton would anly graze his fingertips against his hand, Borror said.

At 4 p.m. Bridge Lt. Edward Ashoff ran up to where the two men were standing, midway between the San Francisco tower and midspan on the west side of the bridge.

"He tried to get a rope around him," Borror told the Highway Patrol, "but the man just leaned out and fell away."

Charlton's body was picked up minutes later by the Coast Guard. He left no note, the Highway Patrol reported.

Dance Slated

Judge Orders Information In Slaying Case Withheld

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Superior Judge Richard Roylston has ordered two law enforcement officials to withhold from the press all information except court records in the case of a triple murder suspect.

In issuing a preliminary injunction Monday, the judge restrained Police Chief Bernard Garmire and Pima County Sheriff Waldon Burr "from making any further statements or utterances concerning the circumstances surrounding homicide complaints against Charles Schmid except information contained in the public records of the courts of this state."

The injunction was requested by defense attorney William Tinney. A hearing is pending on whether to make the injunction permanent. Tinney lost his bid for a similar injunction against this city's two daily newspapers.

But the judge cautioned that he has the power to enjoin the newspapers and radio and television and that the matter could be reopened on any further complaint of Tinney.

"Any restraint issued by this court would be an infringement on freedom of the press," the judge said. "On the other hand, if present news coverage continues, its quantity and quality indicate that the defendant's rights would be impaired."

County Attorney Norman Green and his staff also were told by the judge not to discuss the cases involving Schmid further except in pursuing legal ends and evidence within his office.

The judge specified that he aimed his preliminary injunction at what he thought were the sources of hearsay and speculation surrounding the homicide complaints against Schmid.

Roylston said he acted in anticipation of future rulings by higher courts and even the U.S. Supreme Court involving the endangering of rights of criminal defendants.

Schmid, 23, a former Tucson High School gymnastics star, was held on open murder charges in the deaths of teenaged sisters Gretchen and Wendy Fritz and 15-year-old Alleen Rowe, all of Tucson.

Partial Street Abandonment To Be Discussed

The Novato City Council will consider abandonment of the northwest side of De Long Avenue adjacent to the old Grant School property when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

De Long Avenue will be straightened at its intersection with Highway 101.

The council will also get the plans for landscaping of Highway 37 interchange from the State Division of Highways.

Other items to be considered by the council include the annexation of the area along Highway 37 east of Highway 101, a report on the cost of a wooden footbridge on Grant Avenue over Novato Creek, and setting a student government day.

Democrats Postpone Regular Meeting

The meeting of the Marin Democratic Central Committee, normally scheduled for the fourth Monday, was postponed until next Monday night.

Ellen Straus, secretary, said chairman Robert D. Carrow postponed the meeting until 8 p.m. next Monday in the San Rafael courthouse.

Casady Says Brown Backs His Viewpoint

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Simon Casady, president of the California Democratic Council, says Gov. Brown — who has denounced Casady's views on Viet Nam — once helped finance publication of those same views.

Casady said that when he ran for president of the CDC, a brochure paid for from "the governor's political kitty" was circulated in his behalf and spelled out his feelings about the Viet Nam war.

Casady said the brochure read, in part: "It's time the Johnson administration took off its blinders and looked squarely at Viet Nam. We've been played for suckers by schemers who have found they can siphon millions out of us taxpayers by yelling 'save us from the reds.'"

Brown has asked Casady to resign and said he will not seek the CDC endorsement so long as Casady remains critical of Johnson.

Marin Boat Ends Sea Floor Probe

The Perspicacity has come home to the Tiburon Naval Net Depot.

The 65½-foot boat spent the last two months roaming along the edge of the continental shelf off Washington and Oregon. The crew of eight to 12 men were testing equipment which may be the precursors of mining activities on the ocean floor.

In all, it was a successful trip, according to the crew's research party chief, Louis J. Lemos of Tiburon.

The group, employed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, were not actually surveying for minerals. But Lemos said they are sure there are commercial amounts of manganese, phosphorite and glauconite (a potassium - iron ore) along the ocean floor.

All the crew wanted to find out this trip was whether it will be possible to develop any device which can take samples cheaply and, later, which can actually mine the ocean floor economically.

The boat carried a conventional dredge which was dragged along the bottom after being dropped over the stern.

Also on board was a conventioinal corer, which could be dropped to the bottom and then used to drill out six-to-12 foot cores of mud and rock.

But the device getting the most study is called the "air lift." This gadget looks and works something like a vacuum cleaner, except that air is blown down a tube, rather than being sucked up it.

With the air lift, the air is pumped to the bottom and mixed with the mud. The "slurry," or mixture of mud, air and water, is lighter than the water under 600 feet of pressure, and is forced up another larger tube.

The samples come up a two-inch tube. But the Bureau of Mines has a much larger device, with a seven-inch diameter rubber tube, which it is itching to try at sea.

Unfortunately, the Perspicacity is too small a boat to handle the big equipment. The bureau's larger boat, the Serendipity, is now working on a classified government project placing seismic testing devices in buoys in the Pacific.

When it returns, according to Capt. K. E. Taylor, chief of logistics, the seven-inch air lift will be tried out. He said it had been tested off a dock and worked well in shallow water.

Lemos said the next step with the air lift will be to test it with measuring devices attached, to learn the best air pumping speed, water speed, slurry speed and slurry density to use. Also, he said, some way of making the air lift mobile on the bottom is needed. Now it must sit in one place while operating.

The project is being sponsored by the federal government with a special grant from the Atomic Energy Commission, along with money from Lockheed Missile and Space Co., Sunnyvale, and International Mineral and Chemical Corp., Skokie, Ill.

Bringing the boat back to Tiburon with Lemos were Capt. Fred Groepler, the commander, engineer Roger Tyler and cook Charles P. Hunter. The rest of the crew members joined and left the boat in Washington and Oregon.

The work started at Neah Bay, the most northern port of Washington, and worked down to the Columbia River and beyond.

Rights Group Sues City On Room Denial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union has filed suit against the cities of South Gate and Burbank, charging the organization was illegally prohibited from using public facilities for meetings.

The organization sought a writ of mandate in Superior Court to permit it to use a girls' club building in South Gate and the Burbank Central Library auditorium.

The writ charged the organization was denied use of the South Gate facility in 1963 because the group was considered controversial.

After the organization used the Burbank library for meetings, the suit claims, the Burbank City Council amended its rules to reserve the facilities for city-sponsored organizations or community cultural groups.

A request by the civil liberties union was turned down after the rules were amended, although the organization is a cultural one, the suit contends.

THE CAR IS MIGHTIER THAN THE FENCE

Two youths escaped with minor injuries when this westbound car went off Novato Boulevard just west of Indian Valley Road yesterday and knocked down some 50 feet of fencing. The driver, Kenneth R. Siegler, 17, of 9 Bonnie Banks Way, San Rafael (in white shirt) was treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts on arms, hands, abdomen and legs. His passenger, John M. McVey, 15, of 361 Fairway Drive, Novato, reportedly was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital with a broken tooth and bruised shoulder, but the hospital reported no record of him today. Questioning the driver is California Highway Patrolman Gordon Bechtold.

County's Setup On Personnel Is Criticized

A San Rafael resident with a background in personnel relations today charged that the present status of the Marin County Personnel Commission opens the way for "making of a personal empire on somebody's part."

Burnell Van Dalson of 1 Belle Avenue, former assistant to the district construction engineer of the State Division of Highways, told supervisors that his inquiries had shown low morale among county employees, due possibly to lack of an incentive program.

'TAIL WAGS DOG'

He said the "tail seemed to be wagging the dog" with the county personnel director answerable to the county administrator rather than to the personnel commission.

He suggested the commission should have a strong hand in making policy determinations as well as acting as an appeals board. It should also sit with department heads on staffing departments and confer on employee relations, he said.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said the board of supervisors had to determine policy in light of all county needs. He said the trouble with appointed commissions is that they are not directly answerable to the people, and when supervisors overrule recommendations, "the commissioners get all jerky and upset."

REFERRED TO BRUCE

Supervisor referred Van Dalson's suggestion to the man whose role he seemed to question: Alan Bruce, the county administrator.

Bruce told supervisors he expects a report soon from Julius H. Selinger, chairman of the personnel commission, on suggestions in Bruce's committee and commission report of last August in it. Bruce recommended that the commission act as a board of appeals and that its other duties be limited to recommendations on policy or special studies, both at direction of the board of supervisors.

The commission last Thursday discussed the report at length and concluded that the commission presently was contributing little.

for zoning ranging from 1.5 to two dwelling units per acre.

Kettenhofen said the referral would be taken as a direction from the board and not allow full study of all alternatives.

"We'd just be saying 'this is it, boys,'" he said.

He suggested a joint meeting with the commission to discuss the issue.

Behr said this would be "big brothering" the commission.

"Baloney!" said Kettenhofen.

Behr said Kettenhofen evidently wanted an "open end" on density. Kettenhofen promised he would resign if he ever was the "swing vote" on a plan allowing density over 3.5.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said lack of firm policy in the present ordinance on density opens the door for "graft and pressure."

"You're not suggesting that this has happened?" asked Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who said he was accused of accepting pay-offs for his favorable vote on Marincello.

"Certainly not," snapped Leydecker. He said any case where policy is diffuse allows for "political hanky-panky."

After considerable discussion and a 10-minute coffee break, Storer voted to refer the proposed ordinance amendment to the commission, with understanding that it was for study and commissioners were free to make any recommendations they saw fit.

Kettenhofen tried unsuccessfully to block the action with substitute motions.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Nevada Franchini Dies At 76

Mrs. Nevada Watson Franchini, whose grandparents came to California as pioneers by ship around the Horn and by covered wagon across the plains and mountains, died yesterday in a local hospital after a brief illness.

She would have been 76 years old on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Franchini was the wife of Gabriel F. Franchini, founder of G. Franchini and Co., operators of meat and grocery markets in San Anselmo (the Home Market).

She was a descendant of the Hindle and Brown families who came to California in gold rush days. Many mementoes of the Hindle family are in the De-Young Museum collection of pioneer relics.

She was born in Hayward, and lived in San Jose and San Francisco before moving to San Anselmo in 1915.

Besides her husband, at the family home at 209 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo, she is survived by a daughter and two sons, Mrs. Erna Longfellow and William F. Franchini of San Anselmo and Robert Gabriel Franchini of Santa Cruz; two stepdaughters and a stepson, Mrs. Ethel Pugh of Fairfax and Mrs. Amelia Cuneo and Roy Franchini of San Anselmo; a brother, William Hindle of Miami, Fla., and 12 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 9 a.m. Friday at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Entombment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

H. Y. THOMPSON

Funeral for Horace Young Thompson, 59, of Santa Rosa, son of Mrs. Kate Young Thompson of San Anselmo, was held yesterday in Santa Rosa.

Thompson died Friday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a brief illness.

A retired sheep rancher and lumberman, he lived near Westport, Mendocino County, many years, moving to Santa Rosa about two years ago.

Burial was in Santa Rosa Memorial Park.

EMMET THOMAS

Emmet L. Thomas, 71, a retired operating engineer, died in a local hospital yesterday following a long illness.

A native of Marshall Town, Iowa, Thomas came to Marin County 20 years ago and last lived on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Forest Knolls, before his illness.

He was an engineer 25 years and worked for various contractors in the county. He had been in California about 40 years.

Thomas is survived by a brother, Floyd L. Thomas of Artesia, Los Angeles County.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

DANIEL D. MICH

NEW YORK (AP)—Daniel D. Mich, 60, editor of Look magazine, died yesterday after a long illness resulting from acute hepatitis.

Mich once said his philosophy could be summed up in the sentence, "nothing we have done in the past will ever be good enough again."

He also once as quoted: "The hottest places in hell are reserved for those who, in a time of great moral crisis, maintain their neutrality."

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Donald Gunner of Bakersfield, Calif.

MRS. GRZELAK

Funeral for Eleonora Grzelak, 85, of 1214 Ridge View Heights, Novato, will be held tomorrow in Brooklyn, N.Y.

A native of Poland, she was the widow of Thaddeus Grzelak. She died Sunday at a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. She had lived for the past five years in Novato with her daughter and only survivor, Mrs. Genevieve Suchara.

BURNEL GREEN

Burnel E. Green of Petaluma died last night after a short illness at a Marin county hospital. He was 62 years old.

He was a member of Carpenters Union Local 35, San Rafael, and New Era Lodge 32, Knights of Pythias, Petaluma. He was born in Petaluma and lived there all his life.

Green is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Green, and two sons, Milton C. Green and Robert B. Green, all of Petaluma, along with two sisters, Mrs. Olive McAskill, Petaluma, and Mrs. Gertrude Powers, San Bernardino.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel, 216 Washington Street, Petaluma, with inurnment in Cypress Hill Crematory, Petaluma.

Negotiators Progress In Air Industry Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Union and management negotiators reached tentative agreement today on a key issue in the five-day-old machinists' strike against McDonnell Aircraft Corp.

Neither side commented as bargaining resumed with the assistance of federal mediators. But it was learned there was general accord on the issue of "job specifications," regarded as one of the toughest obstacles in the way of settlement.

The striking machinists had complained that the job definitions were too loosely drawn in the old contract, keeping some employees in a lower classification while they perform high-level jobs.

The threat of a strike-caused delay in the scheduled Dec. 4 launch of the Gemini 7 spaceship was lifted yesterday when the striking International Assn. of Machinists agreed to permit 200 of its members to go back to their jobs at Cape Kennedy.

McDonnell manufactures Gemini capsules and the Navy's F-4 Phantom jet fighters.

In order to keep Gemini 7 on target, the federal space agency had been using 43 supervisory employees and technicians from McDonnell. But the need for more technicians would have been felt later this week when preparations start for a flight rehearsal.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said he and Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz had requested IAM officials to approve the return to work at Cape Kennedy. He said space officials told him the return of the workers is expected to keep the Gemini 7 launch on schedule.

Gemini 7, with astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell aboard, is scheduled to orbit the earth for a record-shattering 14 days. On the ninth day, it is to stage a near rendezvous with Gemini 6, piloted by Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford.

Truck Hits Boy In Novato Street

Danny Royer, 15, of Lodi was in good conditioin at Novato General Hospital today with a cut chin and fractured pelvis, suffered when he was struck by a car while crossing Highway 101 at Diablo Avenue in Novato yesterday.

Young Royer was hit by a pickup truck driven by Albert C. Lamperti of 131 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael, while he was crossing the street in a crosswalk, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The boy later told the highway patrol that he pushed the pedestrian button to change the traffic lights, but was not sure if the green "Walk" sign was on as he crossed.

Lamperti told officers he had the green light when he saw the truck ahead and in the lane left of him start to brake. Then, he said, he saw the boy, braked and skidded into him.

combed the hills around the village of Thach Tru, 320 miles northeast of Saigon, in search of more than 1,000 Viet Cong who attacked a battalion of South Vietnamese rangers there yesterday.

Nine U.S. Marines were believed to have drowned yesterday when an amphibious tractor sank in a river near Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon. Six Marines were rescued.

In the Mekong Delta south of Saigon the Viet Cong overran two government outposts and laid down a mortar barrage on another.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division and Vietnamese paratroopers continued their sweep in the Ia Drang Valley near the Cambodian border but met almost no resistance.

The Allied force is hunting for remnants of the North Vietnamese regiment that attacked the cavalrymen repeatedly last week in one of the hardest battles of the war. The cavalrymen and the South Vietnamese are sweeping at the base of Chu Phong Mountain, about 220 miles north of Saigon.

Public Hearing

Mill Valley Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today for a public hearing to consider changes in zoning classifications as recommended by the East Mill Valley General Plan adopted by the city council.

REDWOOD

Sierra Club, the Save-the-Redwoods League and the lumber industry.

All three federal plans called for a park in Del Norte and Humboldt counties and each embraced the Jedediah Smith, Del Norte and Prairie Creek State parks.

Federal Plan A calls for 93,407 acres, including 30,440 of virgin redwoods, at an estimated cost of $140 million.

Federal Plan B calls for 76,131 acres, of which 15,206 would be virgin redwood, at a cost of $67.5 million.

Federal Plan C calls for 61,851 acres, of which 9,336 would be virgin redwoods, at a cost of $45.2 million.

The state plan, endorsed by the American Forestry Assn., calls for a federal-state partnership centered on Humboldt State Park with expansions and the addition of the Kings Range as an area for campsites. Hugo Fisher, California Resources Agency administrator, also suggested additions to Prairie Creek, Jedediah Smith and Del Norte State parks.

The Sierra Club advocated a park of 97,600 acres at a cost of $140 million.

The Save-the-Redwoods League urged a 36,971-acre park at a cost of $37 million.

Industry offered about 8,000 acres for additions to the state parks and the opening of 230,000 acres of commercial groves for public recreational use.

Harold A. Miller, Miller (Reallim) Redwood Co. president, said Federal Plan A and the Sierra Club plan would cost upwards of $200 million for land acquisition alone.

George B. Hartzog Jr., National Park Service director, said Federal Plan A would put out of business the Arcata and Rellim Redwood companies. Harold Del Ponte, Del Norte County Board of Supervisors chairman, declared Rellim represents half the tax base of his county.

Kenneth Pomeroy, chief forester for the American Forestry Assn., said the state's plan "may cause some readjustment of forest industry plans. But it will not put any company out of business or its employees out of work as would a national park in the Prairie Creek-Redwood Creek drainages."

The state's plan is a "complete hoax," said Martin Litton of the Sierra Club. He also said Federal Plan B and Federal Plan C were travesties so gerrymandered they would be impossible to manage.

Colleges To Confer

The use of physical education facilities for community service programs will be the topic of a workshop for Northern California junior college officials at the College of Marin physical education building Dec. 3 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

in jail, he shook as though palsied.

The two young people, both students at the college, had gone to Westmore's apartment to talk about "philosophy and life in general," according to Miss Lieberman. Westmore was drinking vodka, and a blood test after his arrest disclosed nearly the amount of blood alcohol content which is accepted as legal evidence of drunkenness in driver trials. However, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales discounted this as an explanation for the unprovoked shooting.

A vial containing marijuana was found in the pocket of young Lazar's trousers, but investigating officers felt this also had no connection with the shooting.

Miss Lieberman, wounded in the shoulder, was able to give no explanation of why Westmore left the room in which they had been talking and returned with a rifle to open fire.

She was released last week from Marin General Hospital, but has not resumed classes at the college.

Westmore was formerly a leader in community life in Marin City, where he operated the meat department of the Waldo Market until it was closed by Redevelopment Agency decision that there should be only one market in Marin City.

Water Session

The Marin Municipal Water District board meeting scheduled for tomorrow afternoon will be adjourned to Monday at 1:30 p.m., according to district general manager William R. Seeger. A quorum of the five-man board will not be available tomorrow, Seeger said.

One Escapee Still Eludes Searchers

MARTINEZ (UPI)— Authorities searched today for Marcellus Warren, 28, the only one of four armed fugitives from the Contra Costa County Jail still at large.

Three were recaptuured yesterday south of Martinez and it was believed Warren hitched a ride out of the area with an unsuspecting motorist.

The four escaped at gunpoint Sunday using a smuggled pistol and arms from a mail locker. They stole a car, wrecked it about six miles west of Martinez und apparently split up.

Recaptured were Samuel Quinn, 25; Robert Burnett, 30, and Donald Dacey, 28.

Forecast Calls For More Rain

Rain came to Marin last night and by noon today .07 inches had fallen on San Rafael.

Tamalpais Valley appeared to be the wettest. In the 12 hours ending 8 a.m. today, .23 of an inch of rain fell in that area.

The forecast calls for occasional rain in California through tomorrow, with locally heavy amounts in the south.

Other 24-hour Marin rainfall figures up to 8 a.m. today were: Fairfax .22; San Anselmo .19; Sausalito .18; Mill Valley .12; Chevy Chase area of Larkspur .10; Terra Linda .10; Novato .05.

THE CAR IS MIGHTIER THAN THE FENCE

Two youths escaped with minor injuries when this westbound car went off Novato Boulevard just west of Indian Valley Road yesterday and knocked down some 50 feet of fencing. The driver, Kenneth R. Siegler, 17, of 9 Bonnie Banks Way, San Rafael (in white shirt) was treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts on arms, hands, abdomen and legs. His passenger, John M. McVey, 15, of 361 Fairway Drive, Novato, reportedly was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital with a broken tooth and bruised shoulder, but the hospital reported no record of him today. Questioning the driver is California Highway Patrolman Gordon Bechtold.

County's Setup On Personnel Is Criticized

A San Rafael resident with a background in personnel relations today charged that the present status of the Marin County Personnel Commission opens the way for "making of a personal empire on somebody's part."

Burnell Van Dalson of 1 Belle Avenue, former assistant to the district construction engineer of the State Division of Highways, told supervisors that his inquiries had shown low morale among county employees, due possibly to lack of an incentive program.

'TAIL WAGS DOG'

He said the "tail seemed to be wagging the dog" with the county personnel director answerable to the county administrator rather than to the personnel commission.

He suggested the commission should have a strong hand in making policy determinations as well as acting as an appeals board. It should also sit with department heads on staffing departments and confer on employee relations, he said.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said the board of supervisors had to determine policy in light of all county needs. He said the trouble with appointed commissions is that they are not directly answerable to the people, and when supervisors overrule recommendations, "the commissioners get all jerky and upset."

REFERRED TO BRUCE

Supervisor referred Van Dalson's suggestion to the man whose role he seemed to question: Alan Bruce, the county administrator.

Bruce told supervisors he expects a report soon from Julius H. Selinger, chairman of the personnel commission, on suggestions in Bruce's committee and commission report of last August in it, Bruce recommended that the commission act as a board of appeals and that its other duties be limited to recommendations on policy or special studies, both at direction of the board of supervisors.

The commission last Thursday discussed the report at length and concluded that the commission presently was contributing little.

DENSITY

for zoning ranging from 1.5 to two dwelling units per acre.

Kettenhofen said the referral would be taken as a direction from the board and not allow full study of all alternatives.

"We'd just be saying 'this is it, boys,'" he said.

He suggested a joint meeting with the commission to discuss the issue.

Behr said this would be "big brothering" the commission.

"Baloney!" said Kettenhofen.

Behr said Kettenhofen evidently wanted an "open end" on density. Kettenhofen promised he would resign if he ever was the "swing vote" on a plan allowing density over 3.5.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said lack of firm policy in the present ordinance on density opens the door for "graft and pressure."

"You're not suggesting that this has happened?" asked Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who said he was accused of accepting pay-offs for his favorable vote on Marincello.

"Certainly not," snapped Leydecker. He said any case where policy is diffuse allows for "political hanky-panky."

After considerable discussion and a 10-minute coffee break, Storer voted to refer the proposed ordinance amendment to the commission, with understanding that it was for study and commissioners were free to make any recommendations they saw fit.

Kettenhofen tried unsuccessfully to block the action with substitute motions.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Nevada Franchini Dies At 76

Mrs. Nevada Watson Franchini, whose grandparents came to California as pioneers by ship around the Horn and by covered wagon across the plains and mountains, died yesterday in a local hospital after a brief illness.

She would have been 76 years old on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Franchini was the wife of Gabriel F. Franchini, founder of G. Franchini and Co., operators of meat and grocery markets in San Anselmo (the Home Market).

She was a descendant of the Hindle and Brown families who came to California in gold rush days. Many mementoes of the Hindle family are in the De-Young Museum collection of pioneer relics.

She was born in Hayward, and lived in San Jose and San Francisco before moving to San Anselmo in 1915.

Besides her husband, at the family home at 209 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo, she is survived by a daughter and two sons, Mrs. Erna Longfellow and William F. Franchini of San Anselmo and Robert Gabriel Franchini of Santa Cruz; two stepdaughters and a stepson, Mrs. Ethel Pugh of Fairfax and Mrs. Amelia Cuneo and Roy Franchini of San Anselmo; a brother, William Hindle of Miami, Fla., and 12 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 9 a.m. Friday at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Entombment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

H. Y. THOMPSON

Funeral for Horace Young Thompson, 59, of Santa Rosa, son of Mrs. Kate Young Thompson of San Anselmo, was held yesterday in Santa Rosa.

Thompson died Friday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a brief illness.

A retired sheep rancher and lumberman, he lived near Westport, Mendocino County, many years, moving to Santa Rosa about two years ago.

Surviving, in addition to his mother, are his wife, Mrs. Anne G. Thompson of Santa Rosa; five sons, Robert Thompson of Petrolia, Humboldt County; Melvin Thompson of Westport; Darwin Thompson of Santa Rosa; Richard Thompson of Sunnyvale, and Allyn Thompson of Ukiah; a sister, Mrs. Althea Lambert of San Francisco, and 10 grandchildren.

Burial was in Santa Rosa Memorial Park.

EMMET THOMAS

Emmet L. Thomas, 71, a retired operating engineer, died in a local hospital yesterday following a long illness.

A native of Marshall Town, Iowa, Thomas came to Marin County 20 years ago and last lived on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Forest Knolls, before his illness.

He was an engineer 25 years and worked for various contractors in the county. He had been in California about 40 years.

Thomas is survived by a brother, Floyd L. Thomas of Artesia, Los Angeles County.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

DANIEL D. MICH

NEW YORK (AP)—Daniel D. Mich, 60, editor of Look magazine, died yesterday after a long illness resulting from acute hepatitis.

Mich once said his philosophy could be summed up in the sentence, "nothing we have done in the past will ever be good enough again."

He also once as quoted: "The hottest places in hell are reserved for those who, in a time of great moral crisis, maintain their neutrality."

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Donald Gunner of Bakersfield, Calif.

MRS. GRZELAK

Funeral for Eleonora Grzelak, 85, of 1214 Ridge View Heights, Novato, will be held tomorrow in Brooklyn, N.Y.

A native of Poland, she was the widow of Thaddeus Grzelak. She died Sunday at a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. She had lived for the past five years in Novato with her daughter and only survivor, Mrs. Genevieve Suchara.

Negotiators Progress In Air Industry Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Union and management negotiators reached tentative agreement today on a key issue in the five-day-old machinists' strike against McDonnell Aircraft Corp.

Neither side commented as bargaining resumed with the assistance of federal mediators. But it was learned there was general accord on the issue of "job specifications," regarded as one of the toughest obstacles in the way of settlement.

The striking machinists had complained that the job definitions were too loosely drawn in the old contract, keeping some employees in a lower classification while they perform high-level jobs.

The threat of a strike-caused delay in the scheduled Dec. 4 launch of the Gemini 7 spaceship was lifted yesterday when the striking International Assn. of Machinists agreed to permit 200 of its members to go back to their jobs at Cape Kennedy.

McDonnell manufactures Gemini capsules and the Navy's F-4 Phantom jet fighters.

In order to keep Gemini 7 on target, the federal space agency had been using 43 supervisory employees and technicians from McDonnell. But the need for more technicians would have been felt later this week when preparations start for a flight rehearsal.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said he and Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz had requested IAM officials to approve the return to work at Cape Kennedy. He said space officials told him the return of the workers is expected to keep the Gemini 7 launch on schedule.

Gemini 7, with astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell aboard, is scheduled to orbit the earth for a record-shattering 14 days. On the ninth day, it is to stage a near rendezvous with Gemini 6, piloted by Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford.

Truck Hits Boy In Novato Street

Danny Royer, 15, of Lodi was in good conditioin at Novato General Hospital today with a cut chin and fractured pelvis, suffered when he was struck by a car while crossing Highway 101 at Diablo Avenue in Novato yesterday.

Young Royer was hit by a pickup truck driven by Albert C. Lamperti of 131 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael, while he was crossing the street in a crosswalk, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The boy later told the highway patrol that he pushed the pedestrian button to change the traffic lights, but was not sure if the green "Walk" sign was on as he crossed.

Lamperti told officers he had the green light when he saw the truck ahead and in the lane left of him start to brake. Then, he said, he saw the boy, braked and skidded into him.

REDWOOD

Sierra Club, the Save-the-Redwoods League and the lumber industry.

All three federal plans called for a park in Del Norte and Humboldt counties and each embraced the Jedediah Smith, Del Norte and Prairie Creek State parks.

Federal Plan A calls for 93,407 acres, including 30,440 of virgin redwoods, at an estimated cost of $140 million.

Federal Plan B calls for 76,131 acres, of which 15,206 would be virgin redwood, at a cost of $67.5 million.

Federal Plan C calls for 61,851 acres, of which 9,336 would be virgin redwoods, at a cost of $45.2 million.

The state plan, endorsed by the American Forestry Assn., calls for a federal-state partnership centered on Humboldt State Park with expansions and the addition of the Kings Range as an area for campsites. Hugo Fisher, California Resources Agency administrator, also suggested additions to Prairie Creek, Jedediah Smith and Del Norte State parks.

The Sierra Club advocated a park of 97,600 acres at a cost of $140 million.

The Save-the-Redwoods League urged a 36,971-acre park at a cost of $37 million.

Industry offered about 8,000 acres for additions to the state parks and the opening of 230,000 acres of commercial groves for public recreational use.

Harold A. Miller, Miller (Reallim) Redwood Co. president, said Federal Plan A and the Sierra Club plan would cost upwards of $200 million for land acquisition alone.

George B. Hartzog Jr., National Park Service director, said Federal Plan A would put out of business the Arcata and Rellim Redwood companies. Harold Del Ponte, Del Norte County Board of Supervisors chairman, declared Rellim represents half the tax base of his county.

Kenneth Pomeroy, chief forester for the American Forestry Assn., said the state's plan "may cause some readjustment of forest industry plans. But it will not put any company out of business or its employees out of work as would a national park in the Prairie Creek-Redwood Creek drainages."

The state's plan is a "complete hoax," said Martin Litton of the Sierra Club. He also said Federal Plan B and Federal Plan C were travesties so gerrymandered they would be impossible to manage.

combed the hills around the village of Thach Tru, 320 miles northeast of Saigon, in search of more than 1,000 Viet Cong who attacked a battalion of South Vietnamese rangers there yesterday.

Nine U.S. Marines were believed to have drowned yesterday when an amphibious tractor sank in a river near Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon. Six Marines were rescued.

In the Mekong Delta south of Saigon the Viet Cong overran two government outposts and laid down a mortar barrage on another.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division and Vietnamese paratroopers continued their sweep in the Ia Drang Valley near the Cambodian border but met almost no resistance.

The Allied force is hunting for remnants of the North Vietnamese regiment that attacked the cavalrymen repeatedly last week in one of the hardest battles of the war. The cavalrymen and the South Vietnamese are sweeping at the base of Chu Phong Mountain, about 220 miles north of Saigon.

in jail, he shook as though palsied.

The two young people, both students at the college, had gone to Westmore's apartment to talk about "philosophy and life in general," according to Miss Lieberman. Westmore was drinking vodka, and a blood test after his arrest disclosed nearly the amount of blood alcohol content which is accepted as legal evidence of drunkenness in driver trials. However, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales discounted this as an explanation for the unprovoked shooting.

A vial containing marijuana was found in the pocket of young Lazar's trousers, but investigating officers felt this also had no connection with the shooting.

Miss Lieberman, wounded in the shoulder, was able to give no explanation of why Westmore left the room in which they had been talking and returned with a rifle to open fire.

She was released last week from Marin General Hospital, but has not resumed classes at the college.

Westmore was formerly a leader in community life in Marin City, where he operated the meat department of the Waldo Market until it was closed by Redevelopment Agency decision that there should be only one market in Marin City.

Water Session

The Marin Municipal Water District board meeting scheduled for tomorrow afternoon will be adjourned to Monday at 1:30 p.m., according to district general manager William R. Seeger. A quorum of the five-man board will not be available tomorrow, Seeger said.

Civic Council Dissension On Marincello

One member of the Marin Council of Civic Affairs has resigned over the council board's qualified approval of Marincello, and other members are disturbed over the issue, according to the council's November newsletter.

Martin Friedman of Vill Valley, who resigned, charged that the 3.5 dwelling units per acre density for Marincello, which the council directors approved, will have far-reaching and devastating effects on Marin County.

At their Oct. 27 meeting the directors voted 6-4 in favor of planned community, variety of housing types, cluster housing and the 3.5 density, but asked that there be more detailed planning before any work begins on Marincello.

Friedman charged that none of those voting in the majority had attended a hearing on Marincello, whereas three of the minority had first-hand knowledge of the pros and cons.

Under the circumstances, with only 12 out of 25 board members present, it was "quite irresponsible" to take such action, Friedman claimed. "It can hardly purport to speak for the membership on this issue."

(Of the 12 directors present, 10 voted, while Chairman Napthali H. Knox and Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, a member of the Marin County Planning Commission, abstained.)

Friedman sent a copy of his resignation letter to county supervisors in protest of the MCCA position.

In its letter to supervisors, MCCA said it "remains dissatisfied" with the quality of the Marincello plan, and asked supervisors to approve it subject to approval of an acceptable detailed plan for the first phase of development.

In reply to Friedman's letter, chairman Knox sent a telegram to the supervisor saying that there was a quorum of the council board present when the Marincello vote was taken.

"Our board has been continuously and well informed regarding Marincello," Knox said. The decision was made by a group "empowered to speak for the 350 members," he said.

Tiburon Council Wants Would-Be Landlord To Get Use Permit First

The Tiburon City Council wants its prospective landlord to get a use permit before it will sign a rental agreement for temporary city offices

The question of a use permit arose when the council last night considered granting architectural approval for Belvedere Land Co.'s proposed addition to the post office building at Juanita Lane and Beach Road.

The council plans to rent the addition for city offices on a temporary basis until a new post office is constructed and the offices can be moved into the present post office. The city's lease of present office space at 1610 Tiburon Boulevard expires Dec. 31.

Members voted 4-1 to terminate negotiations with the company for rental of the space until the company gets a permit for office use of the proposed building.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, who contended the addition should not be approved while the downtown master plan is pending, dissented.

The council granted architectural approval of the proposed 1,200 square foot addition to the post office by a 3-2 vote, with Hannahs and Councilman Jacqueline Parnell dissenting.

The council also adopted an ordinance which places a one-year limit on use permits, with provision for a six-month extension, to become effective 30 days from last night.

After first reading of a revised business licensing ordinance, the council lifted its suspension on collecting license fees, which had been in effect since Aug. 23.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said the revised ordinance carries the same rates as previously, except that the fee for real estate and yacht brokers has been reduced from $10 per salesman to $5.

Hannahs objected to the $15 a room fee for motels and hotels, saying it would be "somewhat excessive" when coupled with the city's four per cent tax on transient use of motel and hotel rooms.

The council also voted 4-1 for an annual audit of the city's books by Dalton, Graubner and Barber of San Rafael at a cost of $350, with Councilman John S. Hoffmire Jr. dissenting.

The vote for an audit came after Rose's recommendation that the audit be postponed was defeated by a 3-2 vote, with Hoffmire and Anne L. Ellinwood backing the postponement.

Hoffmire said that the city recently had an audit by George Bitter of Tiburon, and another audit would be duplication.

Hannahs said he was horrified at the suggestion the audit be postponed.

Hoffmire noted that Dalton, Graubner and Barber had instituted the city bookkeeping system and would in effect "be auditing themselves."

The Tiburon City Council Also:

The Tiburon City Council also:

1. Approved application for $17,500 in federal assistance for the general plan to be prepared by planners Williams, Cook and Mocine, for the area outside the downtown business sector.

2. Postponed action on a bid by Belvedere-Tiburon Community Television Antenna Co. for an exclusive franchise to provide television antenna service, to await further staff study.

3. Referred the Tiburon Sanitary District's demand for $1,700 repayment for engineering studies on a Tiburon Boulevard flood control district to the city attorney and city manager for review.

4. Cancelled the second regularly scheduled meeting for December, which would have been Dec. 27.

5. Received a report from City Manager Rose that the State Small Craft and Harbor Commission would not make a survey on the Tiburon waterfront unless the city has ownership or a long-term lease of a significant portion of the area and an adopted plan for development.

6. Approved a tentative map of Tiburon Ridge Unit 2, submitted by subdivider Howard Eichen, consisting of 13 lots on eight acres, along Gilmartin Drive, off Tiburon Boulevard.

7. Conducted a 15-minute closed session outside the meeting room to discuss pending litigation.

8. Authorized Rose to request the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to grant a time extension for those who want to file protests against Belvedere Tennis Club's application for liquor sales on the premises, after noting that the city did not get a notice and a resident charged there had been inadequate notice.

9. Approved restriction of parking in mail collection box zones along Beach Road.

10. Approved the Mill Valley Refuse Co. dump site in the Richmond mud flats, but said the site approval will be reviewed when a more acceptable site of method of disposal is available.

11. Authorized Rose to investigate the feasibility of purchasing a two-bedroom house, used as an engineer's office, at Reed Ranch Road, which has been declared surplus property by the state.

12. Approved crosswalks on Rock Hill Road at Tiburon Boulevard and authorized Rose to negotiate with the state for crosswalks and "slow" signs on Tiburon Boulevard at the intersection.

13. Approved recommendations for pedestrian and vehicular safety in the Del Mar area including trimming of foliage in center divider on Avenida Miraflores.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, who contended the addition should not be approved while the downtown master plan is pending, dissented.

The council granted architectural approval of the proposed 1,200 square foot addition to the post office by a 3-2 vote, with Hannahs and Councilman Jacqueline Parnell dissenting.

The council also adopted an ordinance which places a one-year limit on use permits, with provision for a six-month extension, to become effective 30 days from last night.

After first reading of a revised business licensing ordinance, the council lifted its suspension on collecting license fees, which had been in effect since Aug. 23.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said the revised ordinance carries the same rates as previously, except that the fee for real estate and yacht brokers has been reduced from $10 per salesman to $5.

Hannahs objected to the $15 a room fee for motels and hotels, saying it would be "somewhat excessive" when coupled with the city's four per cent tax on transient use of motel and hotel rooms.

The council also voted 4-1 for an annual audit of the city's books by Dalton, Graubner and Barber of San Rafael at a cost of $350, with Councilman John S. Hoffmire Jr. dissenting.

The vote for an audit came after Rose's recommendation that the audit be postponed was defeated by a 3-2 vote, with Hoffmire and Anne L. Ellinwood backing the postponement.

Hoffmire said that the city recently had an audit by George Bitter of Tiburon, and another audit would be duplication.

Hannahs said he was horrified at the suggestion the audit be postponed.

Hoffmire noted that Dalton, Graubner and Barber had instituted the city bookkeeping system and would in effect "be auditing themselves."

The Tiburon City Council Also:

The Tiburon City Council also:

1. Approved application for $17,500 in federal assistance for the general plan to be prepared by planners Williams, Cook and Mocine, for the area outside the downtown business sector.
2. Postponed action on a bid by Belvedere-Tiburon Community Television Antenna Co. for an exclusive franchise to provide television antenna service, to await further staff study.
3. Referred the Tiburon Sanitary District's demand for $1,700 repayment for engineering studies on a Tiburon Boulevard flood control district to the city attorney and city manager for review.
4. Cancelled the second regularly scheduled meeting for December, which would have been Dec. 27.
5. Received a report from City Manager Rose that the State Small Craft and Harbor Commission would not make a survey on the Tiburon waterfront unless the city has ownership or a long-term lease of a significant portion of the area and an adopted plan for development.
6. Approved a tentative map of Tiburon Ridge Unit 2, submitted by subdivider Howard Eichen, consisting of 13 lots on eight acres, along Gilmartin Drive, off Tiburon Boulevard.
7. Conducted a 15-minute closed session outside the meeting room to discuss pending litigation.
8. Authorized Rose to request the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to grant a time extension for those who want to file protests against Belvedere Tennis Club's application for liquor sales on the premises, after noting that the city did not get a notice and a resident charged there had been inadequate notice.
9. Approved restriction of parking in mail collection box zones along Beach Road.
10. Approved the Mill Valley Refuse Co. dump site in the Richmond mud flats, but said the site approval will be reviewed when a more acceptable site of method of disposal is available.
11. Authorized Rose to investigate the feasibility of purchasing a two-bedroom house, used as an engineer's office, at Reed Ranch Road, which has been declared surplus property by the state.
12. Approved crosswalks on Rock Hill Road at Tiburon Boulevard and authorized Rose to negotiate with the state for crosswalks and "slow" signs on Tiburon Boulevard at the intersection.
13. Approved recommendations for pedestrian and vehicular safety in the Del Mar area including trimming of foliage in center divider on Avenida Miraflores.

Some Ships' Figureheads — For Bars

(Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

FOLK ART REVIVED — Sausalito sculptor Barney West and a three-man crew have taken time from producing redwood tikis to create life-size replicas of figureheads which sailed the bonny brine on the bowsprits of ships. The figureheads are accurate copies of the originals, but West sells them mostly to bars. This is is a copy of that on a ship called the Ajax, launched in 1807.

MAKING ANTIQUES—As Barney West (with dark sweater) and Jerry Brown look on, John Nordstrand chisels away at a what will eventually be a replica of the figurehead from a German ship, the Freiherr Von Stein, built in 1862. Workers start with chain saws, but later switch to chisels as they seek to make the wood appear old. Instead of the pine used by early Eastern carvers, however, West prefers heart redwood, which he gets from "old discarded foot bridges at Muir Woods."

GULL FOR THE GULL—Naturally, when he started carving figureheads, sculptor Barney West had to make one for his own vessel, the Black Gull. There was little choice as to what it be, either. Here, West puts finishing touches of paint on the two-foot figure of (naturally) a black gull. Another, aboard the Sea Wolf at Waldo Point, is a combination of a wolf, a goat and a fish. West and his carvers also plan to make hailing boards — sometimes called transits—such as those used as name plates on the sterns of old sailing ships.

Sausalito Schools Committee Named

Five committees were appointed last night for Sausalito School District's building study.

Committee heads, two board members, the district superintendent and five members-at-large will next meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the district office to begin studies of building facilities needed in the district.

Trustees named Robert Hayes as head of the school site committee; Mrs. Constance Starbird, educational objectives committee; Donald O. Stutsman, financial committee; Robert Politzer, facilities committee, and K. A. Elkington, projected enrollment committee.

Fifty-four persons signed up to work on any of the five committees and another 30 indicated willingness to participate with the general group, said Supt. Charles Lavaroni.

The board directed Lavaroni to advise the Marin County Human Rights Commission that, whereas it could not financially support the human rights symposium to be held Dec. 11 in Marin City, it will act as a supporting body.

Lavaroni told trustees a check is being made to be sure that enrollment in the pre-school program at Manzanita School follows the 70-30 ratio required: 70 per cent of the pro-school pupils from families with total income is below $7,000 and the remainder in a higher income bracket.

Dr. Ira H. Degenhardt, president of the Marin Medical Society, questioned in the society's November bulletin whether the pre-kindergarten training, paid largely by the federal government, was going to children who needed it.

Trustees heard a report on the district's Spanish program by Armando Flores, teacher, and a report from Mrs. Meredith Ball, district nurse.

Mrs. Ball said she plans to set up a program of narcotics education for seventh and eighth grade pupils next spring.

The board agreed not to meet Dec. 27 because of Christmas holidays. The next meeting will be Dec. 13.

Novato Planners Delay Vote On Gasoline Crossroads

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended rezoning from single to multiple family of a lot at 1128 Third Street, asked by Claude and Dorothy Johnston.

The commission put off until its Dec. 13 meeting consideration of four requests by Harker Development Corp. for a "gasoline crossroads" of three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin and San Andreas Drives in San Marin, and a neighborhood market south of one of the service stations.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Approved a lot split on Olive Avenue 350 feet west of the Olive School for Edward Jurkowski.

2. Approved Marin Oaks Development Co.'s grading plans for Marin Oaks Unit 1 of 34 acres at the end of Montura Way between Ignacio Boulevard and Eagle Drive.

3. Sent back to the city council without change, the council's recommendation for rezoning from single family to commercial for John Nova and Alfred Bellucci of land east of Highway 101 and north of Novato Creek. A question on the access has been settled, according to Warren Baker, assistant planner.

4. Continued until Dec. 13 consideration of plans for Baimar Corp.'s Crossroads Manor on 25 acres of the Scottsdale development west of Highway 101 and south of Novato Creek.

FOREIGN SERVICE JOB—Charles E. Emmons, son of Lawrence Emmons of Petaluma and Mrs. Hester Sonne of 34 Bret Avenue, San Rafael, has been sworn in as a U.S. Foreign Service officer and will be assigned to a position in Washington, D.C., or one of the 113 countries with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations.

Contract Wages Hikes Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said today some 2.2 million workers under major collective bargaining agreements won wage increases averaging 4.2 per cent the first nine months of this year.

The average pay boost, amounting to 11 cents per hour, was higher than the comparable periods of 1963 and 1964, when wage gains were 3.1 per cent and 3.2 per cent respectively.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the 4.2 per cent increase cannot be directly compared with White House guidelines suggesting noninflationary wage increases of 3.2 per cent a year.

Driver Fined

Dorothy Ann Marquardt, 35, of 1140 Elm Drive, Novato, was fined $220 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. She was arrested on First Street by Novato police Oct. 11.

Wrong School District Revealed To Trustees

It may not be ethical for an apartment manager to tell tenants to register in one school district when they really live in another—but is it illegal?

The Mill Valley School District Board decided last night to put that up to the county counsel.

Mrs. Beverly R. Ludwig, who lives at the Villa Garden Apartments—just across the border in Sausalito School District — said in a letter that the apartment manager told her to use the address of the Marin Home Investment Co., 200 Shoreline Highway, when registering her two children for school. The children were registered to attend Tamalpais Valley School.

Trustees approved an inter-district attendance agreement to allow David Robert and Anne Marie Ludwig to continue at Tamalpais Valley School, which they have been attending since the school year started — then they directed a query to the county counsel.

Trustees agreed to co-sponsor a syposium on human rights and human values Dec. 11 in the Marin City gymnasium, but said the district would not contribute funds.

The board granted a maternity leave for the remainder of the school year to Mrs. Robert Shrader, sixth grade teacher at Strawberry Point School, and hired Mrs. Geraldine O'Neil as a part-time clerk at Richardson Bay School. Trustees also toured the instructional materials center at Park School.

Johnson, Wilson To Confer On Wide Area Of Problems

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) --President Johnson will confer with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson on Dec. 17 on a wide range of world problems, the White House announced today.

No meeting place was named for their first face-to-face talks since last December but a spokesman said they would be held either in Washington or at Johnson's Texas ranch.

The war in Viet Nam, North Atlantic Treaty Oorganization policy, British-American-Soviet relations and the Rhodesian breakaway will be discussed, White House officials said.

Wilson will address the United Nations General Assembly at New York on Dec. 16 and then will see the President. Aides said they also would discuss their continuing interest in a treaty to block the spread of nuclear weapons.

Doctor To Describe Diagnostic Centers

Dr. Richard Koch, director of the Child Development Center at Children's Hospital in Los Angeles, will describe plans for new diagnostic centers to be set up throughout the state at a meeting Friday of the Marin Aid to Retarded Chlidren.

The meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center, will include showing of the film, "Handle with Care."

Vandals Invade Factory Parking

Vandals last night smashed windows of four cars parked at the Fairchild Semiconductor plant at 4300 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, police reported.

A car owned by Harvey J. Robarge, Petaluma, had all windows except the windshield broken. Both left side windows were smashed in the cars of Robert W. Olsen and Horst O. Krueger, both of Petaluma.

Windows of both rear doors of the car of Larry D. Jones, 28 Latham Street, San Rafael, were also smashed.

Police said a small sharp instrument had apparently been used by the vandals. Nothing was reported missing from the cars.

Two Mothers, Children Elude Death In Crash

A 19-year-old Novato mother and two of her children narrowly escaped serious injury when they were flung from a car as it skidded on rain-drenched Highway 101 in Sonoma last night and crashed into an embankment.

The four-month-old baby was pinned between the car's roof and the rear seat but suffered only a bruise.

Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger of 1655 Novato Boulevard was a passenger in a car being driven by Mrs. Jane Sonnenfelt, 19, of Santa Rosa, said the California Highway Patrol.

With Mrs. Terwilliger were her children, Mary Louise, 3, Teresa, 2, and the baby, Kim Rae. Also in the car was Mrs. Sonnenfelt's year-old daughter, Dina Mary.

About a mile north of the Marin-Sonoma County line, the car failed to take the curve, skidded, hit a row of mail and paper boxes, crashed into an embankment, and ended up in a ditch.

Mrs. Terwilliger, her two young children, and Dina Sonnenfelt were thrown out. Mary Louise Terwilliger, hit a barbed wire fence and suffered multiple cuts to the back and arms.

Mrs. Terwilliger hit a barbed wire fence and suffered multiple cuts to the back and arms.

After first-aid treatment at Petaluma General Hospital, Mary Louise and baby Kim Rae were rushed to Marin General Hospital. The 3-year-old girl was admitted to the hospital and was reported in fair condition today. The baby was allowed home after treatment.

The driver, Mrs. Sonnenfelt and her daughter were transferred from Petaluma to Sonoma General Hospital with minor injuries.

Johnson's Dinner To Be Traditional

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) —President and Mrs. Johnson are planning a traditional Thanksgiving celebration Thursday with turkey and all the trimmings.

The guest list so far is "just family" but with the Johnson's hospitality that is always an open end affair.

The Johnson's daughter Luci, 18, is expected to fly to the LBJ Ranch for the feating. She may bring along her boyfriend, Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., who goes into the service at the end of the week.

Lynda Bird Johnson, 21, will travel 65 miles from Austin where she is a senior at the University of Texas to be with her parents.

How many kinfolks will be on hand is not known. But Mrs. Johnson is a hostess who knows her guest list always expands.

The highlight of the holiday will be in the evening when the family joins millions through the nation in watching an hour long television show with the First Lady as the star.

The color film entitled "A Visit to Washington with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on Behalf of a More Beautiful Capital" will be shown on (ABC-TV) network television Thanksgiving night.

Humane Society Building May Start Early In 1966

Final plans for construction of the new human education center at Ignacio for Marin County Humane Society were discussed yesterday at the 58th annual meeting of the society.

It is expected that work on the first phase, a new $400,000 main center building, will start early next year, Mel Morse, executive director, said today. The society hopes to move in during the summer.

Members also discussed the ultimate disposal of the society's San Rafael animal shelter at 402 Third Street. The society has had premises in San Rafael about 48 years.

Directors re-elected were Jack Craemer of Greenbrae, Mrs. H. E. MeBas of San Anselmo and Richard P. Gatterdam of Ross, who is also treasurer.

Two new directors were elected to fill vacancies: O. L. Greene of Mill Valley and Dr. Russell Klein of Kentfield.

Guilty Verdict On Trade Secret

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that four former employes of Ampex Corp. of Redwood City stole trade secrets from Ampex when they switched jobs to MVR Corp. of Mountain View, to the benefit of MVR.

U.S. District Judge Lloyd H. Burke held yesterday that Ampex trade secrets in connection with manufacture of television tape recorders were taken for the benefit of MVR by Kurt R. Machein, now president of MVR; David C. Thompson, Michael V. Maryatt and Perry A. Bygdnes.

The judge dismissed trade secret charges against three other former Ampex employees— Uva Reese, Hans W. Ehlers and Walter E. Loch.

College Backers Set Campaign For Loans

Directors of the College of Marin Foundation, a fund raising organization, last night scheduled a 90-day campaign, beginning in February, to raise $17,500 for student scholarships and loans at the college.

The directors also voted to expand their board from 15 to 18 members and selected men to fill two of the three new positions. Appointed to the board were Jess J. France of Sleepy Hollow, chairman of the foundation's membership committee, and John D. Carter of Lucas Valley, chairman of its public relations committee.

Why Not Long Hair, Tight Pants, Leather Jackets?

Why can't we wear long hair, tight trousers and leather jackets? We're not doing anything wrong! Why pick on us?

This is the attitude of many juvenile non-conformists who want to exercise the privilege of choosing their own attire.

All well and good. As long as they stay within the realm of decency, they are not breaking the law.

But at the same time, those who would flaunt their unconventional dress or manners in public must bear in mind that they are inviting attention to themselves. With attention comes a certain amount of suspicion as to the character of the wearer and the motives behind the non-conformist attitude.

When such juveniles begin to advance into the adult world, they do so with a couple of strikes against them even before they start.

Marin Juvenile Judge Samuel W. Gardiner touched on this question in a recent talk before the local Rotary Club.

"I'm not about to give orders on how young people should or should not dress," the judge emphasized.

He was just passing on to interested parents some of the problems faced by the young non-conformist.

Among those in the 18 to 25 age group, a high percentage of crime is committed by the long-hair, tight-trouser, leather-jacket set.

Therefore, anyone who tries to emulate or identify with this set is immediately suspect.

Law enforcement agencies are not out to "pick on" any group of individuals, merely because of dress. But by the very nature of their duties, one of which is to prevent crime, police must pay closer attention to the unusual and the out of place.

A teen-ager, found scrambling up the drainpipe of a home at midnight, may only be getting his daily exercise on doctor's orders and with parental consent. But he would have no legitimate complaint if questioned by a police officer, because of the unusual hour and the unusual activity.

By the same token, those who choose to dress unconventionally and scream for attention have no legitimate complaint coming when they find themselves in the public and police spotlight.

In the adult world of employment, the non-conformist is likewise handicapped, Judge Gardiner pointed out.

Those who deliberately identify themselves with any group whose crime percentage is known to be high are suspect. Even the most conscientious, able and dependable youth would be classified as a "bad risk" by most employers because of unconventional dress.

These are just facts of life, as observed by a judge who daily sees a parade of youth march through juvenile court.

Those who still insist on being non-conformists do so with their eyes open. They can take their two strikes and the consequences.

PILOT KEEPS PASSENGERS INFORMED

Passengers had nothing but praise for an airline pilot who kept them informed throughout a dangerous set-down with a faulty landing gear.

The nose gear of the 47-passenger jet became stuck just before it was due to arrive in New York.

"The captain kept us informed all the time as to what was going on," said one traveler. "He told us we were experiencing some difficulty with the gear."

The pilot also explained that he was making low passes over the terminal so that ground personnel could observe the difficulty. And he took the passengers through the paces of an emergency drill.

The actual landing on a heavily foamed runway was nearly perfect. All 47 passengers cheered as the plane came to a stop.

To keep people advised of what they have a right to know, especially under pressure, requires great faith in their basic goodness.

Gimmicks In Unemployment Code Bring Advice From Teamsters

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—New gimmicks to circumvent the provisions of the unemployment code, adopted by the legislature to tighten up fund drains, have been dreamed up by labor unions, giving much concern to employers and the California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board.

The legislature generously raised top unemployment benefits from $55 to $65 per week. At the same time, it strengthened the termination disqualification by eliminating the five-week waiting period for payment on voluntary quits or discharge for misconduct. Now, the claimant has an indefinite disqualification until he returns to work and earns five times his weekly benefit amount.

THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA Teamsters (Council No. 42), developed a clever method of defeating the purpose of this amendment, and so advised its members by bulletin.

"Since the law applies only to your most recent work, you will not be penalized if you have been laid off from your most recent work even though that most recent work lasted only a few hours," the bulletin says.

"For example, if a claimant last worked for 20 years and was fired for slugging his employer or quit because he did not like the attitude of his employer, he will be disqualified until he has earned five times his weekly benefit.

"But, if the same individual holds off from filing a claim and works half a day as a lumper, or driving a taxi, or picking tomatoes, and is then laid off, he is NOT subject to penalty.

"So if you quit or are fired, play it safe and try to get a temporary job before you go down to file a claim."

THE UNEMPLOYMENT insurance appeals board has been cognizant of this loophole in the law for a long time, and is wondering what to do.

The question is over the technical detail of what is bonafide employment, but the loophole exists for the simple reason bona-fide employment is not described or outlined in the law. Such a description admittedly would be difficult.

Actuaries recommend some tax increases next year to bring the fund back to full strength so curtailment of payments not in accord with the intent of the law appear to be necessary.

EMPLOYERS RECOGNIZED this when they sponsored the new penalty provision, which they hoped in some manner would halt the parade of chiseling.

Viet Nam Actions Held Destructive

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Of late you have written many good editorials. That of Nov. 6 on Viet Nam was so well stated—forthright with no apologies—that we wanted to thank you immediately.

Let's have more of this clear thinking, straight to the point writing. It may help dispel some of the fog created by all the fuzzy heads who abound, particularly around colleges and so-called intellectual circles.

LBJ's Honeymoon With Business Ends

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Those liberal malcontents who last year voted for Johnson's foreign policy only to discover that they got Goldwater's may now move over to make room for the unhappy tycoons of big business who similarly went all the way with LBJ and now find that he disagrees that what is good for Alcoa is good for the U.S.A.

Your occasionally informative columnist Roscoe Drummond apparently let his admiration for Lyndon get the better of his reportorial acumen in his column of Nov. 16. At least his version of the recent showdown on the aluminum price rise does not bear any resemblance to that of the authoritative Wall Street Journal (Nov. 12). Thus Roscoe states confidently that Johnson had 'undoubtedly prevented a serious breach between the Administration and business by the way he set about to avert a price rise", whereas the Journal's reporters quote various business executives and business school professors as saying: "This ends the honyemoon", "Never again will he regain the good feeling that existed between him and businessmen at the time of his election", etc.

Roscoe states that "there was no name-calling by the White House, no cold fury. . ."; the Journal reports that LBJ was said to have been "sputtering mad". . .

Our perceptive columnist reports further that "there were no threats of antitrust action. . ." The Journal reports: "Among the threatened assaults (was) a review of antitrust actions against Alcoa and possibly other members of the industry; a review of rates on electrical sales to the industry by Federal government plants . . .; substituting of other material for aluminum whenever possible in defense and Agency for International Development projects. . ."

At least, the liberal pacifist-isolationists and embittered tycoons have the consolation of knowing that they won't be lonely in their disillusionment. There will be other groups.

Storer Disappoints In Marincello Vote

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When Tom Storer was running for supervisor, he convinced many West Marin voters, including myself, that he would do his best to preserve the beauty and character of West Marin and the Coast. Now he has turned about and done just the opposite — and it is a catastrophe for the whole county.

However, the consoling thought about Marincello is that it is so wrong for so many reasons, it cannot possibly stick.

Anti-Viet Factions Ignore Reds' Goals

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The saying, "The only thing that history teaches us is that history teaches us nothing," can be applied to those Americans who shrink from learning the harsh lessons of history furnished by Naziism and Communism. Those misguided idealists are attempting to block United States action in Viet Nam. They are live puppets of Communist propaganda. They refuse to believe that Communism is bent on world domination, even though the Communists have bluntly stated their intention time and again.

The most recent, and one of the bluntest, statements of intention was made recently by Lin Piao, Red China's Vice Premier . . .

Just as Communism in China, says Lin Piao, succeeded by capturing the countryside, and then encircling and defeating the cities, so the global Communist movement will ultimately succeed first by capturing Asia, Africa, and Latin America — thereby encircling North America and Western Europe—and then finally and decisively defeating the United States and its Western allies. . . .

And where is all this to begin, he asks. It has already begun, he replies. And the place in which it has begun is Viet Nam.

Viet Nam, says Lin Piao, is now the "focus" of the revolutionary movement against the United States. . . .

Meanwhile, the leaders in Hanoi continue to make a reasonable settlement impossible. They continue their aggression in the south. They continue to infiltrate . . . to employ the twin pressures of temptation and terrorism. . . .

There could be no clearer justification of why we are standing firm in our resolve to help defend the 14 million people of South Viet Nam against Communist aggression and subversion from the North, misguided idealists to the contrary.

Blood Donors Given Relative's Thanks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A few weeks ago the Independent-Journal published an appeal for blood for Peter Goldstein, who was then in critical condition at Marin General Hospital. On behalf of "Pete" and his family I wish to thank you and your readers for the generous and heartwarming response.

Obviously, all of the blood donated was not used for Peter Goldstein, although it was available for other cases which did not receive the publicity given my brother's case.

The Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, at 506 Fourth Street in San Rafael, has a continuing need for blood donations. The procedure involved is painless, it takes less than one-half hour and offers an opportunity for those of us who are physically able to play a direct role in saving the life of a fellow human being.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A SUSPECTED bank robber was at large in Virginia, and a rural sheriff was stopping all cars for a check-up. One contained an indignant dowager who thundered, "Who are you and how dare you stop me?" The sheriff pulled out his badge to identify himself—and turned purple. The badge was made of tin and labeled "Out of Space Patrol." His seven-year-old son had switched badges.

ONE OF THE more conservatively run airlines decided that a little razzle-dazzle was needed to meet the competition and instituted a policy of two free cocktails to every passenger on several of its flights. The first time the policy was tried out, every seat on the jet was occupied, but the stewardesses, dumbfounded, reported that not a single cocktail had been taken! Everybody felt relieved, however, when it was discovered that the entire passenger list was on its way to an international temperance conclave.

Wallace Remembered As Good Man But An Inept Politician

WASHINGTON (AP) — "He was a good man." That was the epitaph from President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey when they heard that Henry A. Wallace had died at 77.

Long ago Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt praised his integrity, too, but she called him an "inept politician." Between those phrases hung the life and story of an earnest, busy, optimistic and naive man.

He said he was grossly wrong in misreading Russia's intentions after the war.

IN A SPEECH, he denounced this country's stern post-war policy with the Soviets —although Russia had grabbed Eastern Europe as a vast satellite. Because of the denunciation, President Harry S. Truman fired him as secretary of commerce.

Both the New York Times and the Washington Post reported Truman had approved the speech before Wallace delivered it.

Later in his memoirs Truman denied he had ever read the speech. Wallace denied that, saying he had gone over it page by page with Truman.

IN IT Wallace called for an end to segregation in all spheres of American life and suggested the world be divided into two spheres of influence, one dominated by Russia, the other by the West.

In New Deal days reporters called him the worst-dressed man in Washington. For many, he was a nightmare to interview for he could be vague and had a habit of suddenly going silent in the middle of a sentence.

HE DABBLED in astrology, and in middle-age, as vice president, threw boomerangs and liked to wrestle. But his real field, from which he started and to which he returned, was agriculture. He made important contributions to plant genetics and was among the developers of hybrid strains of corn.

He was President Franklin D. Roosevelt's agriculture secretary from 1933 to 1941 and his vice president from 1941 to 1945. But the politicians had no use for him and in 1944 persuaded Roosevelt not to insist on keeping him for another term. They picked Truman, and Wallace became secretary of commerce, but a critic of American foreign policy.

In 1948 he ran for the presidency on the left-wing Progressive party ticket, lost badly and quit the party two years later when the leaders of it wouldn't back him in supporting Truman's stand on Korea.

In 1952, he said the Russians had misled him into believing they "really wanted and needed peace." He said he had finally come to look upon Soviet communism as "utterly evil."

HE MIXED goodness with optimism and as early as 1942 began calling for a new kind of peaceful and prosperous world society after the war. He described this as the century of the common man.

By 1958 he was saying he had "no illusions about the common man" and believed this "century can be one of cruelty and the most extreme violence and suffering."

He made mistakes, but he was expressing his hopes and in the course of it, he pricked the conscience of America and made some people, if only a few, think. And for any man this is a great achievement and contribution.

Cubans In Dominican Revolt To Be Listed

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The Senate internal security subcommittee is preparing to make public a report listing by name several score Cuban-trained Communists who played key roles in the Dominican revolt that was aborted by U.S. armed intervention.

Prepared by the State Department from information provided by the FBI and CIA, the report was given the Senate committee on orders from President Johnson.

An important factor in the President's decision is the criticism being voiced of his Dominican policy by Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., during his current Latin American tour. The younger brother of the late president and one of Kennedy's principal advisers in the Bay of Pigs fiasco has repeatedly expressed disapproval of Johnson's military intervention in the Dominican Republic.

Committee insiders are saying the President is deeply offended by Kennedy's "sniping," particularly in Chile and Peru where the Dominican policy has been under sharp fire.

IN RETALIATION the President directed the State Department to turn over to the internal security subcommittee for publication the report citing the names and details of Cuban and Communist participation in the conspiracy to seize Dominican control.

Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., militant champion of the President's policy, was largely instrumental in persuading him to do this. Dodd, a committee member, has consistently held Communists were vitally involved in the aborted Dominican upheaval.

Roberto Santiesteban Cassanova is cited in the report as the chief Castro agent in this attempt.

Cassanova was a member of the Cuban delegation to the United Nations. In that role he engaged in espionage in this country, was apprehended by the FBI, and deported in 1962.

THE REPORT states flatly that many Cuban-trained Communists are still in the Dominican Republic preparing for another violent revolt.

Castro's General Directorate of Intelligence (DGI) is pinpointed by the report as the "principal agency for promoting revolutionary activities in Latin America."

The report reveals the abortive revolt early this year was not the first attempted by the Castroites in the Dominican Republic.

In 1963 following the Cuban missile crisis, Castro's agents initiated efforts to seize Dominican control. This Communist conspiracy was smashed when the Dominican navy intercepted a large shipment of Cuban arms being transported in a fishing boat.

"UNDER THE DGI's direction," records the report, "a group of about 25 guerrilla trainees sent by the APCJ completed six months of training in Cuba in late 1963. Most of these trainees departed for the Dominican Republic and participated in the abortive pro-Castro guerrilla campaign initiated in late 1963. The DGI mounted a special operation called Flora to support this guerrilla campaign.

"Its purpose was to supply APCJ and the MPD with a ton of weapons and about 300,000 rounds of ammunition. The arms were to be transferred at sea from a Cuban naval launch to a Dominican vessel.

"Dominican naval authorities intercepted the shipment. Most of the materiel was captured and a number of extremists were arrested. Most of them were deported. But beginning in October, 1964, many began re-entering the Dominican Republic clandestinely. At least 45 had returned by late April, 1965. Most of them spent their exile in Cuba receiving additional training in guerrilla warfare techniques."

Gimmicks In Unemployment Code Bring Advice From Teamsters

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—New gimmicks to circumvent the provisions of the unemployment code, adopted by the legislature to tighten up fund drains, have been dreamed up by labor unions, giving much concern to employers and the California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board.

The legislature generously raised top unemployment benefits from $55 to $65 per week. At the same time, it strengthened the termination disqualification by eliminating the five-week waiting period for payment on voluntary quits or discharge for misconduct. Now, the claimant has an indefinite disqualification until he returns to work and earns five times his weekly benefit amount.

THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA Teamsters (Council No. 42), developed a clever method of defeating the purpose of this amendment, and so advised its members by bulletin.

"Since the law applies only to your most recent work, you will not be penalized if you have been laid off from your most recent work even though that most recent work lasted only a few hours," the bulletin says.

"For example, if a claimant last worked for 20 years and was fired for slugging his employer or quit because he did not like the attitude of his employer, he will be disqualified until he has earned five times his weekly benefit.

"But, if the same individual holds off from filing a claim and works half a day as a lumper, or driving a taxi, or picking tomatoes, and is then laid off, he is NOT subject to penalty.

"So if you quit or are fired, play it safe and try to get a temporary job before you go down to file a claim."

THE UNEMPLOYMENT insurance appeals board has been cognizant of this loophole in the law for a long time, and is wondering what to do.

The question is over the technical detail of what is bonafide employment, but the loophole exists for the simple reason bona-fide employment is not described or outlined in the law. Such a description admittedly would be difficult.

Actuaries recommend some tax increases next year to bring the fund back to full strength so curtailment of payments not in accord with the intent of the law appear to be necessary.

EMPLOYERS RECOGNIZED this when they sponsored the new penalty provision, which they hoped in some manner would halt the parade of chiseling.

Viet Nam Actions Held Destructive

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Of late you have written many good editorials. That of Nov. 6 on Viet Nam was so well stated—forthright with no apologies—that we wanted to thank you immediately.

Let's have more of this clear thinking, straight to the point writing. It may help dispel some of the fog created by all the fuzzy heads who abound, particularly around colleges and so-called intellectual circles.

LBJ's Honeymoon With Business Ends

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Those liberal malcontents who last year voted for Johnson's foreign policy only to discover that they got Goldwater's may now move over to make room for the unhappy tycoons of big business who similarly went all the way with LBJ and now find that he disagrees that what is good for Alcoa is good for the U.S.A.

Your occasionally informative columnist Roscoe Drummond apparently let his admiration for Lyndon get the better of his reportorial acumen in his column of Nov. 16. At least his version of the recent showdown on the aluminum price rise does not bear any resemblance to that of the authoritative Wall Street Journal (Nov. 12). Thus Roscoe states confidently that Johnson had 'undoubtedly prevented a serious breach between the Administration and business by the way he set about to avert a price rise", whereas the Journal's reporters quote various business executives and business school professors as saying: "This ends the honyemoon", "Never again will he regain the good feeling that existed between him and businessmen at the time of his election", etc.

Roscoe states that "there was no name-calling by the White House, no cold fury. . .": the Journal reports that LBJ was said to have been "sputtering mad". . . .

Our perceptive columnist reports further that "there were no threats of antitrust action. . ." The Journal reports: "Among the threatened assaults (was) a review of antitrust actions against Alcoa and possibly other members of the industry; a review of rates on electrical sales to the industry by Federal government plants . . .; substituting of other material for aluminum whenever possible in defense and Agency for International Development projects. . ."

At least, the liberal pacifist-isolationists and embittered tycoons have the consolation of knowing that they won't be lonely in their disillusionment. There will be other groups.

Storer Disappoints In Marincello Vote

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When Tom Storer was running for supervisor, he convinced many West Marin voters, including myself, that he would do his best to preserve the beauty and character of West Marin and the Coast. Now he has turned about and done just the opposite — and it is a catastrophe for the whole county.

However, the consoling thought about Marincello is that it is so wrong for so many reasons, it cannot possibly stick.

Anti-Viet Factions Ignore Reds' Goals

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The saying, "The only thing that history teaches us is that history teaches us nothing," can be applied to those Americans who shrink from learning the harsh lessons of history furnished by Naziism and Communism. Those misguided idealists are attempting to block United States action in Viet Nam. They are live puppets of Communist propaganda. They refuse to believe that Communism is bent on world domination, even though the Communists have bluntly stated their intention time and again.

The most recent, and one of the bluntest, statements of intention was made recently by Lin Piao, Red China's Vice Premier . . .

Just as Communism in China, says Lin Piao, succeeded by capturing the countryside, and then encircling and defeating the cities, so the global Communist movement will ultimately succeed first by capturing Asia, Africa, and Latin America — thereby encircling North America and Western Europe—and then finally and decisively defeating the United States and its Western allies. . . .

And where is all this to begin, he asks. It has already begun, he replies. And the place in which it has begun is Viet Nam.

Viet Nam, says Lin Piao, is now the "focus" of the revolutionary movement against the United States. . . .

Meanwhile, the leaders in Hanoi continue to make a reasonable settlement impossible. They continue their aggression in the south. They continue to infiltrate . . . to employ the twin pressures of temptation and terrorism. . . .

There could be no clearer justification of why we are standing firm in our resolve to help defend the 14 million people of South Viet Nam against Communist aggression and subversion from the North, misguided idealists to the contrary.

Blood Donors Given Relative's Thanks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A few weeks ago the Independent-Journal published an appeal for blood for Peter Goldstein, who was then in critical condition at Marin General Hospital. On behalf of "Pete" and his family I wish to thank you and your readers for the generous and heartwarming response.

Obviously, all of the blood donated was not used for Peter Goldstein, although it was available for other cases which did not receive the publicity given my brother's case.

The Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, at 506 Fourth Street in San Rafael, has a continuing need for blood donations. The procedure involved is painless, it takes less than one-half hour and offers an opportunity for those of us who are physically able to play a direct role in saving the life of a fellow human being.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A SUSPECTED bank robber was at large in Virginia, and a rural sheriff was stopping all cars for a check-up. One contained an indignant dowager who thundered, "Who are you and how dare you stop me?" The sheriff pulled out his badge to identify himself—and turned purple. The badge was made of tin and labeled "Out of Space Patrol." His seven-year-old son had switched badges.

ONE OF THE more conservatively run airlines decided that a little razzle-dazzle was needed to meet the competition and instituted a policy of two free cocktails to every passenger on several of its flights. The first time the policy was tried out, every seat on the jet was occupied, but the stewardesses, dumbfounded, reported that not a single cocktail had been taken! Everybody felt relieved, however, when it was discovered that the entire passenger list was on its way to an international temperance conclave.

Wallace Remembered As Good Man But An Inept Politician

WASHINGTON (AP) — "He was a good man." That was the epitaph from President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey when they heard that Henry A. Wallace had died at 77.

Long ago Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt praised his integrity, too, but she called him an "inept politician." Between those phrases hung the life and story of an earnest, busy, optimistic and naive man.

He said he was grossly wrong in misreading Russia's intentions after the war.

IN A SPEECH, he denounced this country's stern post-war policy with the Soviets —although Russia had grabbed Eastern Europe as a vast satellite. Because of the denunciation, President Harry S. Truman fired him as secretary of commerce.

Both the New York Times and the Washington Post reported Truman had approved the speech before Wallace delivered it.

Later in his memoirs Truman denied he had ever read the speech. Wallace denied that, saying he had gone over it page by page with Truman.

IN IT Wallace called for an end to segregation in all spheres of American life and suggested the world be divided into two spheres of influence, one dominated by Russia, the other by the West.

In New Deal days reporters called him the worst-dressed man in Washington. For many, he was a nightmare to interview for he could be vague and had a habit of suddenly going silent in the middle of a sentence.

HE DABBLED in astrology, and in middle-age, as vice president, threw boomerangs and liked to wrestle. But his real field, from which he started and to which he returned, was agriculture. He made important contributions to plant genetics and was among the developers of hybrid strains of corn.

He was President Franklin D. Roosevelt's agriculture secretary from 1933 to 1941 and his vice president from 1941 to 1945. But the politicians had no use for him and in 1944 persuaded Roosevelt not to insist on keeping him for another term. They picked Truman, and Wallace became secretary of commerce, but a critic of American foreign policy.

In 1948 he ran for the presidency on the left-wing Progressive party ticket, lost badly and quit the party two years later when the leaders of it wouldn't back him in supporting Truman's stand on Korea.

In 1952, he said the Russians had misled him into believing they "really wanted and needed peace." He said he had finally come to look upon Soviet communism as "utterly evil."

HE MIXED goodness with optimism and as early as 1942 began calling for a new kind of peaceful and prosperous world society after the war. He described this as the century of the common man.

By 1958 he was saying he had "no illusions about the common man" and believed this "century can be one of cruelty and the most extreme violence and suffering."

He made mistakes, but he was expressing his hopes and in the course of it, he pricked the conscience of America and made some people, if only a few, think. And for any man this is a great achievement and contribution.

Cubans In Dominican Revolt To Be Listed

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The Senate internal security subcommittee is preparing to make public a report listing by name several score Cuban-trained Communists who played key roles in the Dominican revolt that was aborted by U.S. armed intervention.

Prepared by the State Department from information provided by the FBI and CIA, the report was given the Senate committee on orders from President Johnson.

An important factor in the President's decision is the criticism being voiced of his Dominican policy by Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., during his current Latin American tour. The younger brother of the late president and one of Kennedy's principal advisers in the Bay of Pigs fiasco has repeatedly expressed disapproval of Johnson's military intervention in the Dominican Republic.

Committee insiders are saying the President is deeply offended by Kennedy's "sniping," particularly in Chile and Peru where the Dominican policy has been under sharp fire.

IN RETALIATION the President directed the State Department to turn over to the internal security subcommittee for publication the report citing the names and details of Cuban and Communist participation in the conspiracy to seize Dominican control.

Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., militant champion of the President's policy, was largely instrumental in persuading him to do this. Dodd, a committee member, has consistently held Communists were vitally involved in the aborted Dominican upheaval.

Roberto Santiesteban Cassanova is cited in the report as the chief Castro agent in this attempt.

Cassanova was a member of the Cuban delegation to the United Nations. In that role he engaged in espionage in this country, was apprehended by the FBI, and deported in 1962.

THE REPORT states flatly that many Cuban-trained Communists are still in the Dominican Republic preparing for another violent revolt.

Castro's General Directorate of Intelligence (DGI) is pinpointed by the report as the "principal agency for promoting revolutionary activities in Latin America."

The report reveals the abortive revolt early this year was not the first attempted by the Castroites in the Dominican Republic.

In 1963 following the Cuban missile crisis, Castro's agents initiated efforts to seize Dominican control. This Communist conspiracy was smashed when the Dominican navy intercepted a large shipment of Cuban arms being transported in a fishing boat.

"UNDER THE DGI's direction," records the report, "a group of about 25 guerrilla trainees sent by the APCJ completed six months of training in Cuba in late 1963. Most of these trainees departed for the Dominican Republic and participated in the abortive pro-Castro guerrilla campaign initiated in late 1963. The DGI mounted a special operation called Flora to support this guerrilla campaign.

"Its purpose was to supply APCJ and the MPD with a ton of weapons and about 300,000 rounds of ammunition. The arms were to be transferred at sea from a Cuban naval launch to a Dominican vessel.

"Dominican naval authorities intercepted the shipment. Most of the materiel was captured and a number of extremists were arrested. Most of them were deported. But beginning in October, 1964, many began re-entering the Dominican Republic clandestinely. At least 45 had returned by late April, 1965. Most of them spent their exile in Cuba receiving additional training in guerrilla warfare techniques."

Stuffed Bear Leaves New York Fair To Reside In Novato Home

Novato's longest visitor to the New York World's Fair is back home.

Most people felt lucky to spend two days or two weeks at the fair, but he spent more than two years. In fact, he went there two years ago last April.

ALTHOUGH HE SPENT the entire time in one exhibit, he did not complain, because he couldn't.

We're refering to Maj. Gen. C. F. Necrason's giant mounted polar bear which he shot in Alaska in 1959. Although the bear, when shot, was 11 feet four inches, and the estimated weight was 1,700 pounds, he was shrunk down to ten and a half feet tall in the mounting process.

THE BEAR STOOD in the headquarters building in the Alaskan Command when General Necrason was there, and in the headquarters building at Hamilton Air Force Base.

When the State of Alaska was assemblying its exhibit for the fair, Sen. Ernest Gruening of Alaska asked General Necrason to borrow the bear for their exhibit. So it was sent from Hamilton to the fair where it has been since.

The bear, when it gets the marks of his visit dry cleaned from his fur, will be installed in the Necrason's family room at 25 Old Ranch Road in Novato. It will not present any problem, because the Necrason's house was designed with such a room in mind. The family room has an 18 foot ceiling.

WITH THE EVENINGS now long and cool, many families will be using their fireplaces. There is nothing cozier than sitting around watching the flames curl upward and feel the glow of the fire on one's cheeks.

But fires make ashes and ashes must be disposed of. They make good fertilizer for gardens, so some people save them.

Ridiculous as it seems, some people take the ashes out of a fireplace in a cardboard box and set them in the garage.

"Almost every year, we have one or two fires which are caused by someone setting ashes in a cardboard box in a garage," Fire Chief George Cavallero said.

HE EXPLAINED that some wood, such as oak, has very hot coals which when surrounded by ashes, can stay hot for several days. When placed in a cardboard box, these coals, even though they are thought to be dead, can still ignite a fire.

Along the same lines, the Novato Fire Department warns housewives to be sure that their ovens do not have an accumulation of grease from broiling before using them for the Thanksgiving turkey.

MARIN COUNTY drew the largest crowd on Veterans Day of any of the observances in the Bay Area. By actual count, more than 30,000 visitors went through the gates at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The main attraction of course, was the Air Force crack team of flyers, the Thunder Birds. Their aerial acrobatics not only were seen by the huge crowd at Hamilton but uncounted others in the area.

Highway 101 was jammed north and south of Hamilton during the performance. These were not only the cars that could not get into the base on time, but by those driving through that pulled off to the side of the road to watch the performance.

That night, the famous team members were guests of the Novato branch of the Air Force Assn. They turned out to be not only expert fliers, but also personable young men, dedicated to their team and the Air Force.

Voter Drive Is Scheduled

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A nonpartisan committee will launch a program aimed at registering Californians so they can vote, Gov. Brown says.

Brown, in a Sunday announcement, said the Voter Registration Committee will aim the brunt of its campaign at 3.7 million adult residents who haven't registered.

Brown said in a statement:

"In 1960, some 6.6 million or 72 per cent of the 9.1 million adult Californians eligible to vote were registered. Today the registration is 7.2 million, or only 66.2 per cent of the total potential registration.

"Our democratic process is dependent on the ballot box . . ."

E. Hornsby Wasson, president of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., will be chairman of the committee, Brown said.

Some People Feel Very Superior For Taking A Vacation In Winter

NEW YORK (AP)—Taking a winter vacation has become a form of social upmanship. The fellow who goes on one feels vastly superior to the rest of us paycheck prisoners who, because of family reasons, can only get away during the mobbed months of June, July and August.

But going on a vacation during the cold months isn't necessarily a sign of wealth. Many people live on bean soup so they can afford to splurge on one.

No man ever took a winter vacation and kept it quiet.

WEEKS BEFORE the event he tours the office showing glamorous travel folders. He actually is trying to make everyone else envious, but he pretends to be seeking advice.

"Where do you think I should go?" he asks.

You have a definite idea, but you're too polite to make the suggestion.

Those who go to snowy places suffer from a lifelong trauma as a result of having seen the film "Nanook of the North" during their childhood. They trudge out of the office wearing heavy boots and carrying a pair of rented skis across their shoulders.

A WEEK OR TWO later they return on crutches with a foot swathed in bandages and their eyes hidden behind a pair of dark, dark sunglasses.

"Broke my ankle doing a slalom down the most dangerous slope," a typical victim explains. "The ski surgeon says it's the worst break he's seen in 30 years."

You give a few sympathetic clucks, and then make the mistake of inquiring, "Why the sunglasses?" That gives him just the opening he has been looking for.

"JUST A TOUCH of snow blindness," he remarks with casual heroism. "I had to lie there untended all day before they found me. Then it took four men all that night and the next day to carry me down the mountain during a raging blizzard."

Actually, you know in your heart that the liar probably never even got out in the snow, and probably broke his ankle and got a black eye falling off a bar stool back in the ski lodge. But how can you prove it?

JUST AS WEARING to listen to are the adventures of one who cruised to sunny climes.

"What do you think of my tan?" is his beginning line.

"Great," you reply. "You look brown as a nut."

That doesn't stop him. He tells you how he ate at the captain's table every night, how he calmed the other passengers as the ship wallowed through the howlingest storm ever known at sea, how during a stop at the Island of Yama Yama he became the first white man ever to attend a native voodoo rite.

Long after the first robin of spring has come, he is still babbling to you about all the fun he had while you were busy in the office doing his job as well as your own.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

The "Thoroughfare II," believed to be the first ferry ever to take autos from San Francisco to Oakland, was scheduled to be destroyed by fire at its birth at McNear's Point. The boat, built in 1912, served the Bay Area until 1935.

John H. Van Wagoner, newly appointed field scout executive for Marin Council, Boy Scouts of America, reported for duty, bringing his family with him from Salt Lake City, Utah.

Trustees of Tamalpais High School District instructed engineer Harold M. Engle to proceed with plans and drawings for the district's third high school, to be located in Larkspur.

William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District, denied that the district was considering purchase of water from the proposed Coyote Creek reservoir on Russian River.

20 YEARS AGO

The Marin County Veterans Employment Council charged that the Postwar Planning Committee failed to provide jobs for returning servicemen and displaced war workers.

Marin County Supervisors proposed to use a Corte Madera site for the county fair grounds, but wanted to cut the size of the proposed 232-acre site.

San Anselmo residents and representatives of various civic organizations favored construction of a public swimming pool at a town hall session with city councilmen.

It's A Consolation To Realize That Champions May Also Err

When today's hand was played last September in the match between Sweden and Germany, both declarers made the same simple mistake.

It's a consolation to all of us to know that even national champions can make simple mistakes when they're competing in an international championships.

At both tables the contract was two spades, and West led the five of hearts.

In both cases declarer won in dummy with hte king of hearts, dropping East's singleton jack.

This revealed the entire heart situation very clearly to both declarers.

IDENTICAL ERRORS

Both of them made the mistake of leading a trump to the ace and another trump right back.

East naturally took all of his trumps and then got out with a club.

Now South could lead the ten of hearts for a finesse (after getting to his hand by ruffing a diamond), but he still had to lose a heart trick.

This heart trick, added to the three sure losers in trumps and the two sure losers in clubs, was one trick more than he could afford.

LEAVE TRUMPS ALONE

South can make the hand if he leaves the trumps alone.

He needs a trump in dummy to take care of his own fourth heart, and he must avoid allowing an opponent to take the trumps out of dummy.

After winning the first trick with the king of hearts, declarer cashes the ace of diamonds and ruffs a diamond.

Then he leads the ten of hearts for a finesse. East ruffs and returns the king of trumps.

South wins with the ace of trumps and leads a heart to dummy's ace. East can ruff and can draw a second round of trumps, but that still leaves one trump in the dummy.

Declarer can eventually ruff his last heart with dummy's last trump to make sure of the contract.

ANSWER: Bid three hearts. Since you have 9 points in high cards you know that the combined count is 25 to 27 points. You want to play for game in hearts if partner has three or more hearts.

Otherwise you will make up your mind whether to let him play three notrump or try for game in diamonds.

Mother General Stops On Tour

By BETTY FROST

After a brief visit at St. Hilary's Convent and School in Tiburon, Mother Mary Bernadette, mother general of the Sisters of the Holy Faith, leaves today for New Zealand.

Elected to her high office at a meeting of delegates of the order held at the mother house in Dublin last February, Mother Mary Bernadette is making her first tour of the various Holy Faith facilities outside of Ireland. California is the only state in this country where the Sisters of the Holy Faith order maintains schools. The Reverend Mother came to Tiburon after visiting their three grammar the Los Angeles area and the Holy Spirit convent and school in Fairfield.

Her eight-month-long journey will take her to New Zealand, Australia, and Trinidad, West Indies. She expects to be in Aukland for the completion of a new school in February. She is accompanied in her travels by Sister Mary Antonia, who will remain in New Zealand as a teacher at the new school.

Plans by St. Hilary's Parents Group to honor Mother Mary Bernadette at a reception last week were cancelled when the visitor became ill and had to remain at Fairfield several extra days. Now recovered from the virus, she had to make some changes in her original schedule, and hopes to meet the people of St. Hilary's parish when she stops off in the Bay Area on her return from New Zealand in late February.

THE PURPOSE of her trip is to visit the Sisters and to see the 14 schools maintained by the order outside of Ireland. "The Sisters like a visitor from home," she said in her soft Irish speech. All the Sisters, at St. Hilary's School as well as other schools maintained by the order, are from Ireland. Sister Mary Athanasius, principal of St. Hilary's School, had been a delegate to the meeting at the mother house in Dublin last spring when Mother Mary Bernadette was elected mother general for a six-year term of office.

Asked if she had noted any increase in ecumenical activities during her tour, the reverend mother said, "Yes. I see a new breadth of outlook, and the sharing of our privileges." She spoke of a program she had seen where theology students of various denominations were attending some of the same classes.

Before her election as mother general, she had served on the Council General of her order. Mother Mary Bernadette has been in education during her religious life, and has been mistress of schools and superior in high schools in Ireland. She smilingly recalls her years of teaching as very happy ones. English, Latin and French were the subjects which she taught. She is a graduate of University College in Dublin.

The Sisters of the Holy Faith are an Irish order founded in their primary work, they engaged in social work and in the care of destitute children.

WHEN MOTHER Mary Bernadette, mother general of the Sisters of the Holy Faith, visited St. Hilary's School in Tiburon, she was warmly welcomed by first graders John Gardner, Gina Jansheski, Claudio Pera and Brita Dorst. The Reverend Mother is on an eight-month tour of the order's schools and facilities throughout the world.

Thanksgiving Plans For Marin Families

By MOLLY MARIN

A large family gathering on Thanksgiving will be the one at the new home in Petaluma of the Harold Bradens, who formerly lived in Mill Valley. Attending will be the James Betts of Mill Valley, James Betts Jr. and their two children and the Leonard Blakelys of Sausalito, the Robert Joys of San Rafael and Dyor Crisps of Tamalpais Valley.

DR. AND MRS. Frank E. Rossman of Sausalito will have as their guests for Thanksgiving dinner their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Rossman of Mill Valley, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Kerr of Sausalito and Dennis Menesini of Reno.

JOINING THE John Alexanders of Sausalito for Thanksgiving dinner will be Mrs. Alexander's cousin, Jerome Downs of Mill Valley, and his wife and two children, Andrew and Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Phillips of Sausalito and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith of San Francisco, their daughter, Mrs. Marjory Ryan, and her son, Richard.

MRS. VALBORG Gravander, Mill Valley weaver, is leaving today by plane to spend Thanksgiving with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Fields, in Ashtabula, Ohio. She will be reunited with her three sisters, Mrs. Ancy Anderson and Mrs. Gunhild Kjall, both of Sweden, and Mrs. Sara Anliot of Cleveland. Mrs. Gravander's two sisters from Sweden are visiting Mrs. Anliot. Mrs. Gravander, well known as "Mama Gravander," said she will be away 10 days but will be home in time for her traditional Santa Lucia Festival at Christmas time.

THANKSGIVING AT THE home of Mrs. S. C. Stapp in Sausalito will be the first one in this country in 10 years for her daughter-in-law, Olivia. She had been an opera singer in Europe until she married Dr. Henry Stapp. They returned to this country in August and are now living in Berkeley. Joining them for dinner will be the William Clearys of Sausalito and their son, Lionel.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph H. Millard onf San Rafael and their daughter, Mrs. Elmer Lindsey of Loma Verde, have just returned from the second annual Makahiki Festival Cruise to Hawaii. They sailed on the S.S. Lurline from San Francisco making port calls at Los Angeles, Honolulu, Kauai, Maui and Hilo on the island of Hawaii.

HOME FOR Thanksgiving are the Victor Wollmans of Sausalito, who have been spending the last three months driving 12,000 miles across the United States. They were especially interested in historical points of interest, such as Williamsburg, Va., and the Henry Francis du Pont Winterthur Museum near Wilmington, Del.

THE HOME OF the Donald Smiths of Mill Valley will be the gathering place for 17 relatives Thursday, including children ranging from college age to just-born Tracy, daughter of the Albert Weitzes of Novato. Also present will be the Robert Byards Jr. of Mill Valley, Robert Byards III of Tiburon and Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Alfred Smith of Davis.

Christmas Dinner Dance Scheduled By Marin Board

The Christmas dinner dance of the Marin County Real Estate Board will be held at the Meadow Club on Dec. 4.

Cocktails will be served beginning at 7 p.m. with the dinner scheduled for 8 p.m. and dancing at 9 o'clock, the committee has announced.

Marin Women

Delinquency And Narcotics Terra Linda P-TA Program

Facing the problems of teenage delinquency and narcotics in Marin County will be the subject of a meeting to be held on Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m., in the Terra Linda High School cafeteria.

A student panel will delve into various aspects of juvenile delinquency and entertain questions from the audience. Panel members are Molly Gallagher, chairman; Kathie Epidendio, Shelley Cochran, Liz Pierce and Frank Garretson, who are students in a public speaking class at Terra Linda High, under the direction of Mrs. Lenn Tuck.

Following the panel discussion, question about narcotics will be answered by an inspector of the San Rafael Police Department, as they show an eye-opening, no-holds-barred film on narcotics, entitled "Decision." This presentation will deal with such concerns as: Is marijuana really something to get excited about? How could my own youngster possibly be tempted into becoming a dope addict? Are there pushers of narcotics in San Rafael High Schools? What are the danger signals to watch for in my own home? Ample time will be allotted for questions from the audience and for viewing an interesting display of marijuana and dangerous pills found in many of our home bathrooms.

The meeting is open to the public and all interested parents and students are urged to attend. The meeting is sponsored by the Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Assn.

Our Women— Too Extreme

CHICAGO (UPI) — American women go to extremes in fashion, either by being overdressed or being too casual, says Viviane Greymour, fashion editor of the French newspaper "Le Figaro."

Mrs. Greymour, who was on a tour of major American cities, said women in New York, Chicago and other cities "are either overdressed in furs, hair styles and makeup or sloppy in slacks, blouses and hair curlers."

"In America the children are beautiful and well dressed, and even the dogs are well-combed and clean," she said. "American homes are out of this world and the color schemes are beautiful. How can a woman have good taste in what she puts into her home and not for clothes?" she asked.

Mrs. Greymour said the secret of being well dressed was simplicity, but that simplicity did not mean plainness.

"By simplicity I mean a simple cut in a dress, without lots of bows, buttons and decorations," she said.

A good dress "should pull out all the personality of a woman," she said. "That is why a basic black dress can be good or it can be awful. It can be very chic or make you look like 500 other women."

Cards On Display

The UNICEF greeting cards for the holiday season will be on display at the Town and Country Village in Strawberry this weekend.

Hair Styles Make Neck Care Must

NEW YORK (UPI) — With two revealing hair styles in vogue, your neck needs special care, beauty experts say. The styles: hair piled on top of the head or very short.

To keep the skin on the back of your neck as velvety soft as a baby's, the experts recommend baby cream. It rubs in, will not stain and has staying power. Other tips for a pretty back of the neck: hold your head high and straight, add a strand of pearls, a dab of perfume.

SEEING THE SOVIET

Moscow Circus Artists Flamboyant—

One of a series of articles on a just-completed tour through Russia and India.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Russian people have long been used to "queuing up" and lines extend in front of every theater and food store each Moscow evening throughout this city of six million. Despite a strong official emphasis on education, old and young alike stand in subfreezing air for both bread and circuses, which the Westerner finds very high quality, incidentally.

THE CIRCUS BEGINS at a popular Soviet theater hour—6:30—and concludes in time for an early goodnight for the school children and their teenaged brothers and sisters, but the audience is largely composed of adults who have a great enjoyment and appreciation for these finest acrobats, high-wire acts and growling big cats, as well as one of the best mimes to be seen, Oleg Popov, the clown. The Moscow State Circus is thoroughly exciting with its small, intimate ring putting the audience extremely close to lions leaping through flaming hoops, high wire and trapeeze artists flying overhead and the hurling and leaping tumblers. And again and again the Russians virtually eat up the daring and flamboyance, and reward their circus artists with measured applause that is highest approval.

AS FOR THE BREAD, it forms a central part of the Russian diet year around, first with an appetizer, then with the soup and again with any fish, beef, potatoes, peas and carrots, beets or cabbage that may be served. Caviar always goes on bread—the rich black or thick white slices, whether for a feast with Crimean champagne and fresh caviar or simple meal of cabbage soup and tea. To say that Russian diet consists mainly of bread, potatoes and cabbage is to over simplify, but not much.

Still, the goblets with their sparkling fruit waters, mineral waters or champagne, white tablecloths and high-ceilinged ornateness of the usual city hotels glorify the limited menu for the traveler, and smoked sturgeon, pirouzhki, blintzes and ever-present vanilla ice cream topped with jam in silver dessert dishes are particular treats, not to mention special bunches of grapes from the Georgian Republic which may center the table.

SERVICE, THOUGH sometimes lackadaisical, is sufficient if the usual courses are ordered, and of course the first thing set on the table, breakfast, dinner and supper, is a plateful of fresh bread.

Mother General Stops On Tour

By BETTY FROST

After a brief visit at St. Hilary's Convent and School in Tiburon, Mother Mary Bernadette, mother general of the Sisters of the Holy Faith, leaves today for New Zealand.

Elected to her high office at a meeting of delegates of the order held at the mother house in Dublin last February, Mother Mary Bernadette is making her first tour of the various Holy Faith facilities outside of Ireland. California is the only state in this country where the Sisters of the Holy Faith order maintains schools. The Reverend Mother came to Tiburon after visiting their three grammar the Los Angeles area and the Holy Spirit convent and school in Fairfield.

Her eight-month-long journey will take her to New Zealand, Australia, and Trinidad, West Indies. She expects to be in Aukland for the completion of a new school in February. She is accompanied in her travels by Sister Mary Antonia, who will remain in New Zealand as a teacher at the new school.

Plans by St. Hilary's Parents Group to honor Mother Mary Bernadette at a reception last week were cancelled when the visitor became ill and had to remain at Fairfield several extra days. Now recovered from the virus, she had to make some changes in her original schedule, and hopes to meet the people of St. Hilary's parish when she stops off in the Bay Area on her return from New Zealand in late February.

THE PURPOSE of her trip is to visit the Sisters and to see the 14 schools maintained by the order outside of Ireland. "The Sisters like a visitor from home," she said in her soft Irish speech. All the Sisters, at St. Hilary's School as well as other schools maintained by the order, are from Ireland. Sister Mary Athanasius, principal of St. Hilary's School, had been a delegate to the meeting at the mother house in Dublin last spring when Mother Mary Bernadette was elected mother general for a six-year term of office.

Asked if she had noted any increase in ecumenical activities during her tour, the reverend mother said, "Yes. I see a new breadth of outlook, and the sharing of our privileges." She spoke of a program she had seen where theology students of various denominations were attending some of the same classes.

Before her election as mother general, she had served on the Council General of her order. Mother Mary Bernadette has been in education during her religious life, and has been mistress of schools and superior in high schools in Ireland. She smilingly recalls her years of teaching as very happy ones. English, Latin and French were the subjects which she taught. She is a graduate of University College in Dublin.

The Sisters of the Holy Faith are an Irish order founded in their primary work, they engaged in social work and in the care of destitute children.

WHEN MOTHER Mary Bernadette, mother general of the Sisters of the Holy Faith, visited St. Hilary's School in Tiburon, she was warmly welcomed by first graders John Gardner, Gina Jansheski, Claudio Pera and Brita Dorst. The Reverend Mother is on an eight-month tour of the order's schools and facilities throughout the world.

Thanksgiving Plans For Marin Families

By MOLLY MARIN

A large family gathering on Thanksgiving will be the one at the new home in Petaluma of the Harold Bradens, who formerly lived in Mill Valley. Attending will be the James Betts of Mill Valley, James Betts Jr. and their two children and the Leonard Blakelys of Sausalito, the Robert Joys of San Rafael and Dyor Crisps of Tamalpais Valley.

DR. AND MRS. Frank E. Rossman of Sausalito will have as their guests for Thanksgiving dinner their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Rossman of Mill Valley, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Kerr of Sausalito and Dennis Menesini of Reno.

JOINING THE John Alexanders of Sausalito for Thanksgiving dinner will be Mrs. Alexander's cousin, Jerome Downs of Mill Valley, and his wife and two children, Andrew and Joan. Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Phillips of Sausalito and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith of San Francisco, their daughter, Mrs. Marjory Ryan, and her son, Richard.

MRS. VALBORG Gravander, Mill Valley weaver, is leaving today by plane to spend Thanksgiving with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Fields, in Ashtabula, Ohio. She will be reunited with her three sisters, Mrs. Ancy Anderson and Mrs. Gunhild Kjall, both of Sweden, and Mrs. Sara Anliot of Cleveland. Mrs. Gravander's two sisters from Sweden are visiting Mrs. Anliot. Mrs. Gravander, well known as "Mama Gravander," said she will be away 10 days but will be home in time for her traditional Santa Lucia Festival at Christmas time.

THANKSGIVING AT THE home of Mrs. S. C. Stapp in Sausalito will be the first one in this country in 10 years for her daughter-in-law, Olivia. She had been an opera singer in Europe until she married Dr. Henry Stapp. They returned to this country in August and are now living in Berkeley. Joining them for dinner will be the William Clearys of Sausalito and their son, Lionel.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph H. Millard onf San Rafael and their daughter, Mrs. Elmer Lindsey of Loma Verde, have just returned from the second annual Makahiki Festival Cruise to Hawaii. They sailed on the S.S. Lurline from San Francisco making port calls at Los Angeles, Honolulu, Kauai, Maui and Hilo on the island of Hawaii.

HOME FOR Thanksgiving are the Victor Wollmans of Sausalito, who have been spending the last three months driving 12,000 miles across the United States. They were especially interested in historical points of interest, such as Williamsburg, Va., and the Henry Francis du Pont Winterthur Museum near Wilmington, Del.

THE HOME OF the Donald Smiths of Mill Valley will be the gathering place for 17 relatives Thursday, including children ranging from college age to just-born Tracy, daughter of the Albert Weitzes of Novato. Also present will be the Robert Byards Jr. of Mill Valley, Robert Byards III of Tiburon and Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Alfred Smith of Davis.

Marin Women

Delinquency And Narcotics Terra Linda P-TA Program

Facing the problems of teenage delinquency and narcotics in Marin County will be the subject of a meeting to be held on Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m., in the Terra Linda High School cafeteria.

A student panel will delve into various aspects of juvenile delinquency and entertain questions from the audience. Panel members are Molly Gallagher, chairman; Kathie Epidendio, Shelley Cochran, Liz Pierce and Frank Garretson, who are students in a public speaking class at Terra Linda High, under the direction of Mrs. Lenn Tuck.

Following the panel discussion, question about narcotics will be answered by an inspector of the San Rafael Police Department, as they show an eye-opening, no-holds-barred film on narcotics, entitled "Decision." This presentation will deal with such concerns as: Is marijuana really something to get excited about? How could my own youngster possibly be tempted into becoming a dope addict? Are there pushers of narcotics in San Rafael High Schools? What are the danger signals to watch for in my own home? Ample time will be allotted for questions from the audience and for viewing an interesting display of marijuana and dangerous pills found in many of our home bathrooms.

The meeting is open to the public and all interested parents and students are urged to attend. The meeting is sponsored by the Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Assn.

Our Women— Too Extreme

CHICAGO (UPI) — American women go to extremes in fashion, either by being overdressed or being too casual, says Viviane Greymour, fashion editor of the French newspaper "Le Figaro."

Mrs. Greymour, who was on a tour of major American cities, said women in New York, Chicago and other cities "are either overdressed in furs, hair styles and makeup or sloppy in slacks, blouses and hair curlers."

"In America the children are beautiful and well dressed, and even the dogs are well-combed and clean," she said. "American homes are out of this world and the color schemes are beautiful. How can a woman have good taste in what she puts into her home and not for clothes?" she asked.

Mrs. Greymour said the secret of being well dressed was simplicity, but that simplicity did not mean plainness.

"By simplicity I mean a simple cut in a dress, without lots of bows, buttons and decorations," she said.

A good dress "should pull out all the personality of a woman," she said. "That is why a basic black dress can be good or it can be awful. It can be very chic or make you look like 500 other women."

Hair Styles Make Neck Care Must

NEW YORK (UPI) — With two revealing hair styles in vogue, your neck needs special care, beauty experts say. The styles: hair piled on top of the head or very short.

To keep the skin on the back of your neck as velvety soft as a baby's, the experts recommend baby cream. It rubs in, will not stain and has staying power. Other tips for a pretty back of the neck: hold your head high and straight, add a strand of pearls, a dab of perfume.

Christmas Dinner Dance Scheduled By Marin Board

The Christmas dinner dance of the Marin County Real Estate Board will be held at the Meadow Club on Dec. 4.

Cocktails will be served beginning at 7 p.m. with the dinner scheduled for 8 p.m. and dancing at 9 o'clock, the committee has announced.

Cards On Display

The UNICEF greeting cards for the holiday season will be on display at the Town and Country Village in Strawberry this weekend.

SEEING THE SOVIET

Moscow Circus Artists Flamboyant—

One of a series of articles on a just-completed tour through Russia and India.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Russian people have long been used to "queuing up" and lines extend in front of every theater and food store each Moscow evening throughout this city of six million. Despite a strong official emphasis on education, old and young alike stand in subfreezing air for both bread and circuses, which the Westerner finds very high quality, incidentally.

THE CIRCUS BEGINS at a popular Soviet theater hour—6:30—and concludes in time for an early goodnight for the school children and their teenaged brothers and sisters, but the audience is largely composed of adults who have a great enjoyment and appreciation for these finest acrobats, high-wire acts and growling big cats, as well as one of the best mimes to be seen, Oleg Popov, the clown. The Moscow State Circus is thoroughly exciting with its small, intimate ring putting the audience extremely close to lions leaping through flaming hoops, high wire and trapeeze artists flying overhead and the hurling and leaping tumblers. And again and again the Russians virtually eat up the daring and flamboyance, and reward their circus artists with measured applause that is highest approval.

AS FOR THE BREAD, it forms a central part of the Russian diet year around, first with an appetizer, then with the soup and again with any fish, beef, potatoes, peas and carrots, beets or cabbage that may be served. Caviar always goes on bread—the rich black or thick white slices, whether for a feast with Crimean champagne and fresh caviar or simple meal of cabbage soup and tea. To say that Russian diet consists mainly of bread, potatoes and cabbage is to over simplify, but not much.

Still, the goblets with their sparkling fruit waters, mineral waters or champagne, white tablecloths and high-ceilinged ornateness of the usual city hotels glorify the limited menu for the traveler, and smoked sturgeon, pirouzhki, blintzes and ever-present vanilla ice cream topped with jam in silver dessert dishes are particular treats, not to mention special bunches of grapes from the Georgian Republic which may center the table.

SERVICE, THOUGH sometimes lackadaisical, is sufficient if the usual courses are ordered, and of course the first thing set on the table, breakfast, dinner and supper, is a plateful of fresh bread.

GLOW OF BOULEVARD VELVET

The quiet lines of this sleeveless, V-neck theater suit, left, by Roban are dramatized by the rich-textured glow of boulevard velvet. Side-buttoned jacket is ornamented with a pair of chunky, gleaming buttons. It's a suit that will always give a starring performance, because it has been made crush-and-spot resistant via the scientific Syl-mer finish. The disco dancing craze goes merrily on and on, and with it grows the demand for the short formal dress. This young and charming dress in radiant boulevard velvet, right, by Party Formals is cued in for dancing with its belling skirt of open pleats and its smooth-fitting bodice that scoops low in back. Satin belt floats long streamers that add to the graceful in-motion line.

Unexplored Panama Awaits Adventurers

By MURRAY J. BROWN

One of the last vast unexplored jungles in the world awaits adventurers and sportsmen in Panama, only a few hours' flying time from the United States.

This is the same Darien from which Balboa first sighted the Pacific in 1513. In the ensuing centuries, the mighty ocean has been mapped by thousands of trade routes.

BUT THE JUNGLE remains virtually unconquered. Stretching thousands of square miles over largely unchartered terrain, the Darien jungle covers most of the isthmus from the canal to the Colombian border.

It teems with large and small game. Its Pacific waters are famed for big-game sports fishing. Its coast is dotted with hundreds of small islands inhabited by the proud San Blas Cuna Indians who have maintained the heritage and dress of their ancient forebears.

In the jungle live tribes of Choco Indians, subsisting on primitive hunting and fishing level of culture. The men wear loin clothes; the women dress in waist-high sarongs.

FOR THE SPORTSMAN and woman, guided hunting and photography tours mean a chance at jaguar, panther, ocelot, deer, wild pig, tapir, agouti, turkey, water fowl and a variety of other warm and cold-blooded creatures.

The main season extends from January through June, but expeditions can be arranged at other times. One-day sightseeing tours are offered year round.

NO LICENSE fees are required for either hunting or fishing.

A typical hunting safari costs $50 daily per person in a party of four, minimum stay four days, including air and canoe transportation, cook, guides, skinners and dogs. You fly into the jungle, landing at a riverside Choco Village. There are no roads, so travel is mainly by large native dugout canoes called "piraguas."

"Jungle Jim" Price, with headquarters in Panama City, has been arranging hunting expeditions to Darien for many years. He also offers one-day tours for about $30 per person, including transportation, for a look-see through the lush rain jungles where Indians were head-hunters but a generation or two ago.

"JUNGLE JIM" also arranges hunting expeditions from his small hotel at Porvenir Island in the San Blas chain. There are one-day sightseeing trips to San Blas, only 22 minutes by air from Panama City, or visitors can stay at the hotel and go sightseeing on other islands, fish for tarpon, snapper and king mackerel; scuba in the Caribbean or go hunting on the nearby mainland.

There are two other tourist establishments in the San Blas islands. Both are new, small and unique. Islandia covers a mile-square islet where guests may live aboard a yacht or in modest thatched cottages. The weekly package rate of about $300 per person in parties of six to 15 includes round-trip air fare from Miami, meals and a wide range of activities including sightseeing and hunting trips.

THE OTHER new hotel is La Palmera in a Cuna village on the island of Ailigandi. The "Palm Tree Hotel" was completed this year by the local Indians, mostly women who saved for years to purchase modern facilities, including beds, electrical equipment and bathroom installations — items not found within 100 miles.

The only other resort in Darien is the Club de Pesca, situated on a cleared strip of jungle coast at Pinas Bay on the Pacific. Although only three years old, it already has gained international prominence. More than 17 world record fish, mostly black marlin, have been caught in nearby waters. (Rates average $50 per person daily, not including boats.) There are Choco tribes in the area and hunting and sightseeing trips can be arranged. (UPI)

Velvets Beguiling 'At Home'

All of fashion is feeling the influence of the return to a softer, more feminine look, with the most definite response to the mood reflected in loungewear. There's where the new boulevard velvets come to the fore, displaying their special "at-homing" instincts in bequiling robes, hostess gowns, jumpsuits and brunch coats.

With the intriguing variety of new styles, no one—career girl, young casual or gracious hostess — is immune to the spell of luxuriating in velveted ease.

Fairly breathing youthful charm is a slender long velvet shift, with back zipper closing, sash tie and a demure scalloped collar of Alencon lace, a la Mary Poppins. Whimsy and romance are combined in a short-sleeved gown with a cutaway hem that poses a flippant bow above the knee-high opening. A fluffy ring collar of dyed-to-match marabou gives a sirenish touch to an all-in-one jump suit with flaring bell bottom legs.

Quilting, often in interesting raised stripes, enriches the lush velvet texture in brunch coats that flare into short A-line skirts, or flow to the ankle. Sleeves are cropped above the wrist so that they will not interfere with household duties. This season you'll see velvets ingeniously quilted in wide stripes that completely encircle the skirt, or run vertically from shoulder to hem on floor-length robes.

RUFFLES are the big detailing theme, enhancing velvet's femininity. These appear in matching velvet, in lace, or in frothy white organdy, at the neckline and on the sleeves.

The colors are glorious, featuring rose pink, shocking pink, emerald, sapphire, ruby and that remarkable radiant black that only velvet can achieve.

Dressing Up Old-Fashion Look For Spring, Summer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — There'll be a lot of girls dressing up old-fashion for the spring and summer of 1966.

That's the look California designers are touting—fashioning their new styles in ruffles, sheer fabrics, old-fashioned tapestries and grandma's calico prints.

The ultra-feminine look was displayed to nearly 100 of the nation's fashion editors Friday at the California fashion creators' spring and resort showing.

Even when a designer used a space-age fabric such as shiny black vinyl patent leather in a coat, he slipped it over an old-fashioned, scoop neck dress.

Bahamian Spas Offer Both American And Native Dishes

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama Island—Menus on this booming resort island 76 miles from Palm Beach, Fla., obviously aim to please American tourists.

The menus offer tourists what they apparently want — steak, roast beef and American-style sandwiches—and also what they say they want, which is local food. That includes fish, seafood, chicken and rice.

"Guests in resorts always ask why we don't serve native dishes—then they order bacon and eggs and other familiar things," said Reginald G. Nefzger, general manager at the newest resort hotel to open here and a hotel man of more than 30 years' experience.

ONE LOCAL food, Bahamian rice, will be on the inn's dinner menu regularly as an alternate for potatoes, according to Nefzger. Actually, it's two vegetables in one—rice mixed with peas. Among local fish to be featured is red snapper, prepared four ways.

The Polynesian restaurant at the inn has dropped the South Seas section of its menu in favor of local fish and seafood, but has retained its steak and other American-style dishes. At dinner, there is a choice of some 10 kinds of Bahamian fish and seafood, including yellow tail, grouper, and turtle steak.

NATIVE food preferences assure little or no waste of fish. Curtis-Wellings said that guests are served the fillets while Bahamian staff members often dine, by choice, on boiled fish heads.

Bethel 119 Sets Degree Meeting

Mill Valley Bethel 119 of the International Order of Job's Daughters will hold its majority degree tomorrow evening with honored queen Janet Krone presiding at 7:30 p.m.

Girls receiving their majority will be Robin Bladh England, Patricia Hicox, Mary Morrison Howell, Margaret Johnson, Valeria McGowen, Elena Lancaster Montgomery, Joan Ray, Mary McLean Straw, Jean Treverton Loomer and Pamela Windsor.

After the meeting refreshments will be served by a committee consisting of Melissa Wuoltee, chairman; Marta Amoroso, Micca Doody and Sue Smiley. Decorations chairman is Jane Cleveland.

With the intriguing variety of new styles, no one—career girl, young casual or gracious hostess — is immune to the spell of luxuriating in velveted ease.

Fairly breathing youthful charm is a slender long velvet shift, with back zipper closing, sash tie and a demure scalloped collar of Alencon lace, a la Mary Poppins. Whimsy and romance are combined in a short-sleeved gown with a cutaway hem that poses a flippant bow above the knee-high opening. A fluffy ring collar of dyed-to-match marabou gives a sirenish touch to an all-in-one jump suit with flaring bell bottom legs.

Quilting, often in interesting raised stripes, enriches the lush velvet texture in brunch coats that flare into short A-line skirts, or flow to the ankle. Sleeves are cropped above the wrist so that they will not interfere with household duties. This season you'll see velvets ingeniously quilted in wide stripes that completely encircle the skirt, or run vertically from shoulder to hem on floor-length robes.

RUFFLES are the big detailing theme, enhancing velvet's femininity. These appear in matching velvet, in lace, or in frothy white organdy, at the neckline and on the sleeves.

The colors are glorious, featuring rose pink, shocking pink, emerald, sapphire, ruby and that remarkable radiant black that only velvet can achieve.

Dressing Up Old-Fashion Look For Spring, Summer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — There'll be a lot of girls dressing up old-fashion for the spring and summer of 1966.

That's the look California designers are touting—fashioning their new styles in ruffles, sheer fabrics, old-fashioned tapestries and grandma's calico prints.

The ultra-feminine look was displayed to nearly 100 of the nation's fashion editors Friday at the California fashion creators' spring and resort showing.

Even when a designer used a space-age fabric such as shiny black vinyl patent leather in a coat, he slipped it over an old-fashioned, scoop neck dress.

Bahamian Spas Offer Both American And Native Dishes

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama Island—Menus on this booming resort island 76 miles from Palm Beach, Fla., obviously aim to please American tourists.

The menus offer tourists what they apparently want — steak, roast beef and American-style sandwiches—and also what they say they want, which is local food. That includes fish, seafood, chicken and rice.

"Guests in resorts always ask why we don't serve native dishes—then they order bacon and eggs and other familiar things," said Reginald G. Nefzger, general manager at the newest resort hotel to open here and a hotel man of more than 30 years' experience.

ONE LOCAL food, Bahamian rice, will be on the inn's dinner menu regularly as an alternate for potatoes, according to Nefzger. Actually, it's two vegetables in one—rice mixed with peas. Among local fish to be featured is red snapper, prepared four ways.

The Polynesian restaurant at the inn has dropped the South Seas section of its menu in favor of local fish and seafood, but has retained its steak and other American-style dishes. At dinner, there is a choice of some 10 kinds of Bahamian fish and seafood, including yellow tail, grouper, and turtle steak.

NATIVE food preferences assure little or no waste of fish. Curtis-Wellings said that guests are served the fillets while Bahamian staff members often dine, by choice, on boiled fish heads.

PLANNING TO MARRY in late summer next year are Judy Berger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Berger of San Rafael, and Warren W. Wedekind Jr. of Anchorage, Alaska.
(Les Walsh photo)

Judy Berger Will Become Bride Of Warren Wedekind

The engagement of Judy Berger to Warren W. Wedekind Jr. of Anchorage, Alaska, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Berger of San Rafael.

Judy, the sister of Mrs. Hal Lauritzen of San Rafael, was graduated from San Rafael High School. She is a senior student at San Jose State College where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Wedekind of Anchorage and the brother of Bonnie Jean Wedekind of San Rafael. He was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin.

Warren is in the trucking business with his father in Anchorage.

Following the wedding, planned for late summer of next year, the couple will make their home in Anchorage.

Judith Ann Miller Becomes A Bride

The Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley was the setting for the wedding Wednesday evening of Judith Ann Miller of Mill Valley and Robert Frederick Fewster of San Francisco.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. D. Murray Hammond.

When Judith, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Miller of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by her father, she was wearing a full length ivory peau de soie gown fashioned in empire style with cathedral train and trimmed with cameo lace.

Her attendants were Mrs. Victor Lewkowitz of San Jose, matron of honor; and bridesmaids Carole Fewster of San Francisco, the bridegroom's sister; Suzanne Bonzell of San Francisco, Mrs. William E. Mason of Los Gatos, and Mrs. Thomas Astengo of El Cerrito.

All were attired in full length crepe empire gowns in empire style with sage green bodices and ivory skirts.

Petronio D. Urrea of San Francisco was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Fewster of San Francisco. Serving as ushers were Richard Miller of Mill Valley, the bride's brother; Michael Callahan of San Mateo, Robert Urrea of San Francisco and Kenneth McManigal of San Francisco.

A reception was held at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley following the wedding, and the young couple left afterwards for a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe. They will live in San Francisco.

The new Mrs. Fewster is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and San Francisco State College. She has been teaching first grade at the Dixie School District.

Her husband was graduated from Lincoln High School, San Francisco City College and San Francisco State College with an A.B. degree in economics.

He is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity and the Olympic Club and served three and a half years as a Lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He is now doing graduate work.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Frederick Fewster of San Francisco and William Myatt of San Francisco.

Charlotte Tringali Will Marry Dec. 18

Mr. and Mrs. Santo Tringali of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte Loraine, to Dennis Anthony Rocha of Manteca.

Charlotte is the sister of Donald Tringali, now serving with the U. S. Army in Germany, and Donna and Sharon Tringali of San Rafael and attended San Rafael High School. Mr. and Mrs. Sebastiano Tringali of San Anselmo are her grandparents.

Dennis is the son of Mrs. D. George Vescovi of San Rafael and the late Anthony Rocha and the brother of Donald Vescovi. He attended San Rafael High School and is employed as a carpenter in Manteca.

A noon wedding on Dec. 18 is planned at Mission San Rafael Arcangel after which the couple will reside on Manteca.

Members have made 421 articles during 1965 including 16 lap robes, four adult lap robes, eight pair of bed socks, five layettes, five boys shirts, one girl's shirt, two dresses, one pair of pajamas, 35 stuffed animals, 100 ditty bags for the Red Cross, 164 night gowns for Sonoma State Hospital and 10 night gowns for the London House in Novato.

Security May Be Found In Right Amount Of Authority

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Children often have a great deal of insight about their own problems. They are sometimes confused by parental and teacher decisions in which they are not consulted. The result is a lack of understanding and, possibly, rebellious action. On the other hand, there can be too few decisions made. Neither approach solves the problem.

THIS CAN BE emphasized by a number of questions written to this column by young readers. Some of the individuals writing these letters are seeking to be involved in various parental and teacher actions. In other cases, the opposite is true. Some writers have asked why their parents or teachers do not make decisions. Every time there is a question, the response is to form a committee to study the problem, or the answer is a question such as, "what would you suggest?"

PERHAPS, there is an important lesson in these letters. All those concerned with children should review their own approaches to decision making. The democratic process is not at stake here, but rather the responsibility of parents and teachers. Obviously, children want and should have a balance between the two types of decision making. It is not reasonable to expect a child to accept all decisions blindly nor is it a good idea to always avoid making decisions.

WHERE DO we draw the line? This must be done in two ways. Each problem or question which arises should be considered on its own merits. There should also be a periodic review to consider if a reasonable balance exists. At all times, it is necessary to consider the child and his particular needs.

A letter from Gail, a sixth grader, complains that her parents have scheduled homework, play, television and music lessons at specific times without talking to her. She indicates that she understands the need for a schedule but that this particular schedule does not meet her needs. Most of Gail's homework is assigned on Tuesday and Thursday. These are the days on which her parents have scheduled music lessons. Play time has been scheduled when her friends are not available.

THERE IS an obvious need for better communication between Gail and her parents. Gail is being most sincere about meeting her responsibilities. It would seem that this kind of decision should involve the child both from the standpoint of planning a realistic schedule and helping Gail continue to be a responsible citizen.

Joel, an eighth grader, writes that he is most upset because his parents never seem to make a decision. He recently wanted to know if he could go to a movie on a Wednesday evening. All he wanted was a simple yes or no answer. Instead he received a long and involved discussion. As he indicates, he knew it was wrong on a week day but he wanted to see what his parents would say.

PERHAPS, a discussion is right to answer such a question, but there seems to be an indication that Joel's parents do not make enough decisions. They should realize that children want some authority and structure to come from their parents. There is security in a reasonable amount of authority.

MAN-PLEASING

Would He Marry You Again?

If your spouse had it all to do over again, would you be the girl he married?

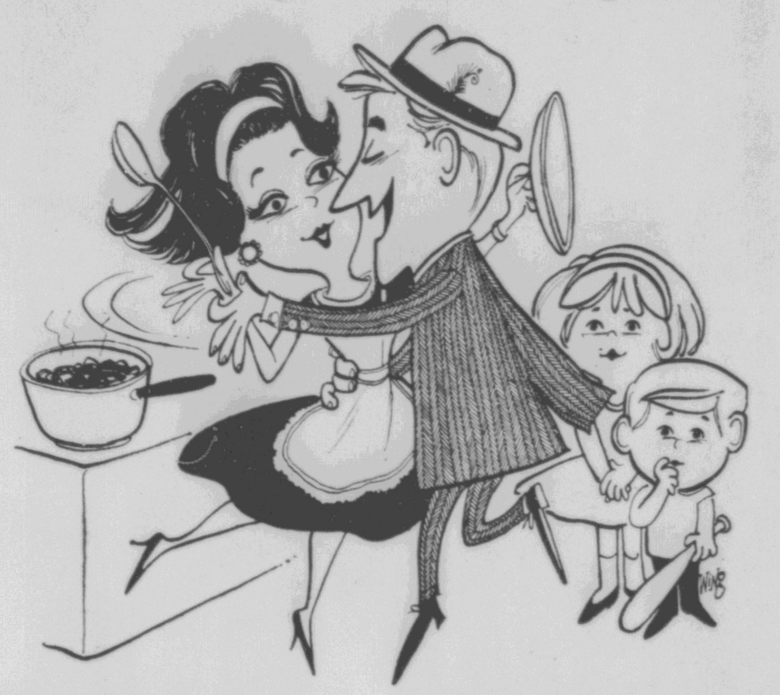
It's an interesting question to ask yourself (not him). You may be able to guess the answer by taking this little quiz, compiled by the Shulton Company on the basis of interviews with numerous husbands, from newlyweds to silver anniversary veterans. Then, when you've found your score, improve it by taking some tips those husbands suggested.

1. Do you make the same strong effort as you did during courtship to keep your moods and temper under control?
2. Do you listen—really listen—when he talks?
3. Are you as careful about your grooming when "only" your husband will see you as at other times?
4. Whether you see yourself as an exotic "desert flower" or as the madcap heroine of an "escapade," do you regularly use the perfume that you feel best suits your type?
5. Can you see the funny side of almost everything — except your husband's efforts to impress you?
6. Have you become a good-to-excellent cook during marriage?
7. Are you a good money manager, neither extravagant nor pinchpenny?
8. Are you a "middle-of-the-road" housekeeper — neat, but not so fantastically neat that the roof falls in if he drops an ash on the rug?
9. Do you never—well, hardly ever—complain about his side of the family?
10. Do you avoid belittling his job or his money-making ability?

TEN "YESES," and it's a cinch he'd pop that big question all over again—but are you really that perfect? Check your answers again. A score of six to nine indicates that almost any man would say "I do" to the chance to wed you again. Five "yesses" or less, however, and you're an apprentice mate who may need further training.

BUT APPRENTICE mate or wife first class, you can be sure of an "A-OK" rating from the man in your life by heeding these 10 man-pleasing pointers:

1. When he talks, don't interrupt. It's a feminine habit that drives men wild!
2. When the two of you are out with friends, be his "straight man." Laugh at his jokes, turn the conversation to subjects at which he shines.
3. Have an attractive hairdo every day, not just when you go out. Men agree that pretty hair is probably the single most important part of feminine grooming—make sure yours is a crowning glory, not a sad story. Find a simple, becoming coiffure you can fix easily and quickly—and do it!
4. Wear perfume every day. He's bound to notice, if only subconsciously. To that well-scrubbed soap and water aroma, add, for example, the blend of lilacs, jasmine and pink roses called Escapade—and prove to yourself all over again how easily a man can be led by the nose.
5. Ask his advice whenever possible. Consult him before making social commitments, before choosing home furnishings (it's just barely possible he may not like a pink and purple bedroom), even before buying a dress. Purchase clothes you can return—and return any outfit he doesn't like!
6. Fix his favorite foods without being asked—even if you can't abide them. Learn to make a superb, not just a good, cup of coffee. A clue: Most men like coffee strong, most women brew it too weak: try two level tablespoons per cup.
7. Show a saving grace—and with pennies you save from your allowance, start a bank account. Whether you use it for important family projects or frivolous shopping sprees, it will help avoid money arguments.
8. Say nice things about your in-laws even when he criticizes them. This establishes you as an angel.
9. Never compare him with other men—except to point out how much better he is in some way!
10. Often tell him how glad you are you married him!



AS ENTICING as the fragrance of a desert flower is the aroma of hubby's favorite foods being cooked. Make them often, even if you don't like them, and brew fresh coffee for dinner; it's a tasteful way of telling your man he's special.

3. Have an attractive hairdo every day, not just when you go out. Men agree that pretty hair is probably the single most important part of feminine grooming—make sure yours is a crowning glory, not a sad story. Find a simple, becoming coiffure you can fix easily and quickly—and do it!
4. Wear perfume every day. He's bound to notice, if only subconsciously. To that well-scrubbed soap and water aroma, add, for example, the blend of lilacs, jasmine and pink roses called Escapade—and prove to yourself all over again how easily a man can be led by the nose.
5. Ask his advice whenever possible. Consult him before making social commitments, before choosing home furnishings (it's just barely possible he may not like a pink and purple bedroom), even before buying a dress. Purchase clothes you can return—and return any outfit he doesn't like!
6. Fix his favorite foods without being asked—even if you can't abide them. Learn to make a superb, not just a good, cup of coffee. A clue: Most men like coffee strong, most women brew it too weak: try two level tablespoons per cup.
7. Show a saving grace—and with pennies you save from your allowance, start a bank account. Whether you use it for important family projects or frivolous shopping sprees, it will help avoid money arguments.
8. Say nice things about your in-laws even when he criticizes them. This establishes you as an angel.
9. Never compare him with other men—except to point out how much better he is in some way!
10. Often tell him how glad you are you married him!

AS ENTICING as the fragrance of a desert flower is the aroma of hubby's favorite foods being cooked. Make them often, even if you don't like them, and brew fresh coffee for dinner; it's a tasteful way of telling your man he's special.

Sparkling Concert By Chamber Group

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A family audience of about 350 was privileged to hear one of the finest small orchestras to be heard anywhere when the Oakland Chamber Orchestra opened the second annual Belvedere-Tiburon Peninsula Cultural Series last night.

Acoustically, the Delmar School auditorium in Tiburon was a good showcase for the finely honed sound and remarkably rich texture of this orchestra, consisting of 25 members when it is playing in full ensemble.

One has the feeling that all the hard work on the part of the orchestra and conductor Gerhard Samuel has been done long ago, for the performance seems effortless, especially for Samuel, who conducts unobtrusively without fanfare.

Strings, woodwinds and brasses were in fine balance in the opening overture to "Titus" by Mozart.

The full resources of the strings were well demonstrated in two extremes. Their more commonly heard lovely singing quality in the surging melodies of the "Siegfried Idyl" by Wagner, and their less frequently encountered acerbity of tone and incisive rhythm in Bartok's Divertimento for String Orchestra. The latter was a real tour de force, with the outstanding concertmistress Judith Poska due much credit.

In the best baroque tradition, with addition of the harpsichord, with the Suite No. 2 in B Minor for Flute and Strings by J. S. Bach with Gary Gray as soloist. His playing was marked by a smooth flowing rhythm and a warmer and more mellow tone than one usually hears on the flute.

A splendid finale for the program was Haydn's Symphony No. 22 in E Flat for two English horns, two French horns and strings.

Leland Lincoln, director of the instrumental music department of Reed School District, was one of the fine English horn players.

Some Drivers Can Get Extra License Year

Despite a new law reducing the five-year driving license to four years after Jan. 1, people whose licenses expire between now and next May can continue to get the extra year tacked on, providing they apply for renewal before the beginning of the year.

But a renewal after Jan. 1 will result in a four-year license, which was passed by the 1965 State Legislature, said David Davis, manager of the Department of Motor Vehicles office at 75 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

"We are able to renew a person's license any time within six months before its expiration," said Davis. "So someone with a license expiring, say, in April could come in now and be issued a five-year license."

He estimated more than a million California drivers' licenses will expire in the next six months, and can be renewed immediately. They cannot be renewed more than six months ahead.

All first-time applicants for California licenses and those with poor driving records, however, will receive a three-year license regardless of the date they apply. Licenses not renewed on time will also get only a three-year term.

YEHUDI MENUHIN

Former Prodigy Declares Performances Not Harmful

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Yehudi Menuhin, who began his own career as violinist at the age of nine, today said he believed that performances by child prodigies did not hurt them as long as they were not exploited.

"If a child plays in public to further his own experience and give him poise and confidence, then it is beneficial," Menuhin told a news conference.

The San Francisco - reared violinist, who now lives in London, added that his own parents did not allow him to go on tour until he was 13, though at the age of 11 he astonished the world with his performance of the Beethoven violin concerto in Carnegie Hall.

Menuhin will end a six-week American tour tonight with his son-in-law, pianist Fou Ts'ong in concert in the San Francisco Opera House.

The musician's youngest son, Jeremy, 14, gave his first public performance as a violinist last summer in London.

He said it was difficult to say just how fast American cultural appreciation was accelerating.

"The capacity for music is going up, but so is the capacity for cigarettes, liquor and for divorce. It is hard to say whether culture is just keeping pace.

"The American public is the most critical consumer in the world."

Spirit Squads Picked At Tam

The Varsi-T's," headed by Barbara Muszynski, were elected as song leaders yesterday at Tamalpais High School. The group, who defeated "Charlie's Chicks," includes Patti Rohl, Fran Huffman, Sandy Hana, Sue Krieger, Peggy Harrison, Sherry Pearman and Valerie Dill.

"Freddie's Fellows" were elected yell leaders, defeating "The Long Shots." Freddie's Fellows are headed by Ernie Bergman and include Tom Lacey, Dave Schallock, Barry Warnock and Larry Carpenter.

Actual numerical results of the voting were not released since there was a large discrepancy between votes in both cases, said Vice Principal Raymond Bell. The school has a new policy whereby votes are released except in such cases.

Charles E. Auerbach is chairman of the Belvedere Recreation Commission.

Trustee Board Tours School In Kentfield

The Kentfield School District board toured Greenbrae School and listened to reports from teachers there for two and one-half hours last night, then spent 30 minutes on district business.

The board agreed to pay $25 to Dr. Charles Hagar, assistant manager of the Morrison Planetarium in San Francisco, for a talk on astronomy to fifth and seventh grade students and their parents at Adeline E. Kent School, Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m.

Contract for construction of a shop and storage room at Kent School will be awarded at the board's Dec. 13 meeting.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon reported almost all details of a recent addition to Wolfe Grade School are complete.

Trustees accepted the resignation of John Campbell, half-time custodian at Wolfe Grade School, and hired Joel Pistoni to replace him. They granted a seven-month leave of absence to district business secretary Mrs. Alice Rose, and agreed to replace her with Mrs. Wanda Bigelow.

Brown Proposes Court Changes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Brown said today he'll ask next year's legislature to overhaul California's trial court system and create "an emergency plan for our courts."

Brown said in prepared remarks before a Joint Bar Assn. luncheon "that the governor should be authorized to declare an emergency in the trial courts as a result of a disaster or civil commotion."

The emergency authority would permit trial court sessions to be held anywhere within the counties affected. Judges would be reassigned to areas of the state where they were most needed.

Recreation Facilities To Be Pooled

After months of discussion and study, the Fairfax City Council last night voted unanimously to approve an agreement to pool recreation facilities of city-owned parks and school district playgrounds.

Under the new agreement, the amount of financial support by the Fairfax School District for recreation would be determined each March, explained City Mgr. David J. Sumbardo.

Schools are to pay $765 for the recreation program this year, he said.

Though the agreement was designed to open city parks and school playgrounds to use by everyone, council and school board will continue to have jurisdiction when conflicts arise over use of their own facilities, said Sumbardo.

The council will vote on the agreement as a formal resolution at its next meeting.

The Fairfax City Council also:

1. Upheld the planning commissoin in unanimously denying a use permit to Farr Associates for a planned unit development of apartments on 9.8 acres between Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Denial was on the grounds of insufficient information by the applicant.
2. Approved a request by the Fairfax Lions Club for cost-free use of the Fairfax Pavilion for a New Year's Eve dance. The Lions Club is repainting and cleaning the hall.
3. Contributed $25 to the Marin County Human Rights Commission to help support a symposium to be held Dec. 11 at College of Marin.
4. Declared the week of Dec. 19 "Farm-City Week."
5. Adopted an ordinance amending the city's employee retirement contract with the state retirement fund to exclude employees hired on an hourly basis.
6. Adopted an ordinance changing a quorum on the seven-member planning commission from five to four.
7. Held over to the next meeting discussion about a city health code.
8. Voted 3-2 to dispose of city ownership of Stolz Lane by allowing its original owner to reclaim the land from the city.
9. Approved allocation of $350 to pay for a Santa Claus and Christmas street decorations.
10. Approved erection of signs at east and west ends of the city, directing visitors to city landmarks, and a sign at the city hall and fire station identifying the building for visitors. The signs would be supplied by the Fairfax Merchants Assn.

Carwash Planned

A carwash will be held beginning at 10 a.m. on Dec. 4 by the junior class of Redwood High School in an attempt to raise funds for the junior prom. The wash will be at the Texaco Service Station, 1115 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur.

President of the League of Women Voters of Central Marin is Mrs. James Compton.

Amish Children Win School With A Hymn

HAZLETON, Iowa (UPI)— Little Amish children, succeeding where their parents failed, turned back the power of the state with a hymn and remained free today to attend their simple, rustic country schools.

County school officials consented to a temporary moratorium on their efforts to force the children into public schools their families consider to be "too wordly." After a schoolhouse showdown here in which the singing children thwarted county authorities, Gov. Harold E. Hughes stepped into the three-year controversy yesterday and announced the truce.

It was the children themselves who made the day.

County school officials, bolstered by a truancy officer and sheriff's deputies, pushed their way into a one-room Amish schoolhouse yesterday in an attempt to haul the children off to public school.

A barrier of bearded, stern-faced Amish men broke in the path of the county authorities. Then as the parents stood by sobbing, the authorities advanced on the children.

The children screamed and started to chant the Sunday school hymn "Jesus Loves me."

The authorities retreated.

The Amish, a sect of Anabaptist lineage who travel by horsedrawn carriages, consider public schools "too worldly" for their simple way of life. They contend their children get all the schooling they need in the Amish schools staffed by Amish teachers with eighth grade educations.

The county contends the Amish must either hire accredited teachers with college training or send their children to public schools.

In Des Moines, Hughes announced the moratorium and said it would last until Iowa officials can confer with officials of other states that have faced "similar situations."

"Somewhere in the confines of society there must be a reasonable solution to this situation," the governor said.

State Aide Backing Down On White Capitol Dome

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state capitol's golden dome has won a reprieve from buckets of white paint.

The dome, hitherto unscathed by controversy, became the subject of angry protests last week when state officials decided the dome should be white instead of gold because white made a better reflector.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, conscious that the issue could swell into a full-blown controversy, yesterday asked Robert Harkness, director of the state General Services Department, to hold up on the project and the official quickly obliged.

"The governor hasn't expressed himself on whether the dome should be gold, white or purple," said an aide. "But he really thinks we should take another look at it.

"He wants to find out what goes on here—we have enough problems with the legislature without this."

The issue came to the fore when Harkness' assistant, Arthur Collins, said in an unpretentious announcement that the golden color was "lousy" and should be painted white.

Newspapers, legislators and citizens became indignant and cried that the dome should remain golden because California was the "Golden State" and its very heritage was steeped in gold.

Meeting Is Delayed

Last night's scheduled meeting of the Corte Madera Board of Design was cancelled for lack of a quorum, according to board secretary Mrs. Betty Long. The board will meet Friday at 8:30 a.m. instead, she said.

Sausalito Yule Decor Is Ready

Sausalito's Yule street decorations will consist mainly of paintings of snow flakes and angels this year.

They are to be erected Friday on 40 downtown and Caledonia Street lamp posts. They include five silk screen designs, created by Sausalito artist Nan Fowler, in five colors, and will be framed with metalic wreaths.

"There will be no Menorah this year as last," said William W. Remak, chairman of the decoration committee for the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. The Menorah, holy candelabrum of the Jewish temple, was used in Sausalito's Christmas decorations last year.

Man Pleads Guilty To Marijuana Sale

Odus Hayes, 28, of Sausalito, one of 11 adults arrested in a roundup June 4 in southern Marin County of marijuana suspects, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to one count of selling the weed.

A second count, possession of marijuana, was then dismissed by Judge Harold J. Haley. Sentencing will be at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 30.

Some Drivers Can Get Extra License Year

Despite a new law reducing the five-year driving license to four years after Jan. 1, people whose licenses expire between now and next May can continue to get the extra year tacked on, providing they apply for renewal before the beginning of the year.

But a renewal after Jan. 1 will result in a four-year license, which was passed by the 1965 State Legislature, said David Davis, manager of the Department of Motor Vehicles office at 75 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

"We are able to renew a person's license any time within six months before its expiration," said Davis. "So someone with a license expiring, say, in April could come in now and be issued a five-year license."

He estimated more than a million California drivers' licenses will expire in the next six months, and can be renewed immediately. They cannot be renewed more than six months ahead.

All first-time applicants for California licenses and those with poor driving records, however, will receive a three-year license regardless of the date they apply. Licenses not renewed on time will also get only a three-year term.

YEHUDI MENUHIN

Former Prodigy Declares Performances Not Harmful

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Yehudi Menuhin, who began his own career as violinist at the age of nine, today said he believed that performances by child prodigies did not hurt them as long as they were not exploited.

"If a child plays in public to further his own experience and give him poise and confidence, then it is beneficial," Menuhin told a news conference.

The San Francisco - reared violinist, who now lives in London, added that his own parents did not allow him to go on tour until he was 13, though at the age of 11 he astonished the world with his performance of the Beethoven violin concerto in Carnegie Hall.

Menuhin will end a six-week American tour tonight with his son-in-law, pianist Fou Ts'ong in concert in the San Francisco Opera House.

The musician's youngest son, Jeremy, 14, gave his first public performance as a violinist last summer in London.

He said it was difficult to say just how fast American cultural appreciation was accelerating.

"The capacity for music is going up, but so is the capacity for cigarettes, liquor and for divorce. It is hard to say whether culture is just keeping pace.

"The American public is the most critical consumer in the world."

Spirit Squads Picked At Tam

The Varsi-T's," headed by Barbara Muszynski, were elected as song leaders yesterday at Tamalpais High School. The group, who defeated "Charlie's Chicks," includes Patti Rohl, Fran Huffman, Sandy Hana, Sue Krieger, Peggy Harrison, Sherry Pearman and Valerie Dill.

"Freddie's Fellows" were elected yell leaders, defeating "The Long Shots." Freddie's Fellows are headed by Ernie Bergman and include Tom Lacey, Dave Schallock, Barry Warnock and Larry Carpenter.

Actual numerical results of the voting were not released since there was a large discrepancy between votes in both cases, said Vice Principal Raymond Bell. The school has a new policy whereby votes are released except in such cases.

Charles E. Auerbach is chairman of the Belvedere Recreation Commission.

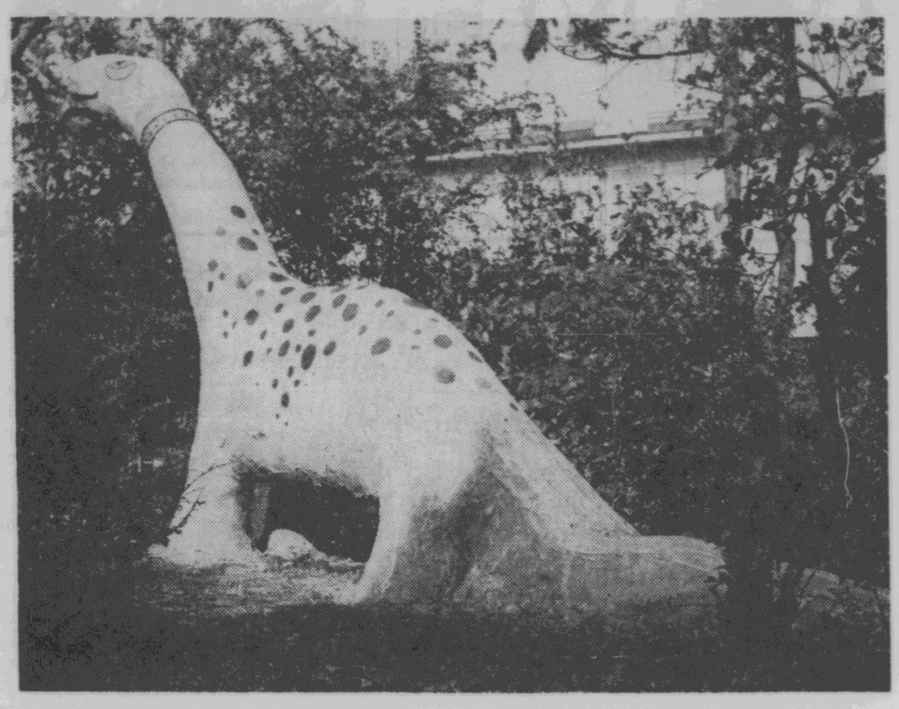
dienosaur ben iz hapee in nu den



WOT A DEN!—It took 1,300 pounds of cement and 30 hours work to make this giant dinosaur, which stands in the kindergarten play area at Tiburon School. The project, built by youngsters and grown-ups, was inspired by a kindergarten class book issued by the Initial Teaching Alphabet. In a special alphabet designed to help children read, the book is called "this iz dienosaur ben."

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

"ie am sad," sed the dienosaur. "ie am sad. ie am ill."

With these words, written in what appears at first to be a foreign language, the sad dinosaur won the hearts of the youngster of Tiburon School.

This week, they put the finishing touches to a life-size cement model of "Dienosaur Ben" they remembered reading about in one of the first books given to kindergarten classes.

It turns out more than a figure of a favorite dinosaur . . . it is the first-ever monument to the Initial Teaching Alphabet.

The ITA employs phonetic spelling with an alphabet including additional letters which are said to help children to read. The system is being taught in Bayside School, Sausalito, as well as Tiburon.

What started it all was the children reading in a book called "this iz dienosaur ben," that he was not happy with hiz bed, hiz hous or hiz den. "the hous iz too littl for a dienosaur den," he sed.

And as is natural with children, their hearts went out to him in his plight (which they recognized better as hiz pliet).

The annual Reed School District art fair was held in May, and when the district's traveling art teacher, Joan E. Peterson, asked the children what they would like to make for it they agreed: "a dienosaur liek ben."

Helped by a father or two, the youngsters built Ben out of wood, papier mache and chicken wire. The fair came and went, and the children hated the idea of taking Ben to pieces.

"We decided last June that we'd like to do something to make Ben permanent. Casting him in cement seemed to be the answer," said Mrs. Peterson.

Work began two weeks ago. The legs were reinforced with two-by-fours. More chicken wire was put on Ben, and layers of concrete added.

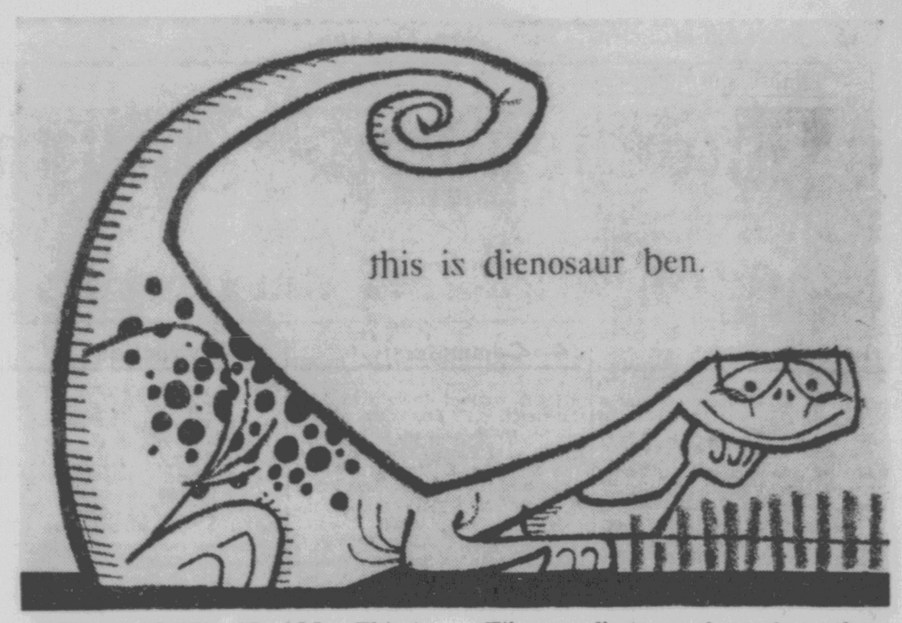
The figure had to be hosed down twice a day to prevent its setting too quickly. The damp weather agreed with Ben.

Youngsters helped out in the later stages by smoothing the cement, but they began playing with Ben and his head fell off. It went back on with reinforcement.

Will there be a dedication? Mrs. Peterson said one child suggested: "por some milk over hiz hed," but she added there are no plans to do this yet, in either English or ITA.

Ben, who, according to the ITA book, had trouble finding a place to rest, now is at home among the trees in the kindergarten play area.

The smile on his face seems to say in typicall ITA: "mie, wot a den!"



THIS STARTED IT ALL—This is the cover page of "this iz dienosaur ben," a book in Initial Teaching Alphabet which so won the hearts of Tiburon first graders that they asked an almost-life size Ben. The result may be the first permanent (?) monument to the ITA.

Span Board Eyes Ferry Resumption

Golden Gate Bridge District directors today decided to look into the possibility of reviving the San Francisco-Marin ferry service.

Directors turned the matter over to the finance, San Francisco-Marin crossing, and commuters affairs committees for study.

They took the action after reading a letter from the San Francisco Planning Commission urging ferry boat service be studied. San Francisco director Stephan C. Leonaudakis urged the study.

FINISHED—Art teacher Joan E. Peterson puts the finishing touches to Dinosaur Ben, a huge cement model which has made its home at Tiburon School. Mrs. Grace Pastori, the school custodian, helped Mrs. Peterson and the children build the project. She had to hose the cement on the figure twice a day to prevent it drying too quickly. 'BOMB' EVIDENCE TO STATE'S LABS

Marin Investigators Seek Expert Opinion Whether Union Row Led To $4,000 Arson

Investigation by sheriff's officers of possible arson in the Oct. 27 'bomb" throwing and fire in a Marin Guide room in Tamalpais Valley today awaited analysis of smoke grenade type "bomb" by the California Identification and Investigation Bureau in Sacramento.

Bowen Bridges, sheriff's inspector in charge of the investigation, said he plans to take the remains of the grenade, along with other fire debris including glass bits and burned paper, to Sacramento within a few days.

"I can't say right now whether the bomb could have started the fire," he declared, "and I have no idea at this time what else might have, if the bomb didn't."

He said his investigation thus far has been inconclusive, and that question about whether the bomb could start the flame may be answered by the C.I.I. study.

"I'm going to have to depend on laboratory technicians who are more learned than I," he added.

Earl (Bud) Guisness, investigator for the San Francisco office of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, said yesterday he found no accidental cause for the fire.

Guisness said that, based on what Bridges told him witnesses said, "whatever was thrown in (the room), whether it was the grenade or not, is what started the fire."

Guisness added: "I don't see anything particularly wrong with the story as given. If (the bomb was) thrown onto paper, I don't see why it couldn't have started a fire as I saw it the next day."

Harry H. Johnson, publisher of Marin Guide, has charged that someone tossed the "bomb" into the room at 200 Shoreline Highway, and that the $4,000 fire damage resulted.

He has signed a citizen's complaint alleging trespassing against Douglas A. Smith, 45, San Jose president of the Mailers Union, as result of a fracas on the night of the fire. Trial before a judge of Marin Municipal Court is scheduled Jan. 6.

A union picket line had been established at the building prior to the fire.

Lodi Youth, 15, Hurt In Accident

Danny Royer, 15, of Lodi was admitted in good condition to Novato General Hospital at 8 p.m. Sunday with injuries suffered in an auto accident at Highway 101 and Grant Avenue in Novato this morning.

Nurses reported he suffered a cut chin and possible fracture of the pelvis. The California Highway Patrol officer who investigated the accident was not available to give any information on the collision.

Radar Base Use As Camp Urged

A youth camp was suggested last night as a possible use for the site of the 666th Radar Squadron atop Mount Tamalpais after it is abandoned by the military in 1966.

Commissioner Jerome C. Hauke made the suggestion to the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission, saying the military establishment now has all the facilities for such a camp. No action was taken in the brief discussion.

Dredging of the city's small craft harbor has been completed, City Engineer Stanley M. Bala reported by letter to the commission.

Youth Council May Incorporate

A proposal to incorporate the Mill Valley Youth Council will be voted upon at a membership meeting of the council Dec. 10.

Recommendations for articles of incorporation were agreed upon last night by a council steering committee, said Les Mize, committee member.

The council will also be asked to vote on a slate of candidates, eight youth and five adult directors, for a proposed board of directors for 1966. Election is to be at 10 p.m. Dec. 10 at a regular council dance at the city's community and youth center.

Dime novels were mainly about the American Revolution but later detective stories were printed.

Behr Urges Bay Region Control Unit

Peter H. Behr, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, last night urged creation of a bay region governing body which could control solution of regional problems.

Speaking at the fall meeting of the Citizens for Regional Recreation and Parks in San Francisco, Behr said the body should be made up of a city councilman and a supervisor from each county.

Unless such a governing body is formed, Behr said, control of development will go to the state and federal government by default.

He pointed to the inefficiency of present studies and programs.

The Bay Area Transit Study Commission has a $4 million four-year program with "an oversized commission to lay down a plan for long-range transportation needs in the Bay Area," said Behr.

The State Bay Crossing Toll Authority has $185,000 to study a North Bay crossing.

"The Golden Gate Bridge directors are about to shuffle and deal a second deck to an unsuspecting public," he said. "Governor Brown, with an assist from Mayor Shelley, is trying to blackmail the San Francisco board of supervisors into accepting wrap-around freeways for San Francisco, making them 'slaveways' in my opinion, and a sorry end for so lovely a city."

Negro Vote Registration On Increase

By JAMES FREE
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The rate of new Negro voter registration in the South has now increased to about 77,000 a month, Justice Department officials said Friday.

But some civil rights leaders are still displeased with the pace and want federal examiners sent over the South to "stimulate" the Negro voter enrollment.

Atty Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach has rejected this suggestion on the ground that it exceeds authority granted him in the voting rights act of 1965. The law, as he sees it, requires the Justice Department to remove discriminatory bars to Negro enrollment — not to take steps to stimulate the process.

The task of promoting enrollment, or stimulating it, in the attorney general's opinion, is up to the political parties or to private groups and organizations.

This i. the current picture, as drawn by an authoritative Justice Department source. It is pointed out that the present new Negro voter registration rate, achieved largely through voluntary local compliance with the new act, is almost up to the goal set by those calling for a massive operation of federal examiners.

"The Negro leaders called for a new voter enrollment rate of about 80,000 Negroes a month," the spokesman said, "and we are now running at the rate of about 77,000 a month on the average. We are talking now about the overall rate in eight states: Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia."

Negro voter registration in the five Deep South states — Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina — was estimated at 588,000. When the voting rights law went into effect Aug. 9. Since then there has been an increase of about 30 per cent — accounted for by 110,000 who were voluntarily registered locally and 56,000 who were qualified by federal examiners, according to latest tabulations.

Civil rights groups say they will move to step up the Negro registration rate. But even if the pace remains at present levels, the total by general election time in 1966 will be at least double the 588,000 of last August.

Katzenbach stresses the importance of progress through local voluntary compliance to the fullest extent possible. He terms this "the most natural and most effective method." And beyond question this method leaves less resentment and bitterness than enrollment by federal examiners.

The attorney general has ordered these examiners to 32 counties, it was explained, because of: 1) Outright resistance to the new law, 2) Foot dragging and 3) Refusal to drop literacy tests.

John Doar, assistant attorney general in charge of the civil rights division, and attorneys from his office try to persuade reluctant local officials that voluntary compliance is the best policy. Their message from Katzenbach is that local registrars must "make every reasonable effort" to handle Negro applicants as the new law requires.

Not long ago a liberal Congressman demanded to know why federal examiners had not been dispatched to Barbour County, Ala., home base of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, bitter opponent of the new law.

Doar replied that local authorities had voluntarily registered 1,264 new Negro voters since the law went into effect, twice as many as listed as qualified voters in Barbour County last spring (611).

That appeared to meet the test of "reasonable effort."

New Fire Engine On Council Agenda

The San Anselmo City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today in city hall, will be asked to award a contract for a new fire engine.

The council will also listen to Harry Johnson, who has asked for a rehearing on his proposed Ronald Court subdivision off the Alameda. Councilmen last month rejected Johnson's request for a waiver of the city's slope policy. Johnson asked for a rehearing on the matter, saying he was not informed when the council was considering it.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Kidney Stone Formers Must Hold Off On Consumption Of Calcium

VAN DELLEN

A Detroit woman has a married son with a kidney problem. "He is a natural stone former and has passed six BB-sized pebbles. These are torturous experiences and he is becoming despondent. His physician says the stones are made of calcium and he should avoid foods rich in this chemical. Is there anything else to do?"

Some people are natural stone formers, and the cause is not always obvious. The urinary tract should be examined by a urologist to make sure that an infection, obstruction, or congenital defect does not exist. We assume this has been done and the kidneys are otherwise normal and functioning properly.

These little rocks form because too much calcium is leaving the body via the kidneys. The urine is oversaturated, and the calcium salts are crystallizing and forming calculi. Anyone with this problem should drink two or more quarts of liquid a day to avoid oversaturation of the urine. The chemical remains in dissolved form and does not crystallize. Calcium also remains in solution when the urine is acid, and therefore acid ash diets and drugs such as ammonium chloride are helpful. These regimens are not recommended for long periods because they are difficult to follow. The daily use of aspirin is said to be of value.

It is more practical to reduce the intake of foods rich in calcium including dairy products, egg yolk, green olives, turnip greens, broccoli, kale, and dry beans. The same can be said of excessive vitamin A intake. Since many chronic stone formers also have phosphorous stones, they should avoid overindulgence in meats, milk, eggs, cheese, and cereals. The absorption of phosphorous from the intestines is lessened by taking an aluminum hydroxide gel four times a day.

Excessive calcium appears in the blood when the parathyroid glands are overactive. Immobilization such as being bedridden for months because of illness or an accident is another cause. The chemicals leave the bone, enter the bloodstream and are excreted via the urine.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

STONE IN DUCT

E. J. writes: Could a stone in the common duct cause a person to vomit after eating?

REPLY

Yes, but severe pain and jaundice are more common symptoms of obstruction of this passageway that brings bile from the liver and gallbladder to the intestine.

A READING PROBLEM

E. K. writes: When I handle some books and magazines (not all) my entire body starts to itch. Have you an explanation?

REPLY

Bookworms?—No.

Allergy to ink or molds?—Yes.

OBVIOUS REMEDY

D. J. writes: Can nicotine heart be cured?

REPLY

Yes, if you refer to a heart that is sensitive to and easily affected by nicotine. The remedy is obvious.

Eye Surgery Helps Cure Reading Defects

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

ARLINGTON, Va.—Simple but controversial muscle-tightening eye surgery reportedly has cured the reading defects of a number of problem students.

Before surgery, some of the problem readers had been suffering from an almost-undectable muscle imbalance, says Dr. Edward A. Dunlap of Cornell University. In a few instances, chronic young failures went on to better work and one boy made the sixth-grade honor role.

The picture, however, is not so rosy to a second ophthalmologist, Dr. Goodwin M. Breinin of New York University takes a dim view of surgery for small muscle imbalances which prevent the eyes from fixing simultaneously on the same object.

"If he (Dr. Dunlap) is right, he'll have to convince 99 per cent of his fellow ophthalmologists," Dr. Breinin told science writers at a seminar sponsored by Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc.

Dr. Dunlap estimated that 20 to 30 per cent of American youngsters have reading problems. They can be divided into three groups but the largest single segment have defects that are probably correctable.

These are emotional factors, glandular problems, a slow maturing rate, educational shortcomings, or a physical visual defect.

Dr. Dunlap said that 10 to 15 per cent of the remedial reading problems may be because of muscle imbalance.

"It must be remembered that eye muscle surgery is not being recommended for all children with reading problems, nor as a cure-all for every type of defect," he said. "But it is advised when a muscle imbalance, no matter how small, can be elicited and no other factor exists."

He described the progress of 40 patients, from one to three years after corrective surgery. Some previously had undergone as many as five years of futile training and eye exercise and others had been diagnosed as mentally retarded.

After surgery all displayed improvement in measured reading performance, reading comford, scholastic improvement or sounder emotions, he said.

One child had failed the first grade twice. But after surgery and some catch-up work the youngster quickly advanced to the third grade, he said. Another was going to be denied entry to the first grade because of poor picture drawing ability, but after surgery went to school and is doing well.

In taking issue with surgery for tiny muscle imbalance, Dr. Breinin said much more proof is needed that the "cures" are due to the surgery rather than the strong suggestion to the child that something had been done about his problem.

Dr. Breinin said he is willing to be convinced, but most of the cases he has seen don't seem to justify the procedure.

Dr. Dunlap described the operation as a simple one in which the surgeon re-balances the eye by snipping a piece of the strap-like muscle holding the eyeball in position. This has the effect of pulling the eye back into the line it should be fixed on.

When this imbalance is minute, the diagnosis takes more time, he said, but it is worth it. The reason most ophthalmologists ignore it is because of a fear of overcorrection, he said, or the mistaken belief that the small imbalances are not important.

Subtle eye defects create a gamut of problems, Dr. Breinin said. But his own belief is that medication and non-surgical means will eventually correct many of them.

He said drops have already proved useful in helping to correct one kind of squint or cross eyes associated with farsightedness.

Sometimes the drops, called anticholinesterase, are used with spectacles to correct defects. But alone they can stimulate the neural mechanism into making the adjustment. The drops don't actually change the power of the eye.

Crosseyes occurs in many forms. In the common form the eyes turn in or cross. One or both eyes may turn out.

Surgery often straightens the eye, but it doesn't correct the basic functional defect, Dr. Breinin said. With new understanding of how drugs work on eye muscles, they might soon replace the knife.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 8723-e

IN THE MATTER OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF IMPROVEMENTS AND THE ACQUISITION OF EASEMENTS, LANDS AND RIGHTS-OF-WAY IN THE SEACAPE ASSESSMENT DISTRICT, COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, that it is the intention of said Board of Supervisors to order the following improvements and acquisitions to be made in the County of Marin, State of California, to wit:

The work to be accomplished is the grading, paving and asphalt concrete berm on Seacape Drive from its intersection with State Highway 1 and extending approximately 2,895 feet to its termination at Muir Beach Overlook; grading, paving and concrete curb and gutter on Muir Beach Overlook from its beginning at State Highway 1 and extending for approximately 390 feet to its termination at the County of Marin Overlook; grading, paving and asphalt concrete berm on Starbuck Drive from its intersection with Seacape Drive and extending approximately 1,520 feet to its termination in a cul de sac; grading paving and asphalt concrete berm on Ahab Drive from its intersection with Seacape Drive and extending approximately 1,000 feet to its termination in a cul de sac; storm drainage system namely catch basins, culverts of both 12" and 18" corrugated metal pipe and 12", 18" and 27" Reinforced concrete pipe; ditches, manholes and energy dissipators and appurtenances; a complete water system including acquisition of a well and site on Redwood Creek, installation of a pumping plant including hypochlorinator and automatic electric controls at the well site; a 4" offsite water transmission line extending approximately 5,460 feet, an in-tract 6" water distribution main and appurtenances including piping, valves, blow-offs and services approximately 5,400 feet in length located in the streets, acquisition of a tank site for water storage, construction of a 150,000 gal. water storage tank and installation of fire hydrants, valves and appurtenances; underground electric and telephone distribution lines including terminal and service boxes, transformer pads and risers from approximately Sta 26+90 to approximately Sta 37+50 on Seacape Drive and from Sta 0+00 to Sta 7+75 and approximately Sta 14+20 to 15+20 on Starbuck Drive; and miscellaneous appurtenances including, but not limited to, street signs and survey monuments in or along the rights-of-way of the streets to be constructed; together with the acquisition of all easements, lands and rights-of-way necessary thereto.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said improvements and acquisitions to be constructed in the streets, avenues, lanes, roads, courts, places and/or public ways hereinabove described, will be of the dimensions, materials, and in the particular locations as set forth and shown on the plans and specifications and detailed drawings hereinafter referred to; together with the construction of all appurtenances thereto, including necessary fittings, trenchings, grading and regrading, excavation and fill, removal of obstructions, connections to existing services, back filling, reconstruction of existing ground surface as required to conditions existing prior to commencement of construction, all in the manner, of the materials, and to the dimensions and to the grades, and in the particular locations as the same will be more fully shown on the plans and specifications and detailed drawings hereinafter referred to:

That the structures and work and improvements herein described shall be constructed to the grades, sub-grades and elevations severally to be shown upon the plans and profiles and detailed drawings thereof in the respective locations thereof, which said grades are hereby adopted as the official grades therefor for all purposes in connection with the proceedings pursuant to this Resolution of Intention. Notice is hereby given that said grades may be new and different from those heretofore established or existing, or may be different from existing ground levels.

All of said work shall include, without duplication, any and all street intersections, terminations and opposite terminations occurring within the limitations of said work.

The attention of all persons is directed to the fact that not all of said classes of work above described may be constructed upon all of the streets and/or public ways above described in their entirety, but only upon the particular locations as shown on the plans and specifications hereafter referred to, which said plans and specifications shall govern as to all details with relation to the same.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin hereby makes the expenses and costs of said improvements and acquisitions chargeable upon a district, which said district said Board of Supervisors hereby declares the district benefited by the improvements and acquisitions herein described; said district shall include that territory in the County of Marin, State of California, which is shown on that certain map on file in the office of the County Clerk of the County of Marin and which is entitled and described "Boundary Map, Seacape Assessment District County of Marin, State of California", and which said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and covers all details as to the extent of the area to be assessed; said map is, by this reference, incorporated herein and made a part thereof.

Excepting from the area shown and delineated on said map hereinabove referred to, the area of all public streets, avenues, lanes, roads, drives, courts, places, public parks, and all easements and rights-of-way therein contained belonging to the public, and also all property owned by the County of Marin, the State of California, or the United States of America, contained therein, now in use in the performance of a public function.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum, shall be issued in the manner and form provided in Part 5, Division 7, of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California (Improvement Act of 1911) to represent unpaid assessments of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) or over, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the 2nd day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be payable to bearer, and may be redeemed as provided in the Improvement Act of 1911, and there shall be added to the redemption clause in said bonds the following words:

". . . together with a premium of five per cent (5%) of the unmatured principal."

In case of default, there shall be added to the defaulted amount 1% of the amount thereof, and on the 1st day of each month following such default there shall be added a further penalty of 1% of such defaulted amount. The 1% penalty first imposed shall be retained by the Treasurer as a cost of servicing the delinquency and all subsequent penalties shall be paid to the holder of the bond along with and as part of such defaulted payment.

Proceedings for all work shall be taken pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, and the bonds hereinabove described shall be issued under the provisions of the Improvement Act of 1911 as heretofore described.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10203 and 10204 of the Streets and Highways Code, being a part of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, the matter of the improvements and acquisitions herein referred to is hereby referred to WATSON S. CLIFFORD, Engineer of Work, and the person employed by this Board of Supervisors for the purpose of having charge and control of the improvements and acquisitions described in this resolution. Said WATSON S. CLIFFORD is hereby directed to make and file with the County Clerk of the County of Marin a report in writing containing the following:

a. Plans and specifications of the proposed improvement if the improvement is not already installed;
b. A general description of the works or appliances already installed and any other property necessary or convenient for the operation of the improvement, if the works, appliances or property are to be constructed as part of the improvement;
c. An estimate of the cost of the improvements and of the cost of lands, rights-of-way, easements and incidental expenses in connection with the improvements;
d. A diagram showing the assessment district and the boundaries and dimensions of the subdivisions of land within the district as they existed at the time of the passage of the Resolution of Intention. Each subdivision shall be given a separate number upon the diagram;
e. A proposed assessment of the total amount of the cost and expenses of the proposed improvements upon the several subdivisions of land in the district in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by each subdivision, respectively, from the improvements.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Board of Supervisors hereby finds that the Special Assessment, Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931 does not apply to these proceedings.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if any surplus remains in the Improvement Fund after the completion of the improvements and acquisitions and the payment of all claims from the Improvement Fund, said surplus shall be transferred to the general fund of the County if it does not exceed the lesser of $1,000.00 or 5% of the total amount expended from the Improvement Fund; otherwise said surplus shall be applied as a credit upon the assessment in the manner provided in Section 10427.1 of the Streets and Highways Code.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the intention of said Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin that the system of domestic water supply and the system of pipes, lines and other works or appliances to be used for providing a system of domestic water supply in said assessment district shall be sold to the SEACAPE MUTUAL WATER CORPORATION without competitive bidding. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin hereby finds that said improvements for supplying a system of domestic water supply cannot be economically and efficiently operated and maintained by the County of Marin for the reason that said County has no facilities for their operation or maintenance; for the further reason that the SEACAPE MUTUAL WATER CORPORATION is the only public utility which has the facilities for the operation and maintenance of said system of supplying domestic water; that advertising for bids for the sale of said system would be futile under the circumstances and the public interest will therefore not be furthered by asking for competitive bids for the sale of said system of domestic water supply.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Tuesday, the 14th day of December, 1965, at the hour of 1:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, at the meeting place of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, located in the Supervisors Chambers, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where persons objecting to the sale proposed herein to be made of the system of domestic water supply to the SEACAPE MUTUAL WATER CORPORATION may appear before the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin and show cause why the proposed sale should not be made. This Resolution of Intention to make said sale shall be published once weekly for two (2) successive weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, which is the newspaper hereby designated by this Board of Supervisors as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention, and all other notices or resolutions required to be published in these proceedings shall be published, said newspaper being a newspaper of general circulation in the County of Marin.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin to enter into an agreement with the PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY, under the terms of which the County of Marin will convey the system for electrical service to the PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10109-10111, inclusive, of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin to enter into an agreement with the PACIFIC TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY, under the terms of which the County of Marin will convey the system for telephone service to the PACIFIC TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10109-10111, inclusive, of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that the foregoing Resolution was duly and regularly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 9th day of November, 1965, by the following vote, to wit:

AYES: Supervisors William A. Gnoss, Byron W. Leydecker, Thomas T. Storer, Ernest N. Kettenhofen, Peter H. Behr.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 8723-e

IN THE MATTER OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF IMPROVEMENTS AND THE ACQUISITION OF EASEMENTS, LANDS AND RIGHTS-OF-WAY IN THE SEACAPE ASSESSMENT DISTRICT, COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, that it is the intention of said Board of Supervisors to order the following improvements and acquisitions to be made in the County of Marin, State of California, to wit:

The work to be accomplished is the grading, paving and asphalt concrete berm on Seacape Drive from its intersection with State Highway 1 and extending approximately 2,895 feet to its termination at Muir Beach Overlook; grading, paving and concrete curb and gutter on Muir Beach Overlook from its beginning at State Highway 1 and extending for approximately 390 feet to its termination at the County of Marin Overlook; grading, paving and asphalt concrete berm on Starbuck Drive from its intersection with Seacape Drive and extending approximately 1,520 feet to its termination in a cul de sac; grading paving and asphalt concrete berm on Ahab Drive from its intersection with Seacape Drive and extending approximately 1,000 feet to its termination in a cul de sac; storm drainage system namely catch basins, culverts of both 12" and 18" corrugated metal pipe and 12", 18" and 27" Reinforced concrete pipe; ditches, manholes and energy dissipators and appurtenances; a complete water system including acquisition of a well and site on Redwood Creek, installation of a pumping plant including hypochlorinator and automatic electric controls at the well site; a 4" offsite water transmission line extending approximately 5,460 feet, an in-tract 6" water distribution main and appurtenances including piping, valves, blow-offs and services approximately 5,400 feet in length located in the streets, acquisition of a tank site for water storage, construction of a 150,000 gal. water storage tank and installation of fire hydrants, valves and appurtenances; underground electric and telephone distribution lines including terminal and service boxes, transformer pads and risers from approximately Sta 26+90 to approximately Sta 37+50 on Seacape Drive and from Sta 0+00 to Sta 7+75 and approximately Sta 14+20 to 15+20 on Starbuck Drive; and miscellaneous appurtenances including, but not limited to, street signs and survey monuments in or along the rights-of-way of the streets to be constructed; together with the acquisition of all easements, lands and rights-of-way necessary thereto.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said improvements and acquisitions to be constructed in the streets, avenues, lanes, roads, courts, places and or public ways hereinabove described, will be of the dimensions, materials, and in the particular locations as set forth and shown on the plans and specifications and detailed drawings hereinafter referred to; together with the construction of all appurtenances thereto, including necessary fittings, trenchings, grading and regrading, excavation and fill, removal of obstructions, connections to existing services, back filling, reconstruction of existing ground surface as required to conditions existing prior to commencement of construction, all in the manner, of the materials, and to the dimensions and to the grades, and in the particular locations as the same will be more fully shown on the plans and specifications and detailed drawings hereinafter referred to:

That the structures and work and improvements herein described shall be constructed to the grades, sub-grades and elevations severally to be shown upon the plans and profiles and detailed drawings thereof in the respective locations thereof, which said grades are hereby adopted as the official grades therefor for all purposes in connection with the proceedings pursuant to this Resolution of Intention. Notice is hereby given that said grades may be new and different from those heretofore established or existing, or may be different from existing ground levels.

All of said work shall include, without duplication, any and all street intersections, terminations and opposite terminations occurring within the limitations of said work.

The attention of all persons is directed to the fact that not all of said classes of work above described may be constructed upon all of the streets and/or public ways above described in their entirety, but only upon the particular locations as shown on the plans and specifications hereafter referred to, which said plans and specifications shall govern as to all details with relation to the same.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin hereby makes the expenses and costs of said improvements and acquisitions chargeable upon a district, which said district said Board of Supervisors hereby declares the district benefited by the improvements and acquisitions herein described; said district shall include that territory in the County of Marin, State of California, which is shown on that certain map on file in the office of the County Clerk of the County of Marin and which is entitled and described "Boundary Map, Seacape Assessment District County of Marin, State of California", and which said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and covers all details as to the extent of the area to be assessed; said map is, by this reference, incorporated herein and made a part thereof.

Excepting from the area shown and delineated on said map hereinabove referred to, the area of all public streets, avenues, lanes, roads, drives, courts, places, public parks, and all easements and rights-of-way therein contained belonging to the public, and also all property owned by the County of Marin, the State of California, or the United States of America, contained therein, now in use in the performance of a public function.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum, shall be issued in the manner and form provided in Part 5, Division 7, of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California (Improvement Act of 1911) to represent unpaid assessments of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) or over, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the 2nd day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be payable to bearer, and may be redeemed as provided in the Improvement Act of 1911, and there shall be added to the redemption clause in said bonds the following words:

". . . together with a premium of five per cent (5%) of the unmatured principal."

In case of default, there shall be added to the defaulted amount 1% of the amount thereof, and on the 1st day of each month following such default there shall be added a further penalty of 1% of such defaulted amount. The 1% penalty first imposed shall be retained by the Treasurer as a cost of servicing the delinquency and all subsequent penalties shall be paid to the holder of the bond along with and as part of such defaulted payment.

Proceedings for all work shall be taken pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, and the bonds hereinabove described shall be issued under the provisions of the Improvement Act of 1911 as heretofore described.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10203 and 10204 of the Streets and Highways Code, being a part of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, the matter of the improvements and acquisitions herein referred to is hereby referred to WATSON S. CLIFFORD, Engineer of Work, and the person employed by this Board of Supervisors for the purpose of having charge and control of the improvements and acquisitions described in this resolution. Said WATSON S. CLIFFORD is hereby directed to make and file with the County Clerk of the County of Marin a report in writing containing the following:

a. Plans and specifications of the proposed improvement if the improvement is not already installed;

b. A general description of the works or appliances already installed and any other property necessary or convenient for the operation of the improvement, if the works, appliances or property are to be constructed as part of the improvement;

c. An estimate of the cost of the improvements and of the cost of lands, rights-of-way, easements and incidental expenses in connection with the improvements;

d. A diagram showing the assessment district and the boundaries and dimensions of the subdivisions of land within the district as they existed at the time of the passage of the Resolution of Intention. Each subdivision shall be given a separate number upon the diagram;

e. A proposed assessment of the total amount of the cost and expenses of the proposed improvements upon the several subdivisions of land in the district in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by each subdivision, respectively, from the improvements.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Board of Supervisors hereby finds that the Special Assessment, Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931 does not apply to these proceedings.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if any surplus remains in the Improvement Fund after the completion of the improvements and acquisitions and the payment of all claims from the Improvement Fund, said surplus shall be transferred to the general fund of the County if it does not exceed the lesser of $1,000.00 or 5% of the total amount expended from the Improvement Fund; otherwise said surplus shall be applied as a credit upon the assessment in the manner provided in Section 10427.1 of the Streets and Highways Code.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the intention of said Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin that the system of domestic water supply and the system of pipes, lines and other works or appliances to be used for providing a system of domestic water supply in said assessment district shall be sold to the SEACAPE MUTUAL WATER CORPORATION without competitive bidding. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin hereby finds that said improvements for supplying a system of domestic water supply cannot be economically and efficiently operated and maintained by the County of Marin for the reason that said County has no facilities for their operation or maintenance; for the further reason that the SEACAPE MUTUAL WATER CORPORATION is the only public utility which has the facilities for the operation and maintenance of said system of supplying domestic water; that advertising for bids for the sale of said system would be futile under the circumstances and the public interest will therefore not be furthered by asking for competitive bids for the sale of said system of domestic water supply.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Tuesday, the 14th day of December, 1965, at the hour of 1:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, at the meeting place of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, located in the Supervisors Chambers, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where persons objecting to the sale proposed herein to be made of the system of domestic water supply to the SEACAPE MUTUAL WATER CORPORATION may appear before the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin and show cause why the proposed sale should not be made. This Resolution of Intention to make said sale shall be published once weekly for two (2) successive weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, which is the newspaper hereby designated by this Board of Supervisors as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention, and all other notices or resolutions required to be published in these proceedings shall be published, said newspaper being a newspaper of general circulation in the County of Marin.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin to enter into an agreement with the PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY, under the terms of which the County of Marin will convey the system for electrical service to the PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10109-10111, inclusive, of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin to enter into an agreement with the PACIFIC TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY, under the terms of which the County of Marin will convey the system for telephone service to the PACIFIC TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10109-10111, inclusive, of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that the foregoing Resolution was duly and regularly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 9th day of November, 1965, by the following vote, to wit:

AYES: Supervisors William A. Gnoss, Byron W. Leydecker, Thomas T. Storer, Ernest N. Kettenhofen, Peter H. Behr.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
No. 43984

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF MARIN

In the matter of the Application of OBIE TYRONE JOHNSON for change of name.

OBIE TYRONE JOHNSON, a resident of the County of Marin, State of California, has this 7th day of October, 1965, filed his application praying for an order of this Court changing his name to the proposed name of PAUL ROBERT JOHNSON.

IT IS ORDERED that all persons interested in the above entitled matter appear before the said Superior Court, Dept. 4, at the Courthouse in said County on the 20th day of December, 1965, at 2:00 P.M. of said day, TO SHOW CAUSE, if any they have, why the said application for change of name should not be granted.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order be published, pursuant to Government Code Section 6064, in The Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the said County of Marin, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 20th day of December, 1965.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Movie Industry Has Good Opening Again

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television executives aren't just making noises when they worry aloud about the increasing shortage of movies for the home screen. The video industry is facing a crisis of the most embarrassing and overriding sort.

The real crisis is not merely the shortage of films, but the fact that without them television will lose one of its last, fragile claims to a reasonably adult entertainment audience.

With its constant emphasis on the young viewers, and its parallel cancellations of dramatic anthologies, television has said that its movie reruns—now four of them weekly on the networks — would in effect be its anthologies. But now even the substitutes for the real thing are running out.

Combined with the film shortage is the fact that, on both local and network stations, home viewers now have seen so many reruns of reruns of old (and pretty new) movies that they are getting sick and tired of watching the same old plots. They not only know the outcomes but probably also much of the dialogue. I personally could step tomorrow into almost any role in any George Brent movie.

Thus, with almost nothing of original entertainment interest left for the adult televiewer, save an occasional special, video's chief claims on the grownup audience will be sports and public affairs.

Television therefore will be in the extraordinary position of having some of its brilliantly educated and sophisticated entertainment executives concerned mainly with putting on shows for children, women over 50 and a cross-section of morons of all ages.

The movies, who might have controlled video from its inception if they hadn't tried to sweep it under the rug, still don't seem to realize the tremendous opening they have again. Even though dependent on television revenue to keep some studios going, they can produce the supplyl — at a premium — for which there is now such a demand. It is a potential weapon for them against video domination.

The trouble is that if television isn't very creative, it is at least more efficient than the moviemakers, who apparently would rather hang separately in keeping with their new found school of independence. Thus, via abdication, television overwhems the movies.

The Castillo de San Marcos in St. Augustine, Fla., is the oldest masonry fort still standing in the United States.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 14th day of December, 1965, at the hour of 1:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, there will be a hearing on the Resolution of Intention for the Seacape Assessment District, County of Marin, State of California, and on the Engineer's Report filed pursuant thereto. Said hearing will be held at the meeting place of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, located in the Supervisors Chambers, Civic Center, San Rafael, California. The purpose of the hearing is to consider any and all protests that may be filed against the improvements and acquisitions to be made, the extent of the assessment district, or the proposed assessment.

The Resolution of Intention provides for the construction of certain improvements and the acquisition of easements, lands and rights-of-way in said Seacape Assessment District. Said Resolution of Intention, adopted on the 9th day of November, 1965, and the Engineer's Report filed pursuant thereto on November 9, 1965, in the office of the County Clerk of the County of Marin are referred to for all matters in connection with said proposed improvements and acquisitions.

Any persons interested in objecting to the proposed improvements and acquisitions, the extent of the assessment district, or to the proposed assessment, may file written protest with the County Clerk of the County of Marin at or before the time herein fixed for hearing. All protests must be in writing and addressed to the County Clerk of the County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

The total estimated cost of the improvements and acquisitions to be made to be assessed upon the district is the sum of $287,900.00.

DATED: November 9, 1965.

Negro Vote Registration On Increase

By JAMES FREE
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The rate of new Negro voter registration in the South has now increased to about 77,000 a month, Justice Department officials said Friday.

But some civil rights leaders are still displeased with the pace and want federal examiners sent over the South to "stimulate" the Negro voter enrollment.

Atty Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach has rejected this suggestion on the ground that it exceeds authority granted him in the voting rights act of 1965. The law, as he sees it, requires the Justice Department to remove discriminatory bars to Negro enrollment — not to take steps to stimulate the process.

The task of promoting enrollment, or stimulating it, in the attorney general's opinion, is up to the political parties or to private groups and organizations.

This i. the current picture, as drawn by an authoritative Justice Department source. It is pointed out that the present new Negro voter registration rate, achieved largely through voluntary local compliance with the new act, is almost up to the goal set by those calling for a massive operation of federal examiners.

"The Negro leaders called for a new voter enrollment rate of about 80,000 Negroes a month," the spokesman said, "and we are now running at the rate of about 77,000 a month on the average. We are talking now about the overall rate in eight states: Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia."

Negro voter registration in the five Deep South states — Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina — was estimated at 588,000. When the voting rights law went into effect Aug. 9. Since then there has been an increase of about 30 per cent — accounted for by 110,000 who were voluntarily registered locally and 56,000 who were qualified by federal examiners, according to latest tabulations.

Civil rights groups say they will move to step up the Negro registration rate. But even if the pace remains at present levels, the total by general election time in 1966 will be at least double the 588,000 of last August.

Katzenbach stresses the importance of progress through local voluntary compliance to the fullest extent possible. He terms this "the most natural and most effective method." And beyond question this method leaves less resentment and bitterness than enrollment by federal examiners.

The attorney general has ordered these examiners to 32 counties, it was explained, because of: 1) Outright resistance to the new law, 2) Foot dragging and 3) Refusal to drop literacy tests.

John Doar, assistant attorney general in charge of the civil rights division, and attorneys from his office try to persuade reluctant local officials that voluntary compliance is the best policy. Their message from Katzenbach is that local registrars must "make every reasonable effort" to handle Negro applicants as the new law requires.

Not long ago a liberal Congressman demanded to know why federal examiners had not been dispatched to Barbour County, Ala., home base of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, bitter opponent of the new law.

Doar replied that local authorities had voluntarily registered 1,264 new Negro voters since the law went into effect, twice as many as listed as qualified voters in Barbour County last spring (611).

That appeared to meet the test of "reasonable effort."

New Fire Engine On Council Agenda

The San Anselmo City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today in city hall, will be asked to award a contract for a new fire engine.

The council will also listen to Harry Johnson, who has asked for a rehearing on his proposed Ronald Court subdivision off the Alameda. Councilmen last month rejected Johnson's request for a waiver of the city's slope policy. Johnson asked for a rehearing on the matter, saying he was not informed when the council was considering it.

Kidney Stone Formers Must Hold Off On Consumption Of Calcium

VAN DELLEN

A Detroit woman has a married son with a kidney problem. "He is a natural stone former and has passed six BB-sized pebbles. These are torturous experiences and he is becoming despondent. His physician says the stones are made of calcium and he should avoid foods rich in this chemical. Is there anything else to do?"

Some people are natural stone formers, and the cause is not always obvious. The urinary tract should be examined by a urologist to make sure that an infection, obstruction, or congenital defect does not exist. We assume this has been done and the kidneys are otherwise normal and functioning properly.

These little rocks form because too much calcium is leaving the body via the kidneys. The urine is oversaturated, and the calcium salts are crystallizing and forming calculi. Anyone with this problem should drink two or more quarts of liquid a day to avoid oversaturation of the urine. The chemical remains in dissolved form and does not crystallize. Calcium also remains in solution when the urine is acid, and therefore acid ash diets and drugs such as ammonium chloride are helpful. These regimens are not recommended for long periods because they are difficult to follow. The daily use of aspirin is said to be of value.

It is more practical to reduce the intake of foods rich in calcium including dairy products, egg yolk, green olives, turnip greens, broccoli, kale, and dry beans. The same can be said of excessive vitamin A intake. Since many chronic stone formers also have phosphorous stones, they should avoid overindulgence in meats, milk, eggs, cheese, and cereals. The absorption of phosphorous from the intestines is lessened by taking an aluminum hydroxide gel four times a day.

Excessive calcium appears in the blood when the parathyroid glands are overactive. Immobilization such as being bedridden for months because of illness or an accident is another cause. The chemicals leave the bone, enter the bloodstream and are excreted via the urine.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

STONE IN DUCT

E. J. writes: Could a stone in the common duct cause a person to vomit after eating?

REPLY

Yes, but severe pain and jaundice are more common symptoms of obstruction of this passageway that brings bile from the liver and gallbladder to the intestine.

A READING PROBLEM

REPLY

Yes, if you refer to a heart that is sensitive to and easily affected by nicotine. The remedy is obvious.

Eye Surgery Helps Cure Reading Defects

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

ARLINGTON, Va.—Simple but controversial muscle-tightening eye surgery reportedly has cured the reading defects of a number of problem students.

Before surgery, some of the problem readers had been suffering from an almost-undetectable muscle imbalance, says Dr. Edward A. Dunlap of Cornell University. In a few instances, chronic young failures went on to better work and one boy made the sixth-grade honor role.

The picture, however, is not so rosy to a second ophthalmologist, Dr. Goodwin M. Breinin of New York University takes a dim view of surgery for small muscle imbalances which prevent the eyes from fixing simultaneously on the same object.

"If he (Dr. Dunlap) is right, he'll have to convince 99 per cent of his fellow ophthalmologists," Dr. Breinin told science writers at a seminar sponsored by Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc.

Dr. Dunlap estimated that 20 to 30 per cent of American youngsters have reading problems. They can be divided into three groups but the largest single segment have defects that are probably correctable.

These are emotional factors, glandular problems, a slow maturing rate, educational shortcomings, or a physical visual defect.

Dr. Dunlap said that 10 to 15 per cent of the remedial reading problems may be because of muscle imbalance.

"It must be remembered that eye muscle surgery is not being recommended for all children with reading problems, nor as a cure-all for every type of defect," he said. "But it is advised when a muscle imbalance, no matter how small, can be elicited and no other factor exists."

He described the progress of 40 patients, from one to three years after corrective surgery. Some previously had undergone as many as five years of futile training and eye exercise and others had been diagnosed as mentally retarded.

After surgery all displayed improvement in measured reading performance, reading comfort, scholastic improvement or sounder emotions, he said.

One child had failed the first grade twice. But after surgery and some catch-up work the youngster quickly advanced to the third grade, he said. Another was going to be denied entry to the first grade because of poor picture drawing ability, but after surgery went to school and is doing well.

In taking issue with surgery for tiny muscle imbalance, Dr. Breinin said much more proof is needed that the "cures" are due to the surgery rather than the strong suggestion to the child that something had been done about his problem.

Dr. Breinin said he is willing to be convinced, but most of the cases he has seen don't seem to justify the procedure.

Dr. Dunlap described the operation as a simple one in which the surgeon re-balances the eye by snipping a piece of the strap-like muscle holding the eyeball in position. This has the effect of pulling the eye back into the line it should be fixed on.

When this imbalance is minute, the diagnosis takes more time, he said, but it is worth it. The reason most ophthalmologists ignore it is because of a fear of overcorrection, he said, or the mistaken belief that the small imbalances are not important.

Subtle eye defects create a gamut of problems, Dr. Breinin said. But his own belief is that medication and non-surgical means will eventually correct many of them.

He said drops have already proved useful in helping to correct one kind of squint or cross eyes associated with farsightedness.

Sometimes the drops, called anticholinesterase, are used with spectacles to correct defects. But alone they can stimulate the neural mechanism into making the adjustment. The drops don't actually change the power of the eye.

Crosseyes occurs in many forms. In the common form the eyes turn in or cross. One or both eyes may turn out.

Surgery often straightens the eye, but it doesn't correct the basic functional defect, Dr. Breinin said. With new understanding of how drugs work on eye muscles, they might soon replace the knife.

Clay Whips Patterson; May Fight Terrell Next

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, having made good on his boast to skin "The Rabbit" — Floyd Patterson — said today he would be willing to take on Ernie Terrell within three months "if he's the best man and the public wants it."

"Whoever is the best man — that's for me," shouted the triumphant Clay, or Muhammad Ali, following his one-sided, one-knockdown, technical knockout over the game, back-injured Patterson in 2:18 of the 12th round at Convention Center last night.

Referee Harry Krause stopped the slaughter with the 30-year-old, former two-time champion still on his feet although his face was battered and swollen and his legs seemed ready to go under him at any second. But he had been down only from a knockdown in the sixth round.

"I wanted to stop it a round earlier — it was hurting me to watch," said the referee, who called in Dr. Donald Romeo after the 11th round. "I said to Floyd 'between you and me, and man to man, would you like to continue?' He said he wanted to continue."

Patterson, in obvious pain despite having been given two spinal injections after the fight, said he developed muscle spasms in his back in the third round. He apologized to the American public for not having put up a better fight against the all-conquering Clay.

"I am very sorry about what happened tonight," he said. "I had hoped to give Americans a better fight. Unfortunately I was not able to do so.

"I am not going to use my back as an excuse," he said. "Then, with a wry grin, he added: "I am not going to use my beard and moustache."

That was a reference to his flight from Chicago, wearing a fake beard and moustache, the night he was knocked out in the first round of his first fight with Sonny Liston in 1962.

He had only praise for the victor.

"Mr. Clay can become a great fighter," he said. "He needs more experience. I don't think be benefitted much from tonight except perhaps in confidence.

"I think Ernie Terrell will give him a better fight. He has a great jab and could give Clay a lot of trouble."

"Everyone says Terrell is the best," said Clay, "If he's the best, then I want him."

If he fights Terrell — and Madison Square Garden's Harry Markson said he'd like to put it on in New York — it would help clear up the heavyweight muddle although the 23-year-old Louisville Lip generally is regarded as the king of them all.

Clay and Patterson both posted $50,000 bond agreements that the winner would defend the title against the 6-foot-6 Chicagoan within six months. The World Boxing Association stripped Clay of title recognition for signing a forbidden return bout with Liston.

Terrell then gained WBA recognition as champion when he outpointed Eddie Machen at Chicago in an elimination bout. Patterson refused to fight him. Floyd preferred to meet Clay first.

Although Patterson said he was not quitting yet, this may have been his swan song. He is the only fighter ever to win the heavyweight crown twice. He has fought 12 title fights, winning eight by knockouts and losing four the same way, and has grossed more than $7.5 millions.

Clay, taller, faster and stronger, handed Patterson a fearful beating and a boxing lesson. Apparently he held to one of his pre-fight statements that he planned to punish "The Rabbit."

The 23-year-old, 6-foot-3 speedster, did nothing but dance and taunt Floyd in the first round. But from the second round on it was pop, pop, pop, with stinging left jabs right smack on target, followed by sharp left-right combinations to the head. He rarely went to the body.

Clay denied that he had carried Patterson. He showed his bare fists. The knuckles on both hands were swollen.

"I didn't carry him," declared Clay. "He took my best punches. He didn't fall. He was determined. He's a good fighter. You gotta give him credit.

Rudy Clay, the champ's brother, had staged a spectator spectacle during the bout. He stood up and shouted to his brother:

"Play with this Uncle Tom. Play with that Rabbit. You're

Cassius Toyed With Patterson And Gave Him Awful Whupping

Even in living black and white on the giant Richmond Auditorium closed-circuit TV screen you could tell, as early as the second round, that this was a classic game of Cat and Mouse. Cat-ssius Clay or Muhammad Ali Cat against Mousey Patterson.

I kept score on this heavyweight championship of the world and gave Patterson the first round because he got off his stool. I gave old Personal Pronoun every other round and I awarded Eddie Fisher the Stars Spangled Banner over Robert "I Forget the Words" Goulet.

THIS WAS the greatest mismatch since I said "I do." Actually, Patterson won the first round on the strength of a couple of long lefts that hit Clay on the mouth. That's not difficult to do, because Clay earned about $750,000 for this fight and he is the only man I know who can put that kind of money where his mouth is. In one dollar bills.

FROM THE second round on Clay was in complete command. I got the impression he was pulling his punches and could have sent Floyd nighty-night at any time. But as Mighty Mouth said afterwards, "I predicted I'd give him a good whupping and that's just what I did." He played with him, folks, and gave Floyd an awful whupping.

I think a lot of people paid a lot of good money to see Cassius Clay "carry" Floyd Patterson for 11 rounds, 2 minutes and 18 seconds. I wouldn't have been surprised to hear him say, "He ain't heavy Father, he's my brudder."

IN THE sixth round Floyd Patterson was either knocked down or did the greatest genuflect you've ever seen. He went to one knee as if in worship to the great religion of Muhammad Ali.

Actually, Patterson was on the deck twice. I think it was the second round when he tripped and went to the canvas for a no-count. I scored it as a Floydian slip.

ALONG ABOUT the seventh round, they started helping Floyd back into his corner. In the eighth round it was a matter of time. It's a cinch Clay wasn't the chiropractors give you—the kind that make you say ugh, arrgh, ay-e-e-e. In the ninth round Floyd looked like he had a few too many. Clay could have blown him down, and it's lucky they had the Las Vegas Convention Center doors closed, because a draft would have scored an eight count.

AFTER THE 10th round if someone handed Floyd a paper doll he would have cut it out. After the 11th round it was a metter of time. It's a cinch Clay wasn't going to really uncork a knockout punch; he was having too much fun. It took the merciful act of the referee to put the mouse out of his misery.

The Mouth again prevailed and I'm sorry to say we're stuck with him. Clay is a classic fighter with the speed of a middleweight, hands of a magician and feet of an Astaire.

I FELT very sorry for Floyd Patterson and hoped that they would stop his punishment long before the 12th round. But in the post-fight interview he said something that changed my mind. "This is no excuse," he said, "but I've had trouble with my back . . ."

Oh, my aching back.

The crowd at Richmond Auditorium hooted and howled at that.

FLOYD PATTERSON conned his fans into thinking he could whip the greatest heavyweight in the world with a bad back.

In a nutshell, last night was a case of Cassius Clay carrying a crippled has-been for 11 rounds, 2 minutes, 18 seconds.

I felt cheated. And I got in for nothing. How about you, Bunkie?

Weird Title Fights Among The Heavies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A series of strange fights that started when Floyd Patterson gained the heavyweight championship eight years ago continued last night when Patterson apparently was stripped of his power by an eight-year-old back injury.

Muhammad Ali, who won the title when he was named Cassius Clay, successfully defended his crown in Las Vegas by gaining a 12th round technical knockout over a game but powerless Patterson, who said after the fight he has had trouble with his back since 1957.

Patterson's back joins some extremely good anatomical company — the Toonder and Lightnin' right hand of Ingemar Johansson, the moustache and beard attached to Patterson's face, the baleful eyes and injured shoulder of Sonny Liston and the mouth of Clay.

It all began in 1956 when Rocky Marciano retired undefeated and Patterson knocked out Archie Moore in five rounds for the vacant title.

In his first defense in 1957, Patterson knocked out Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in 10 rounds, then began a series of fights with opponents who, in general, were not considered among the leader contenders.

Patterson was criticized for making his next defense in 1959 against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, but the prohibitive underdog with the Toonder and Lightnin' right hand knocked the champion out in three rounds.

Patterson was the underdog in the return bout a year later, but it was Johansson who went down for the count in five rounds as Patterson became the first man in boxing history to regain the heavyweight championship.

Patterson again knocked out the Swede in a 1961 rubber match before Patterson took on another disputed contender in Tom McNeeley, who was given little chance and didn't have much before being knocked out in four rounds.

In 1962, Liston, the Bear, entered the picture and is supposed to have stared Patterson into submission.

In their first fight, Patterson was knocked out in the first round, then donned a moustache, beard and dark glasses and skipped town quietly in his disguise.

Liston made a virtual carbon copy of the first fight when he again kayoed Patterson in the first round of their return bout a year later.

The year 1964 brought Clay on the scene and found Liston sitting on his stool at the end of the sixth round, unable to continue because of an injured shoulder.

The return bout earlier this year was the now-famous One-Minute Fight when Clay knocked out Liston in Lewston, Maine.

UCLA Fans Whoop It Up In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jubilation runs through rainy Westwood today: UCLA is Rose Bowl bound.

Eight Pacific Athletic Conference members met yesterday in San Francisco and voted the Bruins to represent the West Coast against Michigan State in the Jan. 1 classic.

In Los Angeles, at Wilshire and Westwood Boulevards, the celebration was already in full swing.

An estimated 5,000 students assembled to honor the conference champions at a campus rally. Tommy Prothro—who last year coached Oregon State to the bowl and then resigned to direct the Bruins—told the indoor rally:

"The whole season has been a great one. These are good football players. They are great —with poise and character."

Some 3,000 of his listeners then donned raincoats and umbrellas to walk, chanting, a mile to the busy intersection.

Traffic was stalled for 10 minutes while cheerleaders tolled the traditional victory bell.

The season's major victory came Saturday from the rival University of Southern California Trojans as quarterback Gary Beban sparked the Bruins to a 20-16 come-from-behind victory.

The upset gave the Bruins the conference title and cinched their bowl berth.

"I'm still not too sure what happened against USC," Prothro told yesterday's Southern California Football Writers luncheon.

He had high praise for sophomore Beban and his fourth-quarter touchdown scoring passes of 34 and 52 yards that won the game.

Turning to the Bowl and undefeated Michigan State, Prothro asked writers to withhold judgment.

"I don't write off our chances at all," he said. UCLA is the underdog in the post-season contest. It met the Spartans in BALTIMORE, Md. — Prince Glory, $5, took the lead on the first turn and flashed to a seven-length victory over Misty Lad in the Aylesbury Purse at Pimlico.

LINCOLN, R.I. — Brzina, $3.40, took the Inaugural Purse at Lincoln Downs.

SAN MATEO, Calif. — Clear Passage, $7.40, posted a one-half length triumph over Mr. Conservative in the feature at Bay Meadows.

Guy Hot, Warriors Tip Hawks

NEW YORK (AP) — Guy Rodgers' new found scoring excellence presents a problem for the New York Knicks who meet his San Francisco Warriors tonight in a National Basketball Association game.

Rodgers, a 30-year-old guard in his eighth season, scored 39 points yesterday as the Warriors beat the injury-plagued St. Louis Hawks, 112-108.

He pumped in a career high of 47 points Friday in Los Angeles.

The Warriors moved to a 57-49 halftime lead over St. Louis, sparked by a 16-point output by Rodgers.

The Hawks closed the margin to 82-78 with 90 seconds left in the third quarter. Rodgers hit a quick jump shot with 20 seconds left for an 86-80 Warrior lead going into the final period.

The Hawks played without captain Len Wilkens, who suffered an injured arm Saturday against Detroit. Cliff Hagan, who scored 13 in the first half, was sidelined in the last with a strained back.

Leading the Hawks were Richie Guerin, player-coach, and Zelmo Beaty with 29 each.

Seven Tars Get All-GVC Grid Honors

Seven members of the College of Marin football team have been selected for All Golden Valley Conference recognition for the 1965 season. Three Tars were chosen for the first team, and four received honorable mention from the selection committee.

The three first-team selections were defensive stars for Marin: tackle Pete Dornbach, end Bob Edelstein, and safety Dave Cericola. Also honored were linebacker Norm Kreuter and three offensive players: quarterback Mike Kemp, end Bill Hall, and guard Frank Onorato.

All seven played their high school football in Marin County; Kemp, Edelstein, Onorato and Cericola played at Drake; Dornbach and Kreuter played together at Tamalpais; and Hall played for Terra Linda.

Giles Rules Out Expansion In '66

NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Giles, president of the National League, virtually has ruled out any further expansion plans until at least the 1967 major league baseball season.

Testifying yesterday in the anti-trust suit brought to keep the Milwaukee Braves from moving to Atlanta for the 1966 season, Giles said it would be impossible for the league to place another team in Milwaukee immediately.

"It would be most impractical and impossible to grant a franchise forthwith," said Giles. "You can't think in terms of expansion without at least two teams."

Willard Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin, then noted that Giles had said earlier that both Milwaukee and Dallas-Fort Worth were seeking franchises.

"It's pretty late to draw up a feasible schedule," Giles said. "It can't be changed without damage to other clubs who have sold tickets. I also don't know enough about Dallas-Fort Worth, and their letter indicates they wouldn't have enough seating for 1966.

"The big objection to expansion is player supply. We saw the impact it had on the talent supply. The talent supply is shrinking because there are

TELEVISION REVIEW

Movie Industry Has Good Opening Again

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television executives aren't just making noises when they worry aloud about the increasing shortage of movies for the home screen. The video industry is facing a crisis of the most embarrassing and overriding sort.

The real crisis is not merely the shortage of films, but the fact that without them television will lose one of its last, fragile claims to a reasonably adult entertainment audience.

With its constant emphasis on the young viewers, and its parallel cancellations of dramatic anthologies, television has said that its movie reruns—now four of them weekly on the networks — would in effect be its anthologies. But now even the substitutes for the real thing are running out.

Combined with the film shortage is the fact that, on both local and network stations, home viewers now have seen so many reruns of reruns of old (and pretty new) movies that they are getting sick and tired of watching the same old plots. They not only know the outcomes but probably also much of the dialogue. I personally could step tomorrow into almost any role in any George Brent movie.

Thus, with almost nothing of original entertainment interest left for the adult televiewer, save an occasional special, video's chief claims on the grownup audience will be sports and public affairs.

Television therefore will be in the extraordinary position of having some of its brilliantly educated and sophisticated entertainment executives concerned mainly with putting on shows for children, women over 50 and a cross-section of morons of all ages.

The movies, who might have controlled video from its inception if they hadn't tried to sweep it under the rug, still don't seem to realize the tremendous opening they have again. Even though dependent on television revenue to keep some studios going, they can produce the supply! — at a premium — for which there is now such a demand. It is a potential weapon for them against video domination.

The trouble is that if television isn't very creative, it is at least more efficient than the moviemakers, who apparently would rather hang separately in keeping with their new found school of independence. Thus, via abdication, television overwhelms the movies.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State's powerful Spartans tightened their grip on the No. 1 position in The Associated Press poll today and moved closer to the national college football championship.

They were so impressive in beating Notre Dame last Saturday 12-3 in the Game of the Year that they were named top team on 34 of the 43 ballots of a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

It was the most impressive showing of the year.

Undefeated Arkansas got the remaining nine nominations and held second place, with Nebraska, also unbeaten and untied, continuing as the third member of the year's Big Three.

Another poll will be staged after this week's few remaining games and the final balloting, determining the national championship, will be held after the bowl games on New Year's Day.

The decision to delay the final poll until after the New Year was made because of the broad growth of the post-season attractions and the involvement of most of the teams in the Top Ten.

Actually, eight of the Top Ten will be in action after the regular season.

Michigan State, No. 1, plays UCLA, No. 4 in the Rose Bowl. Arkansas, No. 2, opposes Louisiana State, a non-ranker, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Nebraska, No. 3, and Alabama, No. 5, tie up in the Orange Bowl at Miami. The seventh-ranked team, Missouri, is in the Sugar Bowl with Florida. Tennessee, No. 9, plays in the Bluebonnet Bowl and Texas Tech, No. 10, is in the Gator Bowl agains Georgia Tech.

That leaves only Notre Dame, No. 6, and Southern California, No. 8, among the top-ranking teams which will not be seen in post-season play.

While Michigan State was solidifying its No. 1 ranking and Arkansas and Nebraska were hanging in there close, waiting for the Spartans to slip just once, the rest of the standings underwent some juggling.

UCLA leaped from eighth to fourth after upsetting Southern Cal 20-16 for the Rose Bowl spot and the Trojans fell two notches from sixth.

Alabama remained in fifth place, just ahead of Notre Dame, falling from fourth.

Missouri climbed one rung on the strength of its 44-20 victory over Kansas. Tennessee, 19-3 winner over Kentucky, moved back into the select company, taking over the ninth spot vacated when Texas Tech, loser to Arkansas 42-24, fell to 10th.

Florida, upset 16-13 by Miami, was the team which vacated its Big Ten lease.

Of the ranking teams, Alabama, Notre Dame, UCLA and Tennessee have games remaining. Alabama plays Auburn and Notre Dame meets Miami Saturday. Tennessee faces Vanderbilt Saturday and UCLA Dec. 4.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses, season records and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Michigan State	(34)	10-0	420
2. Arkansas	(9)	10-0	391
3. Nebraska		10-0	338
4. UCLA		7-1-1	262
5. Alabama		7-1-1	260
6. Notre Dame		7-2	202
7. Missouri		7-2-1	157
8. Southern California		6-2-1	81
9. Tennessee		5-1-2	53
10. Texas Tech		8-2	51

The others receiving votes, in alphabetical order: Dartmouth, Duke, Florida, Georgia Tech, Louisiana State, Ohio State, Princeton, Purdue, Syracuse, Tulsa.

the heavyweight Sugar Ray Robinson."

Both Clays are Black Muslims and Clay has berated Patterson often for his derogatory statements about the sect.

"I thought he had Patterson four or five times but let up on the pressure," said retired heavyweight king Rocky Marciano. He did not elaborate.

The knockdown in the sixth round came after Patterson had absorbed a barrage in a corner. His right glove touched the canvas and he was down momentarily.

As the referee was tolling the mandatory eight-count, he stopped at five and ordered Clay to go to a neutral corner. He waited four more seconds for Clay to get in the corner and resumed counting. This time the count went to nine.

Patterson never landed a jarring blow in the entire fight. He several times attempted his famed leaping left hook that had knocked out Archie Moore and Ingemar Johansson, but mostly it was blocked or was way off target. Many of the swings were feeble.

Referee Harry Krause had Clay ahead 53-46 on the five points must system, and 8-2-1 in rounds. He gave Patterson the first and 11th and called the fifth even. Judge Bill Stremmell had it 54-43 in points and 10-1 in rounds. He gave Patterson the first.

Judge Harold Buck had it 54-45 and 10-1 in rounds, also giving Floyd the first. The AP card had it 54-44 and 10-1 in rounds, awarding Patterson the first — Clay's dancing, prancing, punchless round.

The promoters said the attendance was 8,106, of which 7,402 paid, and the gross receipts $300,011. The bout was radio broadcast and telecast to the theaters and arenas in the United States and Canada. It was also beamed by Early Bird Satellite to theaters in the British Isles.

Clay may have earned $750,000 on his 40 per cent, and Patterson $375,000 on his 20 per cent.

It was the 17th straight heavyweight title fight in 11½ years to end short of the limit and was a lot longer than most everyone believed possible. The betting was even money in this legal gambling center that it wouldn't go more than five.

Clay, a 13-5 favorite at fight time, weighed 210 pounds in boosting his record to 22-0, including 18 knockouts. Patterson, who scaled 196¾, now has a 43-5 record, four of them knockout losses.

fewer minor league teams."

Giles was the second baseball official to give a deposition to attorneys for Milwaukee County and the State of Wisconsin in the antitrust suit against the Braves. Retiring Commissioner Ford Frick testified Nov. 12 and will resume his testimony today.

The county's suit, also being brought against the National League and the other nine teams, charges the move of the Braves to Atlanta violates the antitrust laws. The suit seeks to block the move, scheduled for 1966, unless Milwaukee gets another major league team.

Earlier during Giles' testimony it was revealed that the present owners of the Braves had started negotiations to move the team to Atlanta about seven months after they purchased the club, or in July, 1963.

Steven Keane, special council for Milwaukee County, introduced a letter to Giles's from William Bartholomy, chairman of the Braves' board of directors. The letter, dated Sept. 25, 1964, said in part:

"We always have attempted to keep the commissioner abreast of our plans and, as a matter of fact, we first discussed our interest and preliminary contract with the Atlanta authorities over a year ago. Our interest in this territory has not wavered during the past 14 months..."

Fourteen months from September, 1964, would be July 1963 — the middle of the first season the Braves operated under the Bartholomy group.

East Lansing earlier this season and lost, 13-3.

Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty, feted in a similar luncheon at Chicago's Playboy Club, was all confidence: "Before the season started everyone said we couldn't lose with the personnel we had.

"Well, we didn't.

"As for UCLA, when we played them, we noticed a defensive weakness." He did not say what it was but added: "They've changed a lot since then."

Of the Bruins' one remaining season game with Tennessee Dec. 4, Daugherty warned: "Playing Tennessee in Memphis is like playing Notre Dame in Rome."

Prothro is on record as saying the Tennessee game is unimportant, compared to the Rose Bowl.

The Spartans have met the Bruins twice before in Pasadena, winning both times, 28-20 in 1954 and 17-14 in 1956.

Prothro gave his squad yesterday off to participate in the demonstrations. USC's Trojans, facing their last game next Saturday with Wyoming, canceled practice because of the rain.

A Salute To An Angler After Hauling In His 54th Striper

STEVENS

Let's start today's column by giving an imaginary salute to an angler, who, on Friday, hooked, played, and landed his 54th striped bass. The angler's name is Leonard Tallant; he lives in Sebastopol, he uses sardine fillets for bait and this 54th fish weighed an even 36 pounds. Try to imagine a 36 pound fresh-run striper hooked on light tackle while using no sinker. Some sport, eh?

Landing big bass is no novelty for Tallant, according to Davis Campbell who operates the Golden Hinde Boatel at Inverness.

"Not long ago, Tallant landed a 26 and a 29 pounder."

SORRY TO REPORT that the nice run of silver salmon slacked off and then apparently quit cold. But the stripera — nice fresh run hefty fish — are being taken most every day . . . usually the most action is had toward the end of the day. On Saturday, Davis reported a 2 or 3 fish average per boat. He also told me his "Aide," Bill Carlton found time after his chores were over to go fishing. Bill limited out two nights in succession with bass to about 16 pounds. Bill uses no sinker.

SUETTA LAGRONE, the pint sized boss of Dillon's Point, reported the hard rains muddied the trail from the Stonehouse to the parking area, but walking isn't crowded and it's a short walk to the rocky shore of the Carquinez Strait. "Lots of nice flounders are being caught and some bass—all on bait; no one has done any plug-casting lately."

All stripers taken at Dillon's Point the past week have been taken on either sardines or grass shrimp. Suetta reports that the grass shrimp has appealed to a large number of flounders.

THE PARTY boats out of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor have been generous to their patrons lately. Those aboard the Happy Days No. 3, sure had a field day on Friday and Saturday. On one trip Johnny Sivera netted 10 large bass and 6 sturgeons to 85 pounds. Skipper Arnie unloaded 27 stripers from 14 to 25 pounds; Charlie Schultz reported his own stint — limits three TIMES OUT WITH FISH FROM 18 to 25 POUNDS.

There is great cheer around China Camp these days. Alice Quan reported lots of stripers and oodles of good sized flounders for anyone fishing for them. Bud Fireman, of Fairfax, landed a limit to 18 pounds, using bullheads for bait.

Runners Repeat Their Cross Country Title

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — John Lawson of Kansas, strong all the way despite a wicked pace, was a convincing winner and Western Michigan repeated as team champion in the 27th NCAA Cross Country Championships yesterday.

Lawson, the Big Eight champion and unbeaten this season, finished 100 yards ahead of Georgetown's Eamon O'Reilley after favored Doug Brown of Montana collapsed early in the last mile and failed to finish.

Lawson's time was an excellent 29:24. The meet was run at six miles for the first time and at Kansas for the first time. All past meets were run on the four-mile Michigan State course.

"My strategy was just to go with Brown," Lawson said. "I finally got him at about 4½ miles. Then he started faltering."

Brown the NCAA six-mile and two-mile outdoor champion, led at each of the first four miles, with Lawson right off his shoulder.

The pace was so gruelling that Brown's four-mile time of 19:25 was faster than the winning time for the same distance in the NCAA meet at Michigan State last year, with snow on the ground in 36-degree weather. This time it was sunny and 57 degrees.

Defending champion Elmore Banton of Ohio University was seventh.

"The pace was fast," Lawson said. "At four miles I thought to myself this is the time to go by him, but I just couldn't move any faster. Everything was in my favor today. It's my home course and I had the home crowd backing me."

The slim 135-pound senior had to cut the interview short.

"I've got to run to class," he said. And he did.

O'Reilley, the IC4A champ, was 18 seconds behind Lawson but 16 seconds ahead of third-place Christian Westman of Washington State.

Western Michigan's five best runners compiled 81 points. Low score wins. Northwestern's Big Ten champs were second with 116. Tennessee had 139, Georgetown 143, Oklahoma State 191, Kansas 211, Kansas State 231, Oregon 236 and Notre Dame 237.

Robert Redington of Tennessee was fourth and Raymond McCubbins of Oklahoma State fifth.

The Coaches' Association voted unanimously to recommend the meet be returned to Kansas in 1966. Committee approval is a formality. St. John's of New York and Wyoming both bid for the 1967 meet.

BOB ALVARADO IS I-J CHAMP GRID PICKER

Bob Alvarado, a newcomer to the I-J panel of "Fearless, Peerless Pikskin Prognosticators," ran off with first place honors his first time out of the gates.

The I-J prep statistician picked the winning team 79 times in 113 tries through the football season for a percentage of .700.

Alvarado finished two games ahead of sports editor Jim Gilmartin and prep writer Maurice Weinger who tied with 77-36 records. Gilmartin and Weinger had tied for the "championship" last grid season.

Staff writer Ralph Chatoian was seven full games off the pace at 72-41, and columnist Ed Randol was on the bottom, despite picking 11 out 12 winners in the final week, with a 65-48 record.

Dave Soutar Has Early Lead In Bowl Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Lanky Dave Soutar of Detroit, one of the top contenders for the $65,000 sixth annual PBA national championship, took a first round lead at the end of the first six games of qualifying yesterday.

Soutar was leading left-hander Johnny Meyer of Long Island, N.Y., who was lodged in second place with a total of 1394 pins, by just 14 pins. Meyer was averaging barely two pins per game less on scores of 210-245-249-222-252 and 216.

The championship and winner of the $10,000 first prize will be decided Saturday.

Tar Cagers Should Provide A Balanced Scoring Attack

Balanced scoring is going to be a big weapon for College of Marin's basketball team this season, a direct opposite to the Tars of 1964.

Veteran Tar coach Cal Riemcke was impressed with his boys' scoring punch in Marin's scrimmage against airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base last Thursday, pointing out that seven of his cagers hit in the double figures.

Although the two biggest scorers of the 1964-65 Marin team are gone, all that height is back. Guards Jay Johnson and Brad Busch were the main cogs of that scoring attack and the team depended on them for the points. Now that they are gone, it will be a different style of play.

"We won't have that 35-point performance from one player, but they all will score," said Riemcke, whose team finished the season last year with a 21-6 record.

After a month of drills, the Marin squad has been trimmed to 16 players. Returning players for the Tars are Fred Arnold of Novato, 6-7, 209, a center who made second team All-Golden Valley Conference last year; Bill Brody of San Rafael, 6-2, 200, who moves to guard after playing forward last year; Jeff Chapman of San Rafael, 6-2, 160, forward who returns to the varsity after sitting out last season; Lorry Galassi of Fairfax, 5-11, 180, guard and former all-league player at Drake High; Jim Halm of Corte Madera, 6-7, 218, center, aggressive rebounder; Rod Monti of San Rafael, 6-3, 195, forward, a deadly shooter and former star at San Rafael High; Arnold Schuch of Penngrove, a Novato H.S. grad, 6-3, 190, forward; and Larry Wolfe of Corte Madera, 6-3, 190, forward, Marin's best offensive board man.

First year men are Don Dreusike of Novato, 5-10, 165, transfer from Cal Poly who played for Terra Linda; Don Hanson of San Rafael, 6-1, 170, transfer from Idaho University who was all-league at Bellarmine High High School; Rick Henika of San Anselmo, 6-3, 170, promising forward from Drake High; Kraig Kilby, 6-4, 170, high bounding center who played at Terra Linda; Ron LaRuffa of San Rafael, 5-11, 160, a left-handed guard who played for Cupertino High last year; Mike Menne of San Rafael, 6-0, 170, who played on San Rafael's 1964 championship team; Bill Pandiani of San Rafael, 5-6, 150, small but a quick, clever ball handler and shooter, and Ellis Williams of Marin City, a 6-0, 160, former Tam High star who combines good speed and jumping ability.

Riemcke has narrowed his group to top eight players who will be counted upon to carry most of the load this year. In the starting front line will be Halm, Arnold and Monti, backed up by Wolfe and Henika. Starting guards will be Brody and Hanson, with Galassi the third backcourt man.

The Mariners will hold a scrum against City College of San Francisco Friday in the College of Marin gym. Conference rules prohibit Marin from playing any games until Dec. 1, so Riemcke, wanting an early start to get his boys ready, decided on the scrimmages.

Marin's first regular season game will be Dec. 1 against San Mateo, at Kentfield.

Undefeated J.C. Teams To Clash

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Undefeated junior college football teams from California and Texas will clash Dec. 11 in the 20th annual Junior Rose Bowl.

They're Fullerton Junior College, with 17 wins in a row to their credit, and Henderson County Junior College, an Athens, Tex., team undefeated in their 10 bases this season. Fullerton's winning streak stretches back into last season.

Selection of the teams was announced here Sunday by the 11-member Junior Rose Bowl Board of Management.

Clear Passage Wins Feature

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Neil S. McCarthy's Clear Passage posted a half-length victory over Mr. Conservative in the feature race at Bay Meadows yesterday.

Rullah Verdict finished third in the field of ten 2-year-olds.

Clear Passage ran the six furlongs in 1 minute, 15 seconds over a heavy racing strip and paid $7.40, $6 and $3.40. Mr. Conservative returned $10.80 and $6.60, and Rullah Verdict $3.40.

49ers Should Get New Script Writer; 4 Rough Games Ahead

RANDOL

Winning in the last nine seconds is cutting it pretty fine, but the San Francisco 49ers pulled one out against the Los Angeles Rams, 30 to 27. Considering the way it was accomplished, I would suggest that the 49er management get a new script writer.

For a full three quarters the 49ers played back to their 1963 standards, and that is going back to the depths. Line charge was non-existent, blocking was nil, and there was no semblance of a sustained effort.

ONLY THE ineptness of Ram substitute quarterback Roman Gabriel kept the 49ers in the stadium. Gabriel came in for the injured Bill Munson with just 33 seconds left in the first half and promptly ran in a score, but that was his last good effort.

During the second half, Gabriel completed only 7 passes out of 24 attempts and most of the misses were his own fault. The big Ram passer had all day to throw and his receivers were wide open. He just couldn't hit 'em for missing.

THERE MAY be some consolation for the 49ers in that they came back fighting in the waning moments of the game, scoring twice on passes to tie the contest and then setting up Tommy Davis' winning field goal with time running out.

This was the first time this year that the 49ers have managed the big effort in the second half. Usually they go out in front during the first half and then roll over and play dead the rest of the way.

I DOUBT THAT the 49ers could have pulled this one out against any other Western Division club. It's always nice to beat anything out of Los Angeles, but we have to remember that these Rams have only won one game this year.

With just four games left, the 49ers can't afford any more letdowns. Next week Minnesota, and then the Detroit Lions, Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers to finish out the season. That is a tough row to hoe.

AS FOR THE conference race, everything is just about cut and dried with the Baltimore Colts in line to meet the Cleveland Browns if there are no earth - shaking developments. The big contest will be the selection of contestants for the runner-up game.

Of more interest locally will be the 49er selections in the upcoming draft. You can bet that selection emphasis will be on some behemoths for the offensive and defensive lines. The 49ers are pretty well set in other positions when the men play up to their capabilities.

Clay Whips Patterson; May Fight Terrell Next

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, having made good on his boast to skin "The Rabbit" — Floyd Patterson — said today he would be willing to take on Ernie Terrell within three months "if he's the best man and the public wants it."

"Whoever is the best man — that's for me," shouted the triumphant Clay, or Muhammad Ali, following his one-sided, one-knockdown, technical knockout over the game, back-injured Patterson in 2:18 of the 12th round at Convention Center last night.

Referee Harry Krause stopped the slaughter with the 30-year-old, former two-time champion still on his feet although his face was battered and swollen and his legs seemed ready to go under him at any second. But he had been down only from a knockdown in the sixth round.

"I wanted to stop it a round earlier — it was hurting me to watch," said the referee, who called in Dr. Donald Romeo after the 11th round. "I said to Floyd 'between you and me, and man to man, would you like to continue?' He said he wanted to continue."

Patterson, in obvious pain despite having been given two spinal injections after the fight, said he developed muscle spasms in his back in the third round. He apologized to the American public for not having put up a better fight against the all-conquering Clay.

"I am very sorry about what happened tonight," he said. "I had hoped to give Americans a better fight. Unfortunately I was not able to do so.

"I am not going to use my back as an excuse," he said. "Then, with a wry grin, he added: "I am not going to use my beard and moustache."

That was a reference to his flight from Chicago, wearing a fake beard and moustache, the night he was knocked out in the first round of his first fight with Sonny Liston in 1962.

He had only praise for the victor.

"Mr. Clay can become a great fighter," he said. "He needs more experience. I don't think be benefitted much from tonight except perhaps in confidence.

"I think Ernie Terrell will give him a better fight. He has a great jab and could give Clay a lot of trouble."

"Everyone says Terrell is the best," said Clay, "If he's the best, then I want him."

If he fights Terrell — and Madison Square Garden's Harry Markson said he'd like to put it on in New York — it would help clear up the heavyweight muddle although the 23-year-old Louisville Lip generally is regarded as the king of them all.

Clay and Patterson both posted $50,000 bond agreements that the winner would defend the title against the 6-foot-6 Chicagoan within six months. The World Boxing Association stripped Clay of title recognition for signing a forbidden return bout with Liston.

Terrell then gained WBA recognition as champion when he outpointed Eddie Machen at Chicago in an elimination bout. Patterson refused to fight him. Floyd preferred to meet Clay first.

Although Patterson said he was not quitting yet, this may have been his swan song. He is the only fighter ever to win the heavyweight crown twice. He has fought 12 title fights, winning eight by knockouts and losing four the same way, and has grossed more than $7.5 millions.

Clay, taller, faster and stronger, handed Patterson a fearful beating and a boxing lesson. Apparently he held to one of his pre-fight statements that he planned to punish "The Rabbit."

The 23-year-old, 6-foot-3 speedster, did nothing but dance and taunt Floyd in the first round. But from the second round on it was pop, pop, pop, with stinging left jabs right smack on target, followed by sharp left-right combinations to the head. He rarely went to the body.

Clay denied that he had carried Patterson. He showed his bare fists. The knuckles on both hands were swollen.

"I didn't carry him," declared Clay. "He took my best punches. He didn't fall. He was determined. He's a good fighter. You gotta give him credit.

Rudy Clay, the champ's brother, had staged a spectator spectacle during the bout. He stood up and shouted to his brother:

Cassius Toyed With Patterson And Gave Him Awful Whupping

Even in living black and white on the giant Richmond Auditorium closed-circuit TV screen you could tell, as early as the second round, that this was a classic game of Cat and Mouse. Cat-ssius Clay or Muhammad Ali Cat against Mousey Patterson.

I kept score on this heavyweight championship of the world and gave Patterson the first round because he got off his stool. I gave old Personal Pronoun every other round and I awarded Eddie Fisher the Stars Spangled Banner over Robert "I Forget the Words" Goulet.

THIS WAS the greatest mismatch since I said "I do." Actually, Patterson won the first round on the strength of a couple of long lefts that hit Clay on the mouth. That's not difficult to do, because Clay earned about $750,000 for this fight and he is the only man I know who can put that kind of money where his mouth is. In one dollar bills.

FROM THE second round on Clay was in complete command. I got the impression he was pulling his punches and could have sent Floyd nighty-night at any time. But as Mighty Mouth said afterwards, "I predicted I'd give him a good whupping and that's just what I did." He played with him, folks, and gave Floyd an awful whupping.

I think a lot of people paid a lot of good money to see Cassius Clay "carry" Floyd Patterson for 11 rounds, 2 minutes and 18 seconds. I wouldn't have been surprised to hear him say, "He ain't heavy Father, he's my brudder."

IN THE sixth round Floyd Patterson was either knocked down or did the greatest genuflect you've ever seen. He went to one knee as if in worship to the great religion of Muhammad Ali.

Actually, Patterson was on the deck twice. I think it was the second round when he tripped and went to the canvas for a no-count. I scored it as a Floydian slip.

ALONG ABOUT the seventh round, they started helping Floyd back into his corner. In the eighth round it was a matter of time. It's a cinch Clay wasn't the chiropractors give you—the kind that make you say ugh, arrgh, ay-e-e-e. In the ninth round Floyd looked like he had a few too many. Clay could have blown him down, and it's lucky they had the Las Vegas Convention Center doors closed, because a draft would have scored an eight count.

AFTER THE 10th round if someone handed Floyd a paper doll he would have cut it out. After the 11th round it was a metter of time. It's a cinch Clay wasn't going to really uncork a knockout punch; he was having too much fun. It took the merciful act of the referee to put the mouse out of his misery.

The Mouth again prevailed and I'm sorry to say we're stuck with him. Clay is a classic fighter with the speed of a middleweight, hands of a magician and feet of an Astaire.

I FELT very sorry for Floyd Patterson and hoped that they would stop his punishment long before the 12th round. But in the post-fight interview he said something that changed my mind. "This is no excuse," he said, "but I've had trouble with my back . . ."

Oh, my aching back.

The crowd at Richmond Auditorium hooted and howled at that.

FLOYD PATTERSON conned his fans into thinking he could whip the greatest heavyweight in the world with a bad back.

In a nutshell, last night was a case of Cassius Clay carrying a crippled has-been for 11 rounds, 2 minutes, 18 seconds.

I felt cheated. And I got in for nothing. How about you, Bunkie?

Weird Title Fights Among The Heavies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A series of strange fights that started when Floyd Patterson gained the heavyweight championship eight years ago continued last night when Patterson apparently was stripped of his power by an eight-year-old back injury.

Muhammad Ali, who won the title when he was named Cassius Clay, successfully defended his crown in Las Vegas by gaining a 12th round technical knockout over a game but powerless Patterson, who said after the fight he has had trouble with his back since 1957.

Patterson's back joins some extremely good anatomical company — the Toonder and Lightnin' right hand of Ingemar Johansson, the moustache and beard attached to Patterson's face, the baleful eyes and injured shoulder of Sonny Liston and the mouth of Clay.

It all began in 1956 when Rocky Marciano retired undefeated and Patterson knocked out Archie Moore in five rounds for the vacant title.

In his first defense in 1957, Patterson knocked out Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in 10 rounds, then began a series of fights with opponents who, in general, were not considered among the leader contenders.

Patterson was criticized for making his next defense in 1959 against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, but the prohibitive underdog with the Toonder and Lightnin' right hand knocked the champion out in three rounds.

Patterson was the underdog in the return bout a year later, but it was Johansson who went down for the count in five rounds as Patterson became the first man in boxing history to regain the heavyweight championship.

Patterson again knocked out the Swede in a 1961 rubber match before Patterson took on another disputed contender in Tom McNeeley, who was given little chance and didn't have much before being knocked out in four rounds.

In 1962, Liston, the Bear, entered the picture and is supposed to have stared Patterson into submission.

In their first fight, Patterson was knocked out in the first round, then donned a moustache, beard and dark glasses and skipped town quietly in his disguise.

Liston made a virtual carbon copy of the first fight when he again kayoed Patterson in the first round of their return bout a year later.

The year 1964 brought Clay on the scene and found Liston sitting on his stool at the end of the sixth round, unable to continue because of an injured shoulder.

The return bout earlier this year was the now-famous One-Minute Fight when Clay knocked out Liston in Lewston, Maine.

UCLA Fans Whoop It Up In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jubiliation runs through rainy Westwood today: UCLA is Rose Bowl bound.

Eight Pacific Athletic Conference members met yesterday in San Francisco and voted the Bruins to represent the West Coast against Michigan State in the Jan. 1 classic.

In Los Angeles, at Wilshire and Westwood Boulevards, the celebration was already in full swing.

An estimated 5,000 students assembled to honor the conference champions at a campus rally. Tommy Prothro—who last year coached Oregon State to the bowl and then resigned to direct the Bruins—told the indoor rally:

"The whole season has been a great one. These are good football players. They are great —with poise and character."

Some 3,000 of his listeners then donned raincoats and umbrellas to walk, chanting, a mile to the busy intersection.

Traffic was stalled for 10 minutes while cheerleaders tolled the traditional victory bell.

The season's major victory came Saturday from the rival University of Southern California Trojans as quarterback Gary Beban sparked the Bruins to a 20-16 come-from-behind victory.

The upset gave the Bruins the conference title and cinched their bowl berth.

"I'm still not too sure what happened against USC," Prothro told yesterday's Southern California Football Writers luncheon.

He had high praise for sophomore Beban and his fourth-quarter touchdown scoring passes of 34 and 52 yards that won the game.

Turning to the Bowl and undefeated Michigan State, Prothro asked writers to withhold judgment.

"I don't write off our chances at all," he said. UCLA is the underdog in the post-season contest. It met the Spartans in

Giles Rules Out Expansion In '66

NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Giles, president of the National League, virtually has ruled out any further expansion plans until at least the 1967 major league baseball season.

Testifying yesterday in the anti-trust suit brought to keep the Milwaukee Braves from moving to Atlanta for the 1966 season, Giles said it would be impossible for the league to place another team in Milwaukee immediately.

"It would be most impractical and impossible to grant a franchise forthwith," said Giles. "You can't think in terms of expansion without at least two teams."

Willard Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin, then noted that Giles had said earlier that both Milwaukee and Dallas-Fort Worth were seeking franchises.

"It's pretty late to draw up a feasible schedule," Giles said. "It can't be changed without damage to other clubs who have sold tickets. I also don't know enough about Dallas-Fort Worth, and their letter indicates they wouldn't have enough seating for 1966.

"The big objection to expansion is player supply. We saw the impact it had on the talent supply. The talent supply is shrinking because there are

Guy Hot, Warriors Tip Hawks

NEW YORK (AP) — Guy Rodgers' new found scoring excellence presents a problem for the New York Knicks who meet his San Francisco Warriors tonight in a National Basketball Association game.

Rodgers, a 30-year-old guard in his eighth season, scored 39 points yesterday as the Warriors beat the injury-plagued St. Louis Hawks, 112-108.

He pumped in a career high of 47 points Friday in Los Angeles.

The Warriors moved to a 57-49 halftime lead over St. Louis, sparked by a 16-point output by Rodgers.

The Hawks closed the margin to 82-78 with 90 seconds left in the third quarter. Rodgers hit a quick jump shot with 20 seconds left for an 86-80 Warrior lead going into the final period.

The Hawks played without captain Len Wilkens, who suffered an injured arm Saturday against Detroit. Cliff Hagan, who scored 13 in the first half, was sidelined in the last with a strained back.

Leading the Hawks were Richie Guerin, player-coach, and Zeimo Beaty with 29 each.

Seven Tars Get All-GVC Grid Honors

Seven members of the College of Marin football team have been selected for All Golden Valley Conference recognition for the 1965 season. Three Tars were chosen for the first team, and four received honorable mention from the selection committee.

The three first-team selections were defensive stars for Marin: tackle Pete Dornbach, end Bob Edelstein, and safety Dave Cericola. Also honored were linebacker Norm Kreuter and three offensive players: quarterback Mike Kemp, end Bill Hall, and guard Frank Onorato.

All seven played their high school football in Marin County; Kemp, Edelstein, Onorato and Cericola played at Drake; Dornbach and Kreuter played together at Tamalpais; and Hall played for Terra Linda.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Strawberry Shopping Center Now Boasts Total Of 54 Shops, Stores

Something like 54 stores and shops are now open in Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center. This total should go up to 60 or more by the first of the month. Many of the newcomers were working diligently over last weekend to get their stocks ready and be in business by Thanksgiving or shortly afterward.

NEW CUSTOM DESIGN and women's apparel shop that was scheduled to open today is Contessa - located around the corner from the center's own business office.

This is an enterprise of Contessa Angela Desideri, who has spent most of her life designing clothes. Now a resident of Tiburon, she is the daughter of Conte Alfred Desideri and the Contessa Doria of the Tullio family of Rome where she first started making clothes in the doll dress stage.

She first got into professional work as a young woman teaching orphan girls to become seamstresses, so they could earn their own living. This led to designing and thence to America where she has had establishments in New York, San Francisco, Reno and at Tahoe.

Everything in the shop is designed by Contessa Angela and then made in Europe. No two dresses are alike, regardless of price. She also handles some men's accessories - notably custom made silk shirts.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

ANOTHER PLACE - Mack's Rare Coin Shop was thought at this writing to be about ready for an opening. Owner Orvid A. McHorse, who will traffic in all types of valuable coins, was hoping also to make it this week. This one is near Patton's.

OPENING at the Village next Monday is Capricorn Books, located between the Hearth Shop and Robert Banks, Ltd.

The store is a venture of James J. Nordhoff of Mill Valley and has 800 feet of floor space, enough for quite a stock of books. For the past 10 years, Nordhoff has been an advertising writer and account executive in Detroit, Cleveland and San Francisco. He has lived in Marin about two years.

The store will carry a general line of books - about two-thirds "hard cover" and one third "soft cover." No school books - except for recommended college preparatory reading material.

NEW GENERAL MANAGER of the Village is Joel Goldfus from the Peninsula. He was appointed to the job by Palo Alto Town and Country Village, the operators, and will be responsible for general operations as well as supervision of all the center-wide advertising and promotional activity and will be headquartered at the center's offices (618).

ENTRIES ARE COMING IN from the 60 artists registered for Town and Country Village's first annual artists' and craftsmen's show to be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Judging will take place on Friday.

The Sausalito Chamber of Commerce has donated a $25 cash award to go one of the prize winning artists in the competition most representative of the work of the United Nation's Children's Fund, the theme of this year's show.

NOVATO SHOWROOMS OPENED

Empire Plymouth, Inc. opened at Highway 101 and Olive Avenues last week with 1966 Plymouths and Valiants on sale. The new agency with 4,000 square feet of floor space is headed by Dan Pintoresi as president and E. E. Holmes, vice president and general manager. An affiliated organization, Case De Chrysler-Plymouth, is located in Richmond.

MSU Tightens Grip On Top Spot

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State's powerful Spartans tightened their grip on the No. 1 position in The Associated Press poll today and moved closer to the national college football championship.

They were so impressive in beating Notre Dame last Saturday 12-3 in the Game of the Year that they were named top team on 34 of the 43 ballots of a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

It was the most impressive showing of the year.

Undefeated Arkansas got the remaining nine nominations and held second place, with Nebraska, also unbeaten and untied, continuing as the third member of the year's Big Three.

Another poll will be staged after this week's few remaining games and the final balloting, determining the national championship, will be held after the bowl games on New Year's Day.

The decision to delay the final poll until after the New Year was made because of the broad growth of the post-season attractions and the involvement of most of the teams in the Top Ten.

Actually, eight of the Top Ten will be in action after the regular season.

Michigan State, No. 1, plays UCLA, No. 4 in the Rose Bowl. Arkansas, No. 2, opposes Louisiana State, a non-ranker, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Nebraska, No. 3, and Alabama, No. 5, tie up in the Orange Bowl at Miami. The seventh-ranked team, Missouri, is in the Sugar Bowl with Florida. Tennessee, No. 9, plays in the Bluebonnet Bowl and Texas Tech, No. 10, is in the Gator Bowl agains Georgia Tech.

That leaves only Notre Dame, No. 6, and Southern California, No. 8, among the top-ranking teams which will not be seen in post-season play.

While Michigan State was solidifying its No. 1 ranking and Arkansas and Nebraska were hanging in there close, waiting for the Spartans to slip just once, the rest of the standings underwent some juggling.

UCLA leaped from eighth to fourth after upsetting Southern Cal 20-16 for the Rose Bowl spot and the Trojans fell two notches from sixth.

Alabama remained in fifth place, just ahead of Notre Dame, falling from fourth.

Missouri climbed one rung on the strength of its 44-20 victory over Kansas. Tennessee, 19-3 winner over Kentucky, moved back into the select company, taking over the ninth spot vacated when Texas Tech, loser to Arkansas 42-24, fell to 10th.

Florida, upset 16-13 by Miami, was the team which vacated its Big Ten lease.

Of the ranking teams, Alabama, Notre Dame, UCLA and Tennessee have games remaining. Alabama plays Auburn and Notre Dame meets Miami Saturday. Tennessee faces Vanderbilt Saturday and UCLA Dec. 4.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses, season records and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	Michigan State (34)	10-0	420
2.	Arkansas (9)	10-0	391
3.	Nebraska	10-0	338
4.	UCLA	7-1-1	262
5.	Alabama	7-1-1	260
6.	Notre Dame	7-2	202
7.	Missouri	7-2-1	157
8.	Southern California	6-2-1	81
9.	Tennessee	5-1-2	53
10.	Texas Tech	8-2	51

The others receiving votes, in alphabetical order: Dartmouth, Duke, Florida, Georgia Tech, Louisiana State, Ohio State, Princeton, Purdue, Syracuse, Tulsa.

the heavyweight Sugar Ray Robinson."

Both Clays are Black Muslims and Clay has berated Patterson often for his derogatory statements about the sect.

"I thought he had Patterson four or five times but let up on the pressure," said retired heavyweight king Rocky Marciano. He did not elaborate.

The knockdown in the sixth round came after Patterson had absorbed a barrage in a corner. His right glove touched the canvas and he was down momentarily.

As the referee was tolling the mandatory eight-count, he stopped at five and ordered Clay to go to a neutral corner. He waited four more seconds for Clay to get in the corner and resumed counting. This time the count went to nine.

Patterson never landed a jarring blow in the entire fight. He several times attempted his famed leaping left hook that had knocked out Archie Moore and Ingemar Johansson, but mostly it was blocked or was way off target. Many of the swings were feeble.

Referee Harry Krause had Clay ahead 53-46 on the five points must system, and 8-2-1 in rounds. He gave Patterson the first and 11th and called the fifth even. Judge Bill Stremmell had it 54-43 in points and 10-1 in rounds. He gave Patterson the first.

Judge Harold Buck had it 54-45 and 10-1 in rounds, also giving Floyd the first. The AP card had it 54-44 and 10-1 in rounds, awarding Patterson the first — Clay's dancing, prancing, punchless round.

The promoters said the attendance was 8,106, of which 7,402 paid, and the gross receipts $300,011. The bout was radio broadcast and telecast to the theaters and arenas in the United States and Canada. It was also beamed by Early Bird Satellite to theaters in the British Isles.

Clay may have earned $750,000 on his 40 per cent, and Patterson $375,000 on his 20 per cent.

It was the 17th straight heavyweight title fight in 11½ years to end short of the limit and was a lot longer than most everyone believed possible. The betting was even money in this legal gambling center that it wouldn't go more than five.

Clay, a 13-5 favorite at fight time, weighed 210 pounds in boosting his record to 22-0, including 18 knockouts. Patterson, who scaled 196¾, now has a 43-5 record, four of them knockout losses.

fewer minor league teams."

Giles was the second baseball official to give a deposition to attorneys for Milwaukee County and the State of Wisconsin in the antitrust suit against the Braves. Retiring Commissioner Ford Frick testified Nov. 12 and will resume his testimony today.

The county's suit, also being brought against the National League and the other nine teams, charges the move of the Braves to Atlanta violates the antitrust laws. The suit seeks to block the move, scheduled for 1966, unless Milwaukee gets another major league team.

Earlier during Giles' testimony it was revealed that the present owners of the Braves had started negotiations to move the team to Atlanta about seven months after they purchased the club, or in July, 1963.

Steven Keane, special council for Milwaukee County, introduced a letter to Giles's from William Bartholomy, chairman of the Braves' board of directors. The letter, dated Sept. 25, 1964, said in part:

"We always have attempted to keep the commissioner abreast of our plans and, as a matter of fact, we first discussed our interest and preliminary contract with the Atlanta authorities over a year ago. Our interest in this territory has not wavered during the past 14 months..."

Fourteen months from September, 1964, would be July 1963 — the middle of the first season the Braves operated under the Bartholomy group.

Raiders Sign Utah Tackle

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Greg Kent, 250-pound University of Utah tackle, signed yesterto play for the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League next season.

Kent, who completed his last college game Saturday, said:

"I have been impressed with the great progress of the Oakland club and I feel that as a young player I want to go with this organization."

The Detroit Lions of the National Football League also had been bidding for Kent.

East Lansing earlier this season and lost, 13-3.

Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty, feted in a similar luncheon at Chicago's Playboy Club, was all confidence: "Before the season started everyone said we couldn't lose with the personnel we had.

"Well, we didn't.

"As for UCLA, when we played them, we noticed a defensive weakness." He did not say what it was but added: "They've changed a lot since then."

Of the Bruins' one remaining season game with Tennessee Dec. 4, Daugherty warned: "Playing Tennessee in Memphis is like playing Notre Dame in Rome."

Prothro is on record as saying the Tennessee game is unimportant, compared to the Rose Bowl.

The Spartans have met the Bruins twice before in Pasadena, winning both times, 28-20 in 1954 and 17-14 in 1956.

Curt Blefary Named A.L. Top Rookie

MAHWAH, N.J. (AP) — Baltimore's Curt Blefary, the American League's Rookie of the Year, who was cut two years ago by the New York Yankees, credits two ex-Yankees with his success.

Blefary, who edged California Angel pitcher Marcelino Lopez for the rookie honor in voting by a 20-man committee of Baseball Writers of America, credited Oriole Coach Gene Woodling and Manager Hank Bauer for his fine freshman year.

"Gene gave me a lot of help, not only in batting but in attitude, hustle and everything else," sail Blefary, who lives here with his parents. "Hank gave me the opportunuity to play and my teammates helped me correct my mechanical deficiencies and made me feel I belonged."

Blefary walloped 22 home runs, four triples and 23 doubles and drove in 70 runs while batting .260. He polled 12 votes to eight for Lopez, the left-hander who won 14 games and lost 13 for the Angels.

The young outfielder, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., was a football and baseball star in High school at Mahwah and signed with New York for a $27,000 bonus and a college education for which the Yankees are still paying. Blefary has two years to go at Wagner College in Staten Island, N.Y., where he is specializing in education for retarded children.

STEVENS

Let's start today's column by giving an imaginary salute to an angler, who, on Friday, hooked, played, and landed his 54th striped bass. The angler's name is Leonard Tallant; he lives in Sebastopol, he uses sardine fillets for bait and this 54th fish weighed an even 36 pounds. Try to imagine a 36 pound fresh-run striper hooked on light tackle while using no sinker. Some sport, eh?

Landing big bass is no novelty for Tallant, according to Davis Campbell who operates the Golden Hinde Boatel at Inverness.

"Not long ago, Tallant landed a 26 and a 29 pounder."

SORRY TO REPORT that the nice run of silver salmon slacked off and then apparently quit cold. But the stripera — nice fresh run hefty fish — are being taken most every day . . . usually the most action is had toward the end of the day. On Saturday, Davis reported a 2 or 3 fish average per boat. He also told me his "Aide," Bill Carlton found time after his chores were over to go fishing. Bill limited out two nights in succession with bass to about 16 pounds. Bill uses no sinker.

SUETTA LAGRONE, the pint sized boss of Dillon's Point, reported the hard rains muddied the trail from the Stonehouse to the parking area, but walking isn't crowded and it's a short walk to the rocky shore of the Carquinez Strait. "Lots of nice flounders are being caught and some bass—all on bait; no one has done any plug-casting lately."

All stripers taken at Dillon's Point the past week have been taken on either sardines or grass shrimp. Suetta reports that the grass shrimp has appealed to a large number of flounders.

THE PARTY boats out of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor have been generous to their patrons lately. Those aboard the Happy Days No. 3, sure had a field day on Friday and Saturday. On one trip Johnny Sivera netted 10 large bass and 6 sturgeons to 85 pounds. Skipper Arnie unloaded 27 stripers from 14 to 25 pounds; Charlie Schultz reported his own stint — limits three TIMES OUT WITH FISH FROM 18 to 25 POUNDS.

There is great cheer around China Camp these days. Alice Quan reported lots of stripers and oodles of good sized flounders for anyone fishing for them. Bud Fireman, of Fairfax, landed a limit to 18 pounds, using bullheads for bait.

Runners Repeat Their Cross Country Title

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — John Lawson of Kansas, strong all the way despite a wicked pace, was a convincing winner and Western Michigan repeated as team champion in the 27th NCAA Cross Country Championships yesterday.

Lawson, the Big Eight champion and unbeaten this season, finished 100 yards ahead of Georgetown's Eamon O'Reilley after favored Doug Brown of Montana collapsed early in the last mile and failed to finish.

Lawson's time was an excellent 29:24. The meet was run at six miles for the first time and at Kansas for the first time. All past meets were run on the four-mile Michigan State course.

"My strategy was just to go with Brown," Lawson said. "I finally got him at about 4½ miles. Then he started faltering."

Brown the NCAA six-mile and two-mile outdoor champion, led at each of the first four miles, with Lawson right off his shoulder.

The pace was so gruelling that Brown's four-mile time of 19:25 was faster than the winning time for the same distance in the NCAA meet at Michigan State last year, with snow on the ground in 36-degree weather. This time it was sunny and 57 degrees.

Defending champion Elmore Banton of Ohio University was seventh.

"The pace was fast," Lawson said. "At four miles I thought to myself this is the time to go by him, but I just couldn't move any faster. Everything was in my favor today. It's my home course and I had the home crowd backing me."

The slim 135-pound senior had to cut the interview short.

"I've got to run to class," he said. And he did.

O'Reilley, the IC4A champ, was 18 seconds behind Lawson but 16 seconds ahead of third-place Christian Westman of Washington State.

Western Michigan's five best runners compiled 81 points. Low score wins. Northwestern's Big Ten champs were second with 116. Tennessee had 139, Georgetown 143, Oklahoma State 191, Kansas 211, Kansas State 231, Oregon 236 and Notre Dame 237.

Robert Redington of Tennessee was fourth and Raymond McCubbins of Oklahoma State fifth.

The Coaches' Association voted unanimously to recommend the meet be returned to Kansas in 1966. Committee approval is a formality. St. John's of New York and Wyoming both bid for the 1967 meet.

HORATIO ON THE BOW—With one eye closed and a look of superiority on his wooden face, one of Sausalito sculptor palm and bamboo studio, waiting to sail on a ship like the Horatio, built in 1807, which carried the original. More likely, the new model will wind up on a bar or restaurant.

FOLK ART REVIVED — Sausalito sculptor Barney West and a three-man crew have taken time from producing redwood tikis to create life-size replicas of figureheads which sailed the bonny brine on the bowsprits of ships. The figureheads are accurate copies of the originals, but West sells them mostly to bars. This is is a copy of that on a ship called the Ajax, launched in 1807.

MAKING ANTIQUES—As Barney West (with dark sweater) and Jerry Brown look on, John Nordstrand chisels away at a what will eventually be a replica of the figurehead from a German ship, the Freiherr Von Stein, built in 1862. Workers start with chain saws, but later switch to chisels as they seek to make the wood appear old. Instead of the pine used by early Eastern carvers, however, West prefers heart redwood, which he gets from "old discarded foot bridges at Muir Woods."

GULL FOR THE GULL—Naturally, when he started carving figureheads, sculptor Barney West had to make one for his own vessel, the Black Gull. There was little choice as to what it be, either. Here, West puts finishing touches of paint on the two-foot figure of (naturally) a black gull. Another, aboard the Sea Wolf at Waldo Point, is a combination of a wolf, a goat and a fish. West and his carvers also plan to make hailing boards — sometimes called transits—such as those used as name plates on the sterns of old sailing ships.

Sausalito Schools Committee Named

Five committees were appointed last night for Sausalito School District's building study.

Committee heads, two board members, the district superintendent and five members-at-large will next meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the district office to begin studies of building facilities needed in the district.

Trustees named Robert Hayes as head of the school site committee; Mrs. Constance Starbird, educational objectives committee; Donald O. Stutsman, financial committee; Robert Politzer, facilities committee, and K. A. Elkington, projected enrollment committee.

Fifty-four persons signed up to work on any of the five committees and another 30 indicated willingness to participate with the general group, said Supt. Charles Lavaroni.

The board directed Lavaroni to advise the Marin County Human Rights Commission that, whereas it could not financially support the human rights symposium to be held Dec. 11 in Marin City, it will act as a supporting body.

Lavaroni told trustees a check is being made to be sure that enrollment in the pre-school program at Manzanita School follows the 70-30 ratio required: 70 per cent of the pro-school pupils from families with total income is below $7,000 and the remainder in a higher income bracket.

Dr. Ira H. Degenhardt, president of the Marin Medical Society, questioned in the society's November bulletin whether the pre-kindergarten training, paid largely by the federal government, was going to children who needed it.

Trustees heard a report on the district's Spanish program by Armando Flores, teacher, and a report from Mrs. Meredith Ball, district nurse.

Mrs. Ball said she plans to set up a program of narcotics education for seventh and eighth grade pupils next spring.

The board agreed not to meet Dec. 27 because of Christmas holidays. The next meeting will be Dec. 13.

Novato Planners Delay Vote On Gasoline Crossroads

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended rezoning from single to multiple family of a lot at 1128 Third Street, asked by Claude and Dorothy Johnston.

The commission put off until its Dec. 13 meeting consideration of four requests by Harker Development Corp. for a "gasoline crossroads" of three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin and San Andreas Drives in San Marin, and a neighborhood market south of one of the service stations.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Approved a lot split on Olive Avenue 350 feet west of the Olive School for Edward Jurkowski.

2. Approved Marin Oaks Development Co.'s grading plans for Marin Oaks Unit 1 of 34 acres at the end of Montura Way between Ignacio Boulevard and Eagle Drive.

3. Sent back to the city council without change, the council's recommendation for rezoning from single family to commercial for John Nova and Alfred Bellucci of land east of Highway 101 and north of Novato Creek. A question on the access has been settled, according to Warren Baker, assistant planner.

4. Continued until Dec. 13 consideration of plans for Baimar Corp.'s Crossroads Manor on 25 acres of the Scottsdale development west of Highway 101 and south of Novato Creek.

FOREIGN SERVICE JOB—Charles E. Emmons, son of Lawrence Emmons of Petaluma and Mrs. Hester Sonne of 34 Bret Avenue, San Rafael, has been sworn in as a U.S. Foreign Service officer and will be assigned to a position in Washington, D.C., or one of the 113 countries with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations.

Contract Wages Hikes Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said today some 2.2 million workers under major collective bargaining agreements won wage increases averaging 4.2 per cent the first nine months of this year.

The average pay boost, amounting to 11 cents per hour, was higher than the comparable periods of 1963 and 1964, when wage gains were 3.1 per cent and 3.2 per cent respectively.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the 4.2 per cent increase cannot be directly compared with White House guidelines suggesting noninflationary wage increases of 3.2 per cent a year.

Driver Fined

Dorothy Ann Marquardt, 35, of 1140 Elm Drive, Novato, was fined $220 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. She was arrested on First Street by Novato police Oct. 11.

Wrong School District Revealed To Trustees

It may not be ethical for an apartment manager to tell tenants to register in one school district when they really live in another—but is it illegal?

The Mill Valley School District Board decided last night to put that up to the county counsel.

Mrs. Beverly R. Ludwig, who lives at the Villa Garden Apartments—just across the border in Sausalito School District — said in a letter that the apartment manager told her to use the address of the Marin Home Investment Co., 200 Shoreline Highway, when registering her two children for school. The children were registered to attend Tamalpais Valley School.

Trustees approved an interdistrict attendance agreement to allow David Robert and Anne Marie Ludwig to continue at Tamalpais Valley School, which they have been attending since the school year started — then they directed a query to the county counsel.

Trustees agreed to co-sponsor a syposium on human rights and human values Dec. 11 in the Marin City gymnasium, but said the district would not contribute funds.

The board granted a maternity leave for the remainder of the school year to Mrs. Robert Shrader, sixth grade teacher at Strawberry Point School, and hired Mrs. Geraldine O'Neil as a part-time clerk at Richardson Bay School. Trustees also toured the instructional materials center at Park School.

Johnson, Wilson To Confer On Wide Area Of Problems

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) --President Johnson will confer with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson on Dec. 17 on a wide range of world problems, the White House announced today.

No meeting place was named for their first face-to-face talks since last December but a spokesman said they would be held either in Washington or at Johnson's Texas ranch.

The war in Viet Nam, North Atlantic Treaty Oorganization policy, British-American-Soviet relations and the Rhodesian breakaway will be discussed, White House officials said.

Wilson will address the United Nations General Assembly at New York on Dec. 16 and then will see the President. Aides said they also would discuss their continuing interest in a treaty to block the spread of nuclear weapons.

Doctor To Describe Diagnostic Centers

Dr. Richard Koch, director of the Child Development Center at Children's Hospital in Los Angeles, will describe plans for new diagnostic centers to be set up throughout the state at a meeting Friday of the Marin Aid to Retarded Chlidren.

The meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center, will include showing of the film, "Handle with Care."

Vandals Invade Factory Parking

Vandals last night smashed windows of four cars parked at the Fairchild Semiconductor plant at 4300 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, police reported.

A car owned by Harvey J. Robarge, Petaluma, had all windows except the windshield broken. Both left side windows were smashed in the cars of Robert W. Olsen and Horst O. Krueger, both of Petaluma.

Windows of both rear doors of the car of Larry D. Jones, 28 Latham Street, San Rafael, were also smashed.

Police said a small sharp instrument had apparently been used by the vandals. Nothing was reported missing from the cars.

Two Mothers, Children Elude Death In Crash

A 19-year-old Novato mother and two of her children narrowly escaped serious injury when they were flung from a car as it skidded on rain-drenched Highway 101 in Sonoma last night and crashed into an embankment.

The four-month-old baby was pinned between the car's roof and the rear seat but suffered only a bruise.

Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger of 1655 Novato Boulevard was a passenger in a car being driven by Mrs. Jane Sonnenfelt, 19, of Santa Rosa, said the California Highway Patrol.

With Mrs. Terwilliger were her children, Mary Louise, 3, Teresa, 2, and the baby, Kim Rae. Also in the car was Mrs. Sonnenfelt's year-old daughter, Dina Mary.

About a mile north of the Marin-Sonoma County line, the car failed to take the curve, skidded, hit a row of mail and paper boxes, crashed into an embankment, and ended up in a ditch.

Mrs. Terwilliger, her two young children, and Dina Sonnenfelt were thrown out. Mary Louise Terwilliger, hit a barbed wire fence and suffered multiple cuts to the back and arms.

Mrs. Terwilliger hit a barbed wire fence and suffered multiple cuts to the back and arms.

After first-aid treatment at Petaluma General Hospital, Mary Louise and baby Kim Rae were rushed to Marin General Hospital. The 3-year-old girl was admitted to the hospital and was reported in fair condition today. The baby was allowed home after treatment.

The driver, Mrs. Sonnenfelt and her daughter were transferred from Petaluma to Sonoma General Hospital with minor injuries.

Reports For Duty

Seaman Apprentice Robert J. Fodness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Fodness of 234 Bayview, San Rafael, has reported for duty at the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla.

Johnson's Dinner To Be Traditional

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) —President and Mrs. Johnson are planning a traditional Thanksgiving celebration Thursday with turkey and all the trimmings.

The guest list so far is "just family" but with the Johnson's hospitality that is always an open end affair.

The Johnson's daughter Luci, 18, is expected to fly to the LBJ Ranch for the feating. She may bring along her boyfriend, Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., who goes into the service at the end of the week.

Lynda Bird Johnson, 21, will travel 65 miles from Austin where she is a senior at the University of Texas to be with her parents.

How many kinfolks will be on hand is not known. But Mrs. Johnson is a hostess who knows her guest list always expands.

The highlight of the holiday will be in the evening when the family joins millions through the nation in watching an hour long television show with the First Lady as the star.

The color film entitled "A Visit to Washington with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on Behalf of a More Beautiful Capital" will be shown on (ABC-TV) network television Thanksgiving night.

Humane Society Building May Start Early In 1966

Final plans for construction of the new human education center at Ignacio for Marin County Humane Society were discussed yesterday at the 58th annual meeting of the society.

It is expected that work on the first phase, a new $400,000 main center building, will start early next year, Mel Morse, executive director, said today. The society hopes to move in during the summer.

Members also discussed the ultimate disposal of the society's San Rafael animal shelter at 402 Third Street. The society has had premises in San Rafael about 48 years.

Directors re-elected were Jack Craemer of Greenbrae, Mrs. H. E. MeBas of San Anselmo and Richard P. Gatterdam of Ross, who is also treasurer.

Two new directors were elected to fill vacancies: O. L. Greene of Mill Valley and Dr. Russell Klein of Kentfield.

Guilty Verdict On Trade Secret

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that four former employes of Ampex Corp. of Redwood City stole trade secrets from Ampex when they switched jobs to MVR Corp. of Mountain View, to the benefit of MVR.

U.S. District Judge Lloyd H. Burke held yesterday that Ampex trade secrets in connection with manufacture of television tape recorders were taken for the benefit of MVR by Kurt R. Machein, now president of MVR; David C. Thompson, Michael V. Maryatt and Perry A. Bygdnes.

The judge dismissed trade secret charges against three other former Ampex employees— Uva Reese, Hans W. Ehlers and Walter E. Loch.

College Backers Set Campaign For Loans

Directors of the College of Marin Foundation, a fund raising organization, last night scheduled a 90-day campaign, beginning in February, to raise $17,500 for student scholarships and loans at the college.

The directors also voted to expand their board from 15 to 18 members and selected men to fill two of the three new positions. Appointed to the board were Jess J. France of Sleepy Hollow, chairman of the foundation's membership committee, and John D. Carter of Lucas Valley, chairman of its public relations committee.

BOB ALVARADO IS I-J CHAMP GRID PICKER

Bob Alvarado, a newcomer to the I-J panel of "Fearless, Peerless Pikskin Prognosticators," ran off with first place honors his first time out of the gates.

The I-J prep statistician picked the winning team 79 times in 113 tries through the football season for a percentage of .700.

Alvarado finished two games ahead of sports editor Jim Gilmartin and prep writer Maurice Weinger who tied with 77-36 records. Gilmartin and Weinger had tied for the "championship" last grid season.

Staff writer Ralph Chatoian was seven full games off the pace at 72-41, and columnist Ed Randol was on the bottom, despite picking 11 out 12 winners in the final week, with a 65-48 record.

19 Football Teams Still Undefeated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bowl-bound Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska plus Ivy League champion Dartmouth were among 19 college football teams which remained unbeaten, untied after games of Nov. 20.

Dave Soutar Has Early Lead In Bowl Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Lanky Dave Soutar of Detroit, one of the top contenders for the $65,000 sixth annual PBA national championship, took a first round lead at the end of the first six games of qualifying yesterday.

Soutar racked up games of 254-225-214-227-245 and 243 for 1408 pins and an average of 234 plus pins per game for the first six games.

Soutar was leading left-hander Johnny Meyer of Long Island, N.Y., who was lodged in second place with a total of 1394 pins, by just 14 pins. Meyer was averaging barely two pins per game less on scores of 210-245-249-222-252 and 216.

The championship and winner of the $10,000 first prize will be decided Saturday.

Tar Cagers Should Provide A Balanced Scoring Attack

Balanced scoring is going to be a big weapon for College of Marin's basketball team this season, a direct opposite to the Tars of 1964.

Veteran Tar coach Cal Riemcke was impressed with his boys' scoring punch in Marin's scrimmage against airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base last Thursday, pointing out that seven of his cagers hit in the double figures.

Although the two biggest scorers of the 1964-65 Marin team are gone, all that height is back. Guards Jay Johnson and Brad Busch were the main cogs of that scoring attack and the team depended on them for the points. Now that they are gone, it will be a different style of play.

"We won't have that 35-point performance from one player, but they all will score," said Riemcke, whose team finished the season last year with a 21-6 record.

After a month of drills, the Marin squad has been trimmed to 16 players. Returning players for the Tars are Fred Arnold of Novato, 6-7, 209, a center who made second team All-Golden Valley Conference last year; Bill Brody of San Rafael, 6-2, 200, who moves to guard after playing forward last year; Jeff Chapman of San Rafael, 6-2, 160, forward who returns to the varsity after sitting out last season; Lorry Galassi of Fairfax, 5-11, 180, guard and former all-league player at Drake High; Jim Halm of Corte Madera, 6-7, 218, center, aggressive rebounder; Rod Monti of San Rafael, 6-3, 195, forward, a deadly shooter and former star at San Rafael High; Arnold Schuch of Penngrove, a Novato H.S. grad, 6-3, 190, forward; and Larry Wolfe of Corte Madera, 6-3, 190, forward, Marin's best offensive board man.

First year men are Don Dreusike of Novato, 5-10, 165, transfer from Cal Poly who played for Terra Linda; Don Hanson of San Rafael, 6-1, 170, transfer from Idaho University who was all-league at Bellarmine High High School; Rick Henika of San Anselmo, 6-3, 170, promising forward from Drake High; Kraig Kilby, 6-4, 170, high bounding center who played at Terra Linda; Ron LaRuffa of San Rafael, 5-11, 160, a left-handed guard who played for Cupertino High last year; Mike Menne of San Rafael, 6-0, 170, who played on San Rafael's 1964 championship team; Bill Pandiani of San Rafael, 5-6, 150, small but a quick, clever ball handler and shooter, and Ellis Williams of Marin City, a 6-0, 160, former Tam High star who combines good speed and jumping ability.

Riemcke has narrowed his group to top eight players who will be counted upon to carry most of the load this year. In the starting front line will be Halm, Arnold and Monti, backed up by Wolfe and Henika. Starting guards will be Brody and Hanson, with Galassi the third backcourt man.

The Mariners will hold a scrum against City College of San Francisco Friday in the College of Marin gym. Conference rules prohibit Marin from playing any games until Dec. 1, so Riemcke, wanting an early start to get his boys ready, decided on the scrimmages.

Marin's first regular season game will be Dec. 1 against San Mateo, at Kentfield.

Undefeated J.C. Teams To Clash

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Undefeated junior college football teams from California and Texas will clash Dec. 11 in the 20th annual Junior Rose Bowl.

They're Fullerton Junior College, with 17 wins in a row to their credit, and Henderson County Junior College, an Athens, Tex., team undefeated in their 10 bases this season. Fullerton's winning streak stretches back into last season.

Selection of the teams was announced here Sunday by the 11-member Junior Rose Bowl Board of Management.

Clear Passage Wins Feature

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Neil S. McCarthy's Clear Passage posted a half-length victory over Mr. Conservative in the feature race at Bay Meadows yesterday.

Rullah Verdict finished third in the field of ten 2-year-olds.

Clear Passage ran the six furlongs in 1 minute, 15 seconds over a heavy racing strip and paid $7.40, $6 and $3.40. Mr. Conservative returned $10.80 and $6.60, and Rullah Verdict $3.40.

49ers Should Get New Script Writer; 4 Rough Games Ahead

RANDOL

Winning in the last nine seconds is cutting it pretty fine, but the San Francisco 49ers pulled one out against the Los Angeles Rams, 30 to 27. Considering the way it was accomplished, I would suggest that the 49er management get a new script writer.

For a full three quarters the 49ers played back to their 1963 standards, and that is going back to the depths. Line charge was non-existent, blocking was nil, and there was no semblance of a sustained effort.

ONLY THE ineptness of Ram substitute quarterback Roman Gabriel kept the 49ers in the stadium. Gabriel came in for the injured Bill Munson with just 33 seconds left in the first half and promptly ran in a score, but that was his last good effort.

During the second half, Gabriel completed only 7 passes out of 24 attempts and most of the misses were his own fault. The big Ram passer had all day to throw and his receivers were wide open. He just couldn't hit 'em for missing.

THERE MAY be some consolation for the 49ers in that they came back fighting in the waning moments of the game, scoring twice on passes to tie the contest and then setting up Tommy Davis' winning field goal with time running out.

This was the first time this year that the 49ers have managed the big effort in the second half. Usually they go out in front during the first half and then roll over and play dead the rest of the way.

I DOUBT THAT the 49ers could have pulled this one out against any other Western Division club. It's always nice to beat anything out of Los Angeles, but we have to remember that these Rams have only won one game this year.

With just four games left, the 49ers can't afford any more letdowns. Next week Minnesota, and then the Detroit Lions, Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers to finish out the season. That is a tough row to hoe.

AS FOR THE conference race, everything is just about cut and dried with the Baltimore Colts in line to meet the Cleveland Browns if there are no earth - shaking developments. The big contest will be the selection of contestants for the runner-up game.

Of more interest locally will be the 49er selections in the upcoming draft. You can bet that selection emphasis will be on some behemoths for the offensive and defensive lines. The 49ers are pretty well set in other positions when the men play up to their capabilities.

Strawberry Shopping Center Now Boasts Total Of 54 Shops, Stores

Something like 54 stores and shops are now open in Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center. This total should go up to 60 or more by the first of the month. Many of the newcomers were working diligently over last weekend to get their stocks ready and be in business by Thanksgiving or shortly afterward.

NEW CUSTOM DESIGN and women's apparel shop that was scheduled to open today is Contessa - located around the corner from the center's own business office.

This is an enterprise of Contessa Angela Desideri, who has spent most of her life designing clothes. Now a resident of Tiburon, she is the daughter of Conte Alfred Desideri and the Contessa Doria of the Tullio family of Rome where she first started making clothes in the doll dress stage.

She first got into professional work as a young woman teaching orphan girls to become seamstresses, so they could earn their own living. This led to designing and thence to America where she has had establishments in New York, San Francisco, Reno and at Tahoe.

Everything in the shop is designed by Contessa Angela and then made in Europe. No two dresses are alike, regardless of price. She also handles some men's accessories - notably custom made silk shirts.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

ANOTHER PLACE - Mack's Rare Coin Shop was thought at this writing to be about ready for an opening. Owner Orvid A. McHorse, who will traffic in all types of valuable coins, was hoping also to make it this week. This one is near Patton's.

OPENING at the Village next Monday is Capricorn Books, located between the Hearth Shop and Robert Banks, Ltd.

The store is a venture of James J. Nordhoff of Mill Valley and has 800 feet of floor space, enough for quite a stock of books. For the past 10 years, Nordhoff has been an advertising writer and account executive in Detroit, Cleveland and San Francisco. He has lived in Marin about two years.

The store will carry a general line of books - about two-thirds "hard cover" and one third "soft cover." No school books - except for recommended college preparatory reading material.

NEW GENERAL MANAGER of the Village is Joel Goldfus from the Peninsula. He was appointed to the job by Palo Alto Town and Country Village, the operators, and will be responsible for general operations as well as supervision of all the center-wide advertising and promotional activity and will be headquartered at the center's offices (618).

ENTRIES ARE COMING IN from the 60 artists registered for Town and Country Village's first annual artists' and craftsmen's show to be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Judging will take place on Friday.

The Sausalito Chamber of Commerce has donated a $25 cash award to go one of the prize winning artists in the competition most representative of the work of the United Nation's Children's Fund, the theme of this year's show.

NOVATO SHOWROOMS OPENED

Empire Plymouth, Inc. opened at Highway 101 and Olive Avenues last week with 1966 Plymouths and Valiants on sale. The new agency with 4,000 square feet of floor space is headed by Dan Pintoresi as president and E. E. Holmes, vice president and general manager. An affiliated organization, Case De Chrysler-Plymouth, is located in Richmond.
